

Prepositions and preposition phrases

GEOFFREY K. PULLUM
RODNEY HUDDLESTON

- 1 The category of prepositions 598
- 2 Distinctive properties of prepositions in English 603
 - 2.1 Overview 603
 - 2.2 Prepositions vs adjectives 606
 - 2.3 Prepositions vs verbs 610
 - 2.4 Prepositions vs adverbs 612
- 3 Idiomatic and fossilised expressions headed by a preposition 617
 - 3.1 Expressions of the type for the sake of X, at odds with X 618
 - 3.2 Other types of expression: on the grounds that . . . ; up against in brief 623
- 4 The position of a complement relative to the head preposition 626
 - 4.1 Preposition stranding: What was she referring to? 626
 - 4.2 Prepositions following their complement in PP structure 631
 - 4.3 PPs of the form spoonful by spoonful 632
 - 4.4 Preposing in PP structure 633
- 5 The structure and functions of PPs 635
 - 5.1 Complementation 635
 - 5.2 Modification 643
 - 5.3 Functions of PPs 646
- 6 Grammaticised prepositions 647
 - 6.1 Meanings of prototypical prepositions 647
 - 6.2 Syntactic uses of grammaticised prepositions 653