Contents

Articles
Teaching Children With Down Syndrome in the Early Years of School
Amanda McFadden, Donna Tangen, Rebecca Spooner-Lane and Amanda Mergler

Bullying Prevalence in Students With Autism Spectrum Disorder
Marilyn Campbell, Yoon-Suk Hwang, Chrystal Whiteford, Julie Dilllon-Wallace, Jill Ashburner, Beth Saggers and Suzanne Carrington

Understanding and Experiences of Bullying:
Bullying Impact on Students on the Autism Spectrum
Beth Saggers, Marilyn Campbell, Julie Dilllon-Wallace, Jill Ashburner, Yoon-Suk Hwang, Suzanne Carrington and Megan Tones

Sarah Carlon, Mark Carter and Jennifer Stephenson

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. IP address: 54.70.40.11, on 12 Dec 2019 at 05:54:20, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/jse.2017.9
The Australian Association of Special Education (AASE) aims to publish articles for a readership professionally engaged or interested in the education of students with special needs. The journal features an applied section, Special Education Perspectives, to inform practitioners in regular and special education settings and others interested in the education of students with special needs.

Editor Contact
For any queries please contact the Assistant Editor at Genevieve.Farrell@newcastle.edu.au

Peer Review Policy
All articles in this journal have undergone rigorous peer review, based on initial editor screening and anonymous refereeing by at least two expert referees.

SUBMISSION
Australian Journal of Special Education (AASE) accepts submissions of original research and review articles. Before submitting for possible publication in this journal, authors must follow the Instructions for Authors (IJA) detailed on the AASE website. Once logged in, submission must be made through the ‘Author’ tab. Authors are notified by email of the receipt of their submission. The manuscript will be automatically assigned to an initial editor. The first manuscript is referred to an associate editor, who will then allocate at least one further peer reviewer. Authors are notified by email of the receipt of the peer reviewers’ comments. A final decision regarding acceptance, rejection, or revision is made by the Editor in Chief. The author is responsible for ensuring that all listed authors are aware of and agree to the manuscript being submitted. A manuscript must be submitted in PDF format.

Instructions for Authors

Important Instructions for Authors

Authors should avoid language that can be seen as discriminating against people based on disability, ethnicity, gender, marital status, race, religion, or sexual orientation.

The Australian Association of Special Education (AASE) provides its members with a range of services designed to support their professional development and enhance their practice. These services include regular journal publications, access to a network of professionals, and opportunities for collaboration and discussion. By joining AASE, educators and researchers in special education can contribute to the advancement of the field and benefit from the support of a community committed to the improvement of outcomes for students with special needs.

The AASE journal, Australian Journal of Special Education, is a leading publication in the field, providing a platform for the dissemination of research and practice that informs and inspires professionals in the area of special education.

Instructions for Authors

For further information please visit https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms.
Contents

Articles

Teaching Children With Down Syndrome in the Early Years of School
Amanda McFadden, Donna Tangen, Rebecca Spooner-Lane and Amanda Mergler

Bullying Prevalence in Students With Autism Spectrum Disorder
Marilyn Campbell, Yoon-Suk Hwang, Chrystal Whiteford, Julie Dillon-Wallace, Jill Ashburner, Beth Saggers and Suzanne Carrington

Understanding and Experiences of Bullying: Impact on Students on the Autism Spectrum
Beth Saggers, Marilyn Campbell, Julie Dillon-Wallace, Jill Ashburner, Yoon-Suk Hwang, Suzanne Carrington and Megan Tones

Sarah Carlon, Mark Carter and Jennifer Stephenson