Submissions

Urban History specializes in articles about the history of cities and urban society. Aims and scope are outlined on the journal’s website at www.journals.cambridge.org/uhy. Urban History welcomes articles on all aspects of urban history in all regions of the world. The journal publishes research articles and reviews, with a special focus on articles making use of innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to the study of urban history. Urban History is a fully refereed journal, and manuscripts are subject to a blind refereeing process.

Instructions for contributors

Editorial policy

Urban History occupies a central place in historical scholarship. Contents include research-based articles, historiographical surveys and methodological surveys, and surveys of urban development in individual countries. As part of a major contribution to research, Urban History provides detailed bibliographical references for an average of 1,000 classified and indexed items, culled from monographs and edited collections, and from approximately 50 periodicals.

1. Submissions

Submissions from authors on all aspects of urban history are invited. Articles of a comparative or thematic nature are encouraged, as are articles which raise methodological issues, and those which seek to place the development of individual towns or cities in a wider framework. No historical period is excluded.

Articles submitted for publication should be sent to The Editors, Urban History, Centre for Urban History, University of Leicester, Leicester LE1 7RH, UK, or by email at sg201@le.ac.uk or rhs4@le.ac.uk. Authors wishing to submit articles on North American topics should contact Robert Lewis on lewis@geog.toronto.ca.

2. Manuscript preparation

Articles should be no longer than 8,000 words, inclusive of footnotes and tables, and should be double spaced throughout. A summary of 75 words should also be provided.

Further information and detailed "Instructions for contributors" visit www.journals.cambridge.org/uhy.
