

ASIL SUBSCRIPTIONS

- American Journal of International Law (AJIL)

The distinguished American Journal of International Law has been published quarterly since 1907. It features articles, editorials, notes, and comments by preeminent scholars on developments in international law and international relations. The Journal contains summaries of decisions by national and international courts and arbitral or other tribunals, as well as summaries of contemporary U.S. practice in international law. Each issue lists recent publications, many of which are reviewed in depth. The Journal is indispensable for all professionals working in international law, economics, trade, and foreign affairs. 2001 calendar year: $165; outside U.S. $200 (FREE FOR ASIL MEMBERS!)

- Proceedings of the 95th Annual Meeting (2001 Edition)

The Proceedings is the official record of ASIL's Annual Meetings. These conferences feature scholars and practitioners presenting papers and participating in working groups on such topics as trade, sovereignty, and human rights. Speeches from public officials, who value the Annual Meeting for major policy announcements, are also included. Start your subscription with the year 2001 edition, "The Visible College of International Law." (Coming Late Fall 2001). 2001 edition: $75 for members; $95 for nonmembers.

- ASIL Newsletter

The ASIL Newsletter covers selected developments in international law, new publications, upcoming conferences, and the regional activities of the Society. The Newsletter publishes thought-provoking commentary on timely issues, as well as information on electronic resources in international law, meetings and symposia held all over the world, and the activities of international organizations. Published bimonthly. 2001 calendar year: $55; outside U.S. $75 (FREE FOR ASIL MEMBERS!)

INTERNATIONAL LEGAL MATERIALS[®]

Statement of Editorial Policy

International Legal Materials is a core publication of The American Society of International Law that reproduces texts of documents reflecting the broad scope and evolution of international law. The range of covered subjects has expanded from traditional topics such as international organizations, jurisdiction, maritime law and trade to include developments in fields such as electronic commerce, environmental law, human rights and war crimes jurisprudence.

International Legal Materials serves as both a bi-monthly information service and a widely recognized archive of international law documents for a diverse, global community of legal scholars, government officials, private practitioners and institutions sharing a common interest in international law. To meet the varied demands of such a readership, documents are selected from world-wide sources on the basis of their present and future legal significance. For this reason, purely political or issue-advocacy documents are usually excluded from consideration, as are draft laws not in final form or lacking a unique, lasting character.

International Legal Materials is prepared for publication in Washington, D.C. by a staff of Attorney-Editors acting with both the advice of the Editorial Advisory Committee and the assistance of Corresponding Editors around the world. In order to reproduce the texts of selected documents under tight production schedules, the best available source is used, whether electronic or printed. To best ensure the quality of electronic texts, the ILM Office staff works in conjunction with official sources to correct any apparent errors.

Volume 40 reflects the full use of automated production methods designed to ensure a high-quality, standardized product. These new techniques also make possible the creation of an expanded and integrated family of International Legal Materials publications centered on the ASIL website. We look forward to announcing these products as they become available.

Guidelines for Submission of Documents

The ILM Office welcomes any effort to bring suitable documents to the Office's attention. Electronic files or web links are required for publication, although printed texts can be used for initial deliberations regarding republication.

The authenticity (i.e. official version status) of submitted documents must be easily verifiable. This is facilitated by submitting files or print versions which are clearly attributable to the original source, or by providing links to documents on the original source's official website.

If the official version of a document is not available in English, an unofficial translation is acceptable. The original text must accompany such a translation.

Introductory Notes

Introductory Notes are brief articles from one to three pages in length which are intended to provide background information for a document reproduced in ILM.

For example, an Introductory Note for a treaty might include a short history of the negotiations, the dates of signature and entry into force. An Introductory Note for legislation would give its history and international significance, while one for judicial proceedings would provide the background of the case.

Introductory Notes are solicited after the underlying document has been selected for publication in International Legal Materials. Unsolicited offers to write an Introductory Note shall be reviewed by the ILM Office. Unsolicited submission of Introductory Notes is not recommended.

Acceptance of Materials and Corrections

Print submissions cannot be returned. Translators and others submitting material will be notified of the acceptance of their document for publication.

Once a translation or Introductory Note has been accepted for reproduction, The American Society of International Law will send a publication agreement to the author.

Translators and Introductory Note Authors shall be acknowledged in International Legal Materials.

In some cases minor editorial or typographical alterations may be made without contacting the author or translator. Major corrections will be sent to the author or translator for approval. Corrected Introductory Notes or translations must be returned within the time specified.

International Law In Brief

The Attorney-Editors of International Legal Materials also publish the e-mail newsletter International Law In Brief, which contains objective abstracts of recently released documents pertinent to international law.

Documents abstracted in International Law In Brief are later considered for reproduction in International Legal Materials.

A complete International Law In Brief archive is located at The American Society of International Law website (<http://www.asil.org>). A search engine provides an easy way to find abstracts of specific documents.

The International Law In Brief publication is free, but has an independent subscription.
