Edited by Brian Hopkins

Relevant Organizations

Listed below are the titles and web site addresses of more than 300 organizations whose work is relevant to one of more chapters in the encyclopedia. Web sites are only included that publish information of relevance to research on child development, and each one has been checked to ensure that this is the case. Many of the web sites contain links to other sources of relevant information. If you wish to include the web site of a relevant organization not already listed, please contact the editor, Brian Hopkins (cambook@lancaster.ac.uk). Further web sites will be included only if it is judged that they are scientifically appropriate.
