Personal subscriptions to the Journal is available directly from this site. To facilitate rapid peer review and to supply authors with a current e-mail address when registering to use the system.

All authors are referred. Papers submitted to the journal should not have been published nor submitted for publication to any other journal.

The final decision regarding acceptance of a manuscript will be made by the editor.

Manuscripts Accepted for Publication

1. Authors should prepare manuscripts according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed., 2009). Spelling should conform to The Macquarie Dictionary (4th ed.).
2. Articles not prepared according to the guidelines of the Manual will not be reviewed.
3. Manuscripts must include an abstract containing a maximum of 120 words typed on a separate page.
4. Manuscripts would not normally exceed 20 double-spaced A4 typed pages inclusive of abstract, text, references, appendices, tables, and figures. However, longer manuscripts will be considered. Short reports (1200-1500 words) of empirical research are welcome.

Manuscript Review

1. The journal uses a blind review process in which the author’s identity is anonymous to referees.
2. Unless otherwise indicated in the cover letter, the first author will be responsible for communicating with the editor and editorial revisions of manuscripts.
3. Although feedback will usually be provided to authors, the editor reserves the right to reject a manuscript for publication without providing a rationale for the decision.
4. The final decision regarding acceptance of a manuscript will be made by the editor.

Manuscripts Accepted for Publication

1. Upon acceptance for publication, authors must provide the editor with a copy of their manuscript (via e-mail attachment) and a final printed copy which is an exact match to the e-mailed version. The only acceptable word processing formats are Microsoft Word or RTF.
2. Electronic manuscripts become the sole property of the journal for copyright purposes. However, the author(s) remain responsible for any views expressed in a manuscript that is published.
