Aim: Give Ss practice with would rather and would prefer in a speaking activity.

Preparation: Make one copy of the worksheet for every four Ss. Cut each page into four cards.

Comment: Use after or in place of the Role Play on page 52.

- Ss work in groups of four. Give each S in a group one card (A, B, C, or D). Point out that they cannot look at each other's card.
- Write on the board:
Would you rather . . . ?
Would you prefer . . . ?
- Set the scene: Ss have the opportunity to study English abroad and have several programs to choose from.
- Model the task with the card for Student A. Read the descriptions. Ask: "Would you rather study in London, Kingston, or Perth?" Elicit answers from a few Ss. Encourage them to use I'd rather or I'd prefer to.
- Ss complete the task. Each S reads the options on the card to the other Ss in the group. Ss answer, giving their preferences and reasons.

YOU CHOOSE!

Student A

Where would you rather study?

- London, England

In the capital city of England, the school is just a few minutes from Buckingham Palace! Lots to do: theaters, art galleries, historical sights, museums, parks, and shopping.

- Kingston, NY, U.S.

Small, pretty, and peaceful. In the Catskill Mountains. Places of historical interest. A one-hour train ride to New York City.

- PERTH, AUSTRALIA

On the coast of Australia, the school is right downtown. Excellent nightlife, restaurants, and shopping. Wonderful museums and great beaches.
