History
Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

History is the largest single subject area for the Press. It is a programme with both depth and breadth, ranging in subject matter from late antiquity to the present day, international in scope and embracing new approaches.

Our publishing includes major reference series, textbooks and monographs, as well as a collection of distinguished journals affiliated to the world’s leading scholarly societies.

Together, they reflect the diversity of the discipline and offer an unmatched resource for today’s historians.

EDITORS
The British Journal for the History of Science (BJHS) is the journal of the British Society for the History of Science, the major national body for this subject in Britain. One of the premier journals in the field, it publishes high quality papers and reviews articles in all aspects of the history of science. There are four issues per year comprising an annual volume of around 750 pages. BJHS also includes an extensive book review section. Occasional thematic issues are published on important topics or topics chosen through an open, annual competition. Contributions are very welcome. They should be sent to the Editorial Assistant, Mrs P Hlaton, email bjhss.assistant@bshs.org.uk. They are considered on the understanding that they are unpublished and are not on offer to another journal. Contributions should be submitted in electronic form as an email attachment, preferably in MS Word format.

For instructions on how to submit a paper to BJHS, visit http://www.bshs.org.uk/publications/bjhs and click on Instructions for contributors. Please be sure to follow all instructions carefully as failure to do so may impair the Editor’s and Publisher’s ability to treat the submission in a timely fashion. Informal editorial enquiries (not submissions) may be sent to the Editor, Dr Amanda Rees, Department of Sociology, University of York, Wentworth College, W1/239, Heslington, YO10 5DD, UK, amanda.rees@york.ac.uk. Books for review should be sent to the Reviews Editor, Samuel Robinson, email reviews.editor@bshs.org.uk.
