Although training part-time has, I believe, in many ways become easier in the past 10 years, it seems that the College should be more flexible in recognising the experience gained in well-supervised, non-career grade posts. With a large number of consultant psychiatry posts vacant in this country, we must do all we can to encourage experienced doctors back from ‘the branch to the mainline’ of psychiatry, while still maintaining examination eligibility standards.

Primary care screening clinic

Sir: The primary care psychiatric screening clinic described by Hamilton et al (Psychiatric Bulletin, June 2002, 26, 218–221) is an excellent idea. Joint interviewing is an invaluable tool in psychiatric practice.

However, in 1980 I took over from a consultant who had looked after a catchment population of 100,000 with one community psychiatric nurse, one social worker and no junior medical staff. He saw 80 out-patients each week: 10 minutes for new referrals and 5 minutes for returns. Medical records consisted of the date and a single abbreviation for the diagnosis. Clinic letters were three sentences or fewer.

My predecessor’s diagnoses were usually proved right. General practitioners missed his rapid response to referrals and his brevity. Screening has its value but in the new world of primary care trusts it will be important that psychiatrists speak out for a full range of services for the mentally ill.

Distinction awards

College nomination procedures in England and Wales

The Department of Health is again undertaking a review of the procedures, operation and practice of the distinction and meritorious service award scheme. The following paper describes the College’s current nomination procedure in England and Wales. The College’s procedures will change for 2003/2004 and further details will appear in the Bulletin and on the College’s website (http://www.rcpsych.ac.uk).

The President has identified two distinction award advisers in each NHS Region in England and Wales, the chairmen of Divisions, Faculties and Sections (if they have awards). Its task is to produce the College’s final list of nominations from the composite lists produced by the Regions, Faculties, Sections and honorary officers. The Chief Executive and her personal assistant provide administrative support.

Only the names on the composite list of nominations are considered at the meeting and then only if the CV questionnaires and citations have been received in advance of the meeting. The committee member who has made the nomination will speak briefly on behalf of each candidate. Some names are removed from the list at this stage. The committee are given ample time to consider the paperwork, together with the relevant statistics, and finally to cast their votes.

The final list of College nominations is then submitted to the Advisory Committee on Distinction Awards (ACDA). Further information of the distinction award procedures can be viewed at http://www.doh.gov.uk/nhsexec/acda.htm.

Any College Member who considers that he or she has been overlooked should write to the Chief Executive by 31 October, enclosing a completed 2003 ACDA CV Questionnaire form (these can be downloaded from the ACDA website at the above address). College Members must also give the name of a senior colleague willing to write a citation on their behalf. Any forms received will be considered by the officers at their meeting in December.

Specific aims are:

1. To provide consultant psychiatrists with a comprehensive outline of:
   (i) the potential roles of those with responsibilities for substance misusers;
   (ii) the variety of professionals and disciplines with whom consultant addiction psychiatrists work, liaise, collaborate and coordinate services;
   (iii) the range of interventions provided by consultant addiction psychiatrists and the spectrum of settings in which they operate.

2. To provide a structure for the:
   (i) definition of components for consultant posts (e.g. for regional advisers to review job descriptions);
   (ii) description of the contribution of addiction psychiatrists for trainees;
   (iii) accreditation of training posts.

3. To provide non-psychiatrists with an outline of the role of consultants in the...
