International perspectives on dementia education, training and knowledge transfer

Guest Editor: Colleen Doyle

CONTENTS

Guest Editorial
S1 International perspectives on dementia education, training and knowledge transfer
Colleen Doyle (Australia)

Original Research Articles
S5 The role of higher education in transforming the quality of dementia care: dementia studies at the University of Bradford
M. Downs, A. Capstick, P. C. Baldwin, C. Surr and E. Bruce (U.K.)

S6 Leadership: a central tenet for postgraduate dementia service curricula development in Australia
Valerie Parke (Australia)

S9 Alzheimer's Association Quality Care Campaign and professional training initiatives: improving hands-on care for people with dementia in the U.S.A.
Elizabeth Gaal and Pete Bed (U.S.A.)

S16 The effect of continuing professional education on health care outcomes: lessons for dementia care
Andrea Harrington, David Dunt, Colleen Doyle, Susan Cowan and Pauline van der Mer (Australia)

S18 Leadership: a central tenet for postgraduate dementia service curricula development in Australia
Richard Fleming and Diane Fitzgerald (Australia)

S25 Alzheimer's Association Quality Care Campaign and professional training initiatives: improving hands-on care for people with dementia in the U.S.A.
Elizabeth Gould and Peter Reed (U.S.A.)

S32 The effect of continuing professional education on health care outcomes: lessons for dementia care
Rasika Rampatige, David Dunt, Colleen Doyle, Susan Cowan and Pauline van der Mer (Australia)

S34 The effect of continuing professional education on health care outcomes: lessons for dementia care
Rasika Rampatige, David Dunt, Colleen Doyle, Susan Cowan and Pauline van der Mer (Australia)

S44 Educating primary care physicians in the management of Alzheimer's disease: using practice guidelines to set quality benchmarks
Debra L. Cherry, Carol Hahn and Barbara G. Vickrey (U.S.A.)

S53 Large-scale training in the essentials of dementia care in Australia: Dementia Care Skills for Aged Care Workers project
Richard Fleming and Diane Fitzgerald (Australia)

S58 Bridging the gap: an innovative dementia learning program for healthcare assistants in hospital wards using facilitated discussions
Alan Chapman and Mike Lowe (U.K.)

S64 The effect of continuing professional education on health care outcomes: lessons for dementia care
Rasika Rampatige, David Dunt, Colleen Doyle, Susan Cowan and Pauline van der Mer (Australia)

S64 Educating primary care physicians in the management of Alzheimer's disease: using practice guidelines to set quality benchmarks
Debra L. Cherry, Carol Hahn and Barbara G. Vickrey (U.S.A.)

S69 Realizing a palliative approach in dementia care: strategies to facilitate aged care staff engagement in evidence-based practice
Phaedra Eayrs (Australia)

S72 Translating dementia research into practice
Sharon Andrews, Fran McInerney and Andrew Robinson (Australia)

S72 Translating dementia research into practice
Sharon Andrews, Fran McInerney and Andrew Robinson (Australia)
International perspectives on dementia education, training and knowledge transfer

Edited by Colleen Doyle

Disclaimer

The papers in this supplement were solicited by the guest editor and approved by the editorial panel of International Psychogeriatrics. They were invited and reviewed by the guest editor, the Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing and the Editor in Chief but have not undergone the standard journal formal peer review process. They may be cited.
With appreciation

The International Psychogeriatric Association thanks:

The Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing
for sponsoring the supplement

and

The National Ageing Research Institute, Melbourne, Australia for financial and administrative support that helped to make publication of the supplement possible.