THE NEXT GREAT WAR?
The Roots of World War I and the Risk of U.S.–China Conflict
edited by Richard N. Rosecrance and Steven E. Miller
"None of the leaders who drifted into war in August 1914 would have done so could they have foreseen the world of 1918. In this thought-provoking volume, distinguished observers and participants in international affairs assess the origins of that catastrophe and its important lessons for the future."
—Henry A. Kissinger
Belfer Center Studies in International Security
320 pp., $27 cloth

FAILED PROMISES
Evaluating the Federal Government’s Response to Environmental Justice
edited by David M. Konisky
"This is a convincing and timely assessment of an important, but troubled, federal initiative. Twenty years after a landmark presidential executive order, environmental justice policy effectiveness remains disappointing. Success is possible only if both citizens and policymakers absorb the lessons in this sympathetic but tough-minded book."
—Christopher H. Foreman, Jr., University of Maryland
American and Comparative Environmental Policy series
288 pp., $25 paper

ZONE BOOKS
UNDOING THE DEMOS
Neoliberalism’s Stealth Revolution
Wendy Brown
"With its provocatively incisive critique of the alleged conflicts of police and community, Wendy Brown delineates the political stakes of the present — and challenges us to defend and expand the possibilities of a popular politics that makes the promise of democracy come true."
—John Clarke, the open university
American Political Science Review

CHIMICALS WITHOUT HARM
Policies for a Sustainable World
Ken Genser
A proposal for a new chemicals strategy: that we work to develop safer alternatives to hazardous chemicals rather than focusing exclusively on controlling them.
Urban and Industrial Environments series

DREAM CHASERS
Immigration and the American Backlash
John Tirman
"Combining first-hand reporting and nuanced analysis, John Tirman has produced an essential primer that explains immigration in the context of American politics and the global economy. If you read only one book to understand the current immigration debate, Dream Chasers is the one."
—Derek Shearer, former United States Ambassador to Finland

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 15,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to expand awareness and understanding of politics.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science and Politics.
