

The background of the cover is a faded, sepia-toned photograph of a Harvard building, likely the Widener Library, featuring a prominent steeple and classical columns. In the foreground, a wooden bench sits on a grassy lawn. The title text is overlaid on three horizontal bands of a dark brown color.

Business History Review is a top-tier refereed journal that seeks to publish articles with rigorous primary research that address major topics of debate, offer comparative perspectives, and contribute to the broadening of the subject. We are primarily concerned with the history of entrepreneurs, firms, and business systems, and with the subjects of innovation, globalization, and regulation. We are also interested in the relation of businesses to the environment and to political regimes.
