

1 Circle the correct form of the verbs.

- I have worked / (have been working) on the car all morning, and I am exhausted.
- You have read / have been reading that book for weeks!
- She says she has seen / has been seeing this film.
- How long have you known / have you been knowing Mark?
- I haven't had / haven't been having this camera for long.
- Have you decided* / Have you been deciding what to do when you leave school?
- Where have you been? I 've tried / 've been trying to phone you for the past two hours.
- Your clothes are filthy! What have you done / have you been doing?
- Sarah hasn't visited / hasn't been visiting Paris before.

2 What have they been doing? Read the situations and write sentences using the verbs in the box.

swim	cut	play	watch
work	eat	fight

- He looks hot and tired. He is carrying a tennis racquet.
.....
He has been playing tennis......
- She is sitting in front of the TV. She is crying.
.....
- The children's faces are covered in chocolate.
.....
- He is wearing a swimming costume. He is wet.
.....
- He has a black eye, and his shirt is torn.
.....
- Her jeans are covered in oil. She is in the garage.
.....

7 His eyes are red and sore. He is in the kitchen, holding a knife.
.....

3 Circle the correct word a, b or c.

- You'd better try harder if you want to get in the team.
a ought b (better) c should
- Tim ask Tina to go out on a date.
a ought b better c should
- What do you think I to do?
a ought b better c should
- You not speak to your mother like that.
a ought b better c should
- You look exhausted. I think you'd go home.
a ought b better c should
- How I tell Peter the bad news?
a ought b better c should
- She to know better by now. She's nearly eighteen!
a ought b better c should
- You had not do anything until I get there.
a ought b better c should

4 Complete the dialogue with should, ought, or better.

Tom: I really like Fiona, and I'd like to ask her out. But she's going out with Frank. What ¹ should I do?

Carla: I think you ² wait and see how long the relationship with Frank lasts.

Tom: You don't think I ³ to ask her out anyway?

Carla: No, you'd ⁴ not.

Tom: But if she doesn't like him, why ⁵ I wait?

Carla: Because Frank is much bigger than you!