The Society is the leading organisation in the United Kingdom for those interested in the study of Rome and the Roman Empire. Its scope is wide, covering Roman history, archaeology, literature and art down to about A.D. 700. It has a broadly based membership, drawn from thirty-five countries and from all ages and walks of life.

 - an e-Newsletter — Epistula, circulated twice a year, keeping members up to date with news of recent discoveries, research, exhibitions, conferences, and publications.
- a library of over 130,000 volumes, including 675 current periodical titles, maintained jointly with the Hellenic Society and in conjunction with the University of London's Institute of Classical Studies. It has an international reputation as one of the world's foremost Classics lending libraries. It also houses a lending collection of over 6,700 slides

THE JOURNAL OF ROMAN STUDIES

POLICY STATEMENT

Scope: The Journal aims to publish papers in the full range of the field which the Roman Society was established to promote, that is 'the study of the history, archaeology, literature, and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700'. Although the emphasis of the Journal has been on historical themes, submissions on literary, archaeological and art historical topics are welcome, including those on issues of cultural and intellectual history that cut across these categories. Papers primarily concerned with the archaeology of Roman Britain should be sent in the first place to Britannia; those concerned with the archaeology of the Roman Empire at large are equally welcomed by this Journal.

Style: The Journal seeks to publish papers that make a fresh and significant contribution to the understanding of the Roman world, and have the potential to stimulate further discussion. Though papers have in recent years tended to be lengthy, the Journal is also keen to publish shorter articles so long as they address issues of general importance. All papers should be carefully thought through and clearly argued; this does not necessarily involve a heavy use of footnotes, but does involve clear statement of the argument and of its broader significance, and adequate signposting to the reader of the steps in the argument. The Journal will publish articles of over 15,000 words in length, including notes, only in exceptional circumstances; articles longer than 15,000 words should only be submitted after discussion with the Editor. Articles should so far as possible be accessible to the non-specialist reader, and citations in ancient languages should always be translated. The language of publication in the Journal is English.

Editorial Procedure: The Journal is run by an Editorial Committee (for membership see Society's website www.romansociety.org). Submissions are circulated at the Editor's discretion to members of the Committee and, where appropriate, to other specialist readers. In order to ensure maximum impartiality, all submissions are circulated without indication of authorship; authors should ensure that submissions do not carry the author's name, institutional affiliation or other indications of identity. The process of refereeing necessarily takes time, but authors may expect to receive a verdict within three months of submission. The Journal does not currently have a backlog of articles awaiting publication. Detailed comments are normally sent only to authors of submissions which have been accepted, or which are thought suitable for resubmission. Authors are frequently invited to revise submissions in the light of such comments.

Submission: Electronic submission by e-mail to the Editor is preferred. All submissions should be accompanied by a separate statement of the name, title, affiliation and postal address of the author: none of these should appear on the submission itself. Documents should be submitted in Word (the addition of a PDF version is helpful). On occasion the Editor may request a hard copy and/or submission on CD-ROM if fonts or illustrations make this desirable. Further instructions will be issued to the authors of accepted articles regarding what is needed for the final version. The Journal is scheduled to appear in November each year.

Electronic Matters: The Society's website (www.romansociety.org) gives the table of contents and abstracts of all articles in the Journal. Recent issues of the Journal and Britannia can be accessed online at www.journals.cambridge.org. Once editing is complete, individual articles or reviews may be accessed from the Cambridge Journals Online site via FirstView in advance of the printed journal. Appearance on FirstView (with the issuing of a DOI) constitutes formal publication. It is not then possible to alter articles or reviews before the journal is printed. The Society permits JSTOR (a system of electronic archiving) to put on its website back issues of the Journal (for more information see www.romansociety.org). The Journal is Green Open-Access compliant.

Article submissions and all general enquiries should be addressed to the Editor, Professor C. E. W. Steel (catherine.steel@glasgow.ac.uk), Department of Classics, University of Glasgow, Glasgow G12 8QQ, UK.

Correspondence relating to reviews should be addressed to the Review Editor, Dr Christopher Kelly (cmk111@cam.ac.uk), Library of the Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.

Books for review should be sent to the Librarian, Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.
