NEW AND NOTEWORTHY

FROM UC PRESS

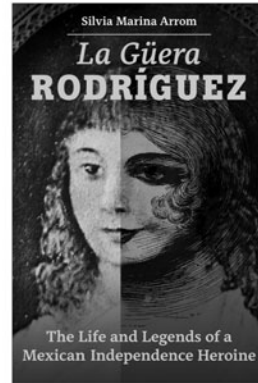

"This handbook walks the reader through the entire process of establishing a freelance editing business."

—Scott Norton, author of Developmental Editing: A Handbook for Freelancers, Authors, and Publishers

"This rich and lively memoir, written by an Ottoman captive who enters into Viennese society, will change your view of where Muslims belong in European history."

—Molly Greene, Princeton University

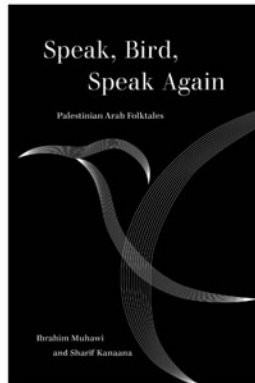

"A well-paced, well-written story of one of Mexico's most interesting and controversial women."

—Margaret Chowning, University of California, Berkeley

"Impressive. Charts a rigorous, thrilling line through the work of one of the most significant artists of our time."

—Thelma Golden, Director and Chief Curator, The Studio Museum in Harlem

An essential text in Palestinian culture and a must for those who want to deepen their understanding of an enduring people.

"Extensively researched, Miller vividly captures the world from which The Lodger, the foundational Hitchcockian film, emerged."

—Sidney Gottlieb, editor of Hitchcock on Hitchcock

NEW from W. W. Norton & Company

The Norton Introduction to Literature

Shorter Fourteenth Edition

Helps all students become close readers and confident writers. The Fourteenth Edition is the most inclusive ever, with more contemporary and timely works to engage today's students. With new media-rich pedagogical tools, this book is the best choice for helping all students understand, analyze, and write about literature.

Available in print and as an annotatable ebook.

The Norton Anthology of American Literature

Full and Shorter Tenth Edition

Features exceptional editorial apparatus, a generous and diverse slate of texts, and innovative resources to help instructors meet today's teaching challenges. New selections include Civil War songs, The Turn of the Screw, The Great Gatsby, poems by Claudia Rankine, and stories by Octavia Butler and N. K. Jemisin.

Available in print and as an annotatable ebook.

InQuizitive, Norton's auto-graded and easy-to-use learning tool, is available for The Norton Introduction to Literature and The Norton Anthology of American Literature. With scaffolded activities that go beyond typical reading comprehension quizzes, InQuizitive motivates students to dig into the reading with greater focus and confidence.

Iberian and Latin American Studies

From the
GWASG PRIFYSGOL CYMRU
UNIVERSITY OF WALES PRESS

The Iberian and Latin American Studies series provides a contextual and disciplinary approach to the study of the Hispanic and Lusophone worlds across a broad range of cultural production including literature, film, music, dance and sport, in Spanish, Portuguese, Basque, Catalan, Galician and indigenous languages of Latin America. The series also aims to cover history and politics as well as cultural studies by examining the shifting terrains of gender, sexual, racial and postcolonial identities in those same regions.

For nearly seventy years, the Modern Language Association has helped student writers choose trustworthy sources and use them to support their own ideas. Now, the authority on writing and research presents the clearest approach to MLA style yet with the ninth edition of the MLA Handbook.

An all-inclusive resource for writing, research, documentation, and formatting, the ninth edition works as both a textbook and a reference guide. Focusing on source evaluation, it features a wealth of visual examples and updated advice on punctuation and grammar, on using notes in MLA style, on annotated bibliographies, and on paper formatting.

Numerous websites, apps, reference works, and cheat sheets claim to help students learn MLA style and become better writers, but there’s only one truly authoritative resource. The ninth edition of the MLA Handbook is the most comprehensive guide the MLA has ever produced.

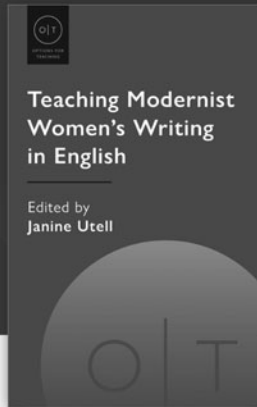

An all-in-one resource that makes MLA style easier to learn and use, the MLA Handbook includes

- expanded, in-depth guidance on creating works-cited-list entries using the MLA template of core elements that explains what each core element is, where to find it in various sources, and how to style it
- a new, easy-to-follow explanation of in-text citations
- a new chapter containing recommendations for using inclusive language
- a new appendix with hundreds of sample works-cited-list entries by publication format, including books, databases, websites, social media, interviews, and more
- updated guidelines on avoiding plagiarism

The screenshot shows a writing interface with a draft on the left, a comment box in the middle, and an interactive e-book on the right. The draft text includes phrases like "educational system nevertheless leaves young people ill-prepared to meet the challenges of the real world." The comment box contains a "Needs Work" comment and an "Additional Comment" with a "Resources" list. The e-book shows a section titled "Making a Thesis Statement Substantive" with a "Writer's Help" sidebar.

The content you trust plus the writing tools you need

Achieve puts student reading, writing, and revision at the core of your course, with interactive close reading modules, reading comprehension quizzes for the selections in the book, videos of professional writers and students discussing literary works, and a dedicated composition space that guides students through draft, review, source check, reflection, and revision.

Close Reading Modules

The screenshot shows a "Close Reading Module" interface. It includes a "1 of 2 Questions" header, an "Assignment Score: 0%" indicator, and a "Check Answer" button. The main content area is titled "READ FOR UNDERSTANDING" and features a poem titled "Mending Wall" by Robert Frost. The poem text is: "Something there is that doesn't love a wall, / That sends the frozen-ground-swell under it, / And spills the upper boulders in the sun, / And makes gaps even two can pass abreast. / The work of hunters is another thing: / I have come after them and made repair / Where they have left not one stone on a stone, / But they would have the rabbit out of hiding, / To please the yelping dogs. The gaps I mean, / No one has seen them made or heard them made, / But at spring mending-time we find them there. / I let my neighbor know beyond the hill; / And on a day we meet to walk the line / And set the wall between us once again. / We keep the wall between us as we go. / To each the boulders that have fallen to each, / And some are loaves and some are nearly balls." To the right of the poem is a writing prompt: "Respond to the poem in your own words. What is your impression of it? What strikes you about it? What's confusing or unclear?" Below the prompt is a text input area with a "+100" score indicator.

Writing in Response

Each of the 23 modules is based on a piece of popular literature—classic as well as contemporary poetry or fiction, or a selected scene from a play—and features a sequence of five prompts to guide student activities.

1. Read for Overall Impression
2. Read for Understanding
3. Analyze with Guidance
4. Draw Connections
5. Write in Response
