
NEWS

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

16th Annual South-Eastern Conference on Latin American Studies.

University of Florida, Gainesville
April 10–12 1969

Aspects of Latin-American Development were discussed in three sessions as follows: First Session: The U.S. Presence in Latin America, presided by Andrés Suarez,

University of Florida. Papers: The Impact of Inter-American Trade on the U.S. Economic System to 1815, by Harold A. Bierck, University of North Carolina; U.S. Economic Penetration of Mexico 1880–1884, by Harold Isaacs, Georgia Southwestern College; The Desired Blue: The Conflict between the U.S. and Panama over Control of Panama's Sky, 1923–1931, by Wesley P. Newton, Auburn University; U.S. Investments in an Export Economy: Cuba, 1929–1959, by Eric N. Baklanoff, University of Alabama. Victor Alba of Kent State University gave the address at the President's luncheon on Revolutionaries without Revolution. Theme of the second session was: New Lands and Migration, Martha Hardman de Bautista of the University of Florida presided. Papers: New Lands and Migration: the Examples of Brazil and Mexico, by Roland E. Chardon, Louisiana State University; Peru's Chimbote Project: A Government Effort in Desert Development and Colonization, by Craig L. Dozier, University of North Carolina, Greensborough; Aspects of Latin American Migration, by Raymond E. Crist, University of Florida. Address at the Banquet was by Charles W. Wagley, Columbia University, entitled: Whatever Happened to Ariel? The third session was concerned with Political Modernization, John W. Freels, Jr. of the University of Florida presided. Papers: Tradition and Innovation: The Colombian National Front, by David Bushnell, University of Florida; Political Leadership and Modernization: a Portrait of the Frei Cabinet, by James D. Cochrane, Tulane University; Political Modernization and the Community Decision-Making Process in Guatemala by Roland H. Ebel, Tulane University; Guerrilla Warfare and Violence in Contemporary Latin America, by John D. Martz, University of North Carolina. The papers read at

Latin American Research Review

this conference were published at West Georgia College in April 1970 under the title SECOLAS Proceedings. The Sears Roebuck Foundation has financed this publication which will appear annually. Cost to non-members should be about $1.50. Further details can be obtained from Eugene R. Huck, President of the Southeast Conference of Latin American Studies, West Georgia College, Carrollton, Georgia 30117.

Council for Latin America,
5th Annual Membership Meeting
Washington D.C., May 6, 1969

Latin American leaders in the fields of labor, education, business and government addressed this meeting and North Americans added their comments. Arturo Jauregui, Secretary General of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers spoke for the Latin American labor movement; Reinaldo Scarpetta of the University del Valle, Colombia spoke on education; Israel Kabin, the Brazilian industrialist discussed the business scene, and Eduardo Roca, Argentine Ambassador to the U.S. reviewed the progress, problems and prospects of government in Latin American. North American commentators were, respectively: William C. Doherty Jr. of the American Institute for Free Labor, Peter F. Drucker, and William E. Barlow, President of CLA. Assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Meyer concluded the proceedings with informal remarks at lunch.

Meeting: Regional Analysis and Regional Politics in the Latin American Area. Göttingen, Germany
May 8–9, 1969

The Ibero-Amerika Institut für
Wirtschaftsforschung of the University of Göttingen sponsored this meeting which was organized by Prof. Dr. E. Egner. Title was:

Regionalanalyse und Regionalpolitik im Ibero-Amerikanischen Raum. The following topics were discussed: Siedlungsstruktur und Wirtschaftliche Entwicklung in Peru; Die Regionalen Entwicklungsgesellschaften als Träger der Raumordnungspolitik in Kolumbien; Die Monetäre Integration der Mittelamerikanischen Region. Papers were given respectively by U. P. Ritter of Göttingen, H. J. Pätz of Hanover and Dipl.—Volksw R. Schinke of Göttingen. Dr. Santiago García Echevarria gave a paper entitled: Investitions- u. Finanzierungs—Strukturen als Entscheidungsgrundlagen der Regionalpolitik, and F. Butler talked about: Einkommensredistributive u. Raumstrukturelle Regionalpolitik im Rahmen der Spanischen Entwicklungspläne. The papers were published by the Ibero-Amerika Institut, Wirtschaftsforschung, Göttingen, in February 1970. Address of the Institute is 34 Göttingen Gosslerstrasse 1b, W. Germany.

17th Regional Conference of the
Rocky Mountain Council for Latin
American Studies, Denver
Colorado, May 8–10, 1969

Faculty members from the Rocky Mountain area took as their theme: "'69: Latin America" at this meeting which was organized by Arthur L. Campa, Chairman of the Department of Modern Languages at the University of Denver. John M. Sharp of The University of Texas at El Paso chaired the first of the three sectional meetings during which papers were given on Latin American Literature as follows 1) Latin American Poetry: chairman Domingo Ricart, University of Kansas and The University of Texas at El Paso. Santos Vega: the Troubadour of the Pampas by Merle D. Compton, Brigham Young University; Juan de Dios Peza's Garrick and Wilhelm Schafer's Der Falsche Patient by José Pablo García, New Mexico Highlands University; Lugones' La blanca soledad—the New Baroque by John F. Knowlton, Arizona State University; Structural Repetition in the Poetry of Argentina by David William Foster, Arizona State University. 2) Latin American Essayists and Prose Writers, chairman Gerrit De Jong, Brigham State University. Papers: Arielismo and the Alliance against Progress in Latin American by Chester Christian, The University of Texas at El Paso; Usigli's Impact upon the Latin American Theater by Lillian H. Gleason, New Mexico Highlands University; Folklore of the Four Corners Area by Kenneth I. Periman, Fort Lewis College. 3) Novel and the Short Story in Latin America, chairman Robert Anderson, University of Arizona. Papers: Irony in the Fantastic Stories of Azul by Howard M. Frazer, University of New Mexico; Reality and Myth in García Marquez' Cien Años de Soledad by George R. McMurray, Colorado State University; The Use of Shock as a Technique in the Novels of José Rubén Romero, by Ewart E. Phillips, Howard Payne College. Sectional Meeting Two under the chairmanship of Robert W. Delaney of Fort Lewis College considered various aspects of Hispanic Studies as follows: 1) Hispanic Studies 1520–1850, chairman Robert E. Roeder, University of Denver. Papers: Mixton War—Frontier Crisis by Oakah Jones, United States Air Force Academy; Nobility in Brazil by David L. Wood, University of Utah; Tadeo Hanke—Precursor or Fraud? by Donald C. Cutter, University of New Mexico. Section 2) Hispanic Studies 1850–1969, chairman John P. Powellson, University of Colorado: Exodus of Mormon Colonists from Mexico 1912 by Joe Romney, University of Utah; National Park System of Northern Mexico by Steven Maurer, University of New Mexico; Applied

Latin American Research Review

Scientific Economics in the Brazil of Pedro II by William J. Chapaitas, Colorado School of Mines. 3) Inter American Affairs: chairman Katherine F. Nutt, Arizona State University: Congressional Attitudes Toward Mexico and the Río Grande Frontier by William P. Tucker, Texas Technological College; Economic Import of the Central American Common Market by Dilmus James, The University of Texas at El Paso, commentator John R. Hildebrand, Michigan State University; Tourism in Latin American by Jerry R. Ladman, Arizona State University. The third section meeting dealt with the Spanish Southwest, William H. Nelle of the University of Wyoming was chairman. Papers: Causes of Poverty in San Miguel County, New Mexico: A Rural Spanish American County by Clark S. Knowlton, University of Utah; Acculturation: a Problem of the Spanish Speaking People of the American Southwest by Ignacio Cordoba; and Socio Economic and Cultural Factors in the Education of Spanish Speaking Students by Chester Christian, The University of Texas at El Paso.

1st National Seminar on Human Resources, Caracas
Venezuela, September 3-5, 1969

This seminar was sponsored by the Centro de Estudios de Recursos Humanos (CERH) of the Universidad Católica Andrés Bello and the Oficina Central de Coordinación y Planificación de la Presidencia de la República (CORDIPLAN). The object was to discuss the problems and limitations which hinder the task of programming human resources in Venezuela, with special reference to problems of employment and education. The following papers were given: 1) Recursos Humanos y Agricultura by José M. Franco, CERH; 2) Obstáculos institucionales y administrativos en la programación de los Recursos Humanos en Venezuela by Oswaldo Gamboa F., CORDIPLAN; 3) ¿Remodelación Física o Renovación Humana? by José Rafael Revenga, Fundación Creole; 4) Elementos para un Diagnóstico de la Distribución Geográfica de la Ocupación en Venezuela by Pedro Pablo Yáñez, CERH; 5) Bases Metodológicas para la planificación de los Recursos Humanos by Rosario Scarpatti, Centro de Estudios de Desarrollo; 6) Ohio State University Center for Human Resource Research by S. Clifton Kelly; 7) Prospectiva y Recursos Humanos by Alfredo Anzola, Fundación Creole; 8) Oferta y Demanda de Mano de Obra a Corto Plazo by Alejandro Grajal, CERH; 9) Proyecto Recursos Humanos Universitarios y Modelo Nacional Educativo by Max Contasti; 10) Concepto y Sistema General para el Planeamiento Integral de Recursos Humanos en Venezuela by T. N. Chiricos. The seminar was held at the Universidad Católica.

7th International Conference on Health and Health Education
Buenos Aires, Sept. 6–13, 1969

Information from:
Dr. Louis Paul Aujoulat,
General Secretary.
20 Rue Greuze, 75. Paris, France.

Colloquium on the 50th Anniversary of the University Reform Movement in Latin America. American University
Washington, Sept. 22, 27, 28, 1969

Sponsored by the Latin American Studies Program of the American University. Papers were given by Harold E. Davis, Ivan Illich, Karl Lenkersdorf, F. Taylor Peck, Au-gusto Salazar Bondy, Kalman Silvert and Mark van Aken. Commentators from the Consortium of Washington Universities also attended.

21st Session, World Health Organization
Regional Committee for the Americas
Washington, D.C., Sept. 29th–
October 10th, 1969

Details from:
Pan American Sanitary Bureau,
525 23rd Street N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20037

International Planned Parenthood
Federation, Western Hemisphere
Regional Council Meeting
Cuernavaca, Mexico
October 3–5, 1969

Details from the IPPF:
Western Hemisphere Region Inc.
51 East 42nd St.
New York, N.Y. 10017.

Latin American Geographers
Planning Committee for Ball State
University Meeting. Michigan State
University, October 3–4, 1969

Preston E. James conducted a seminar on Geography in American Universities.

Seminar of Amsterdam
Zandvoort, Haarlem, Holland
October 8–11, 1969

The Collegium Humboldtianum
of the University of Bielefeld
Germany and the Studie-en Documentatiecentrum voor Latijns

Amerika of the University of Amsterdam, Holland sponsored this meeting which was organized by Dr. Luis Scherz of Chile. Theme was "La crisis y

Latin American Research Review

transformación de la Universidad: vías posibles de colaboración entre universidades europeas y latino-americanas." The problems of changes in authority structures, the direction and administration of the University, and the gap between teaching and research together with the institutionalization of an academic forum for European and Latin American Universities were discussed. François Bourricaud of France read a paper on University Government in Latin America and the Function of the Modern University; Harold Blakemore of London University talked about the cooperation of British Universities and other organizations with Latin American Universities; other papers were given by H. J. Krysmanski of Germany: Contactos entre sistemas científicos; Antonio Lago Carballo of Spain; Presencia Política y Orden Constitucional de las Fuerzas Armadas en Iberoamérica; S. O. von Poelje of Holland: Crisis y Transformación de la Universidad; Helmut Schelsky of Germany: Cinco tesis sobre la Problemática Universitaria and José Sulbrandt of Chile: El Problema de la Transformación de la Estructura de Autoridad en la Universidad. Other participants included Armando Cordova of Venezuela, Federico Debuyst, Belgium, Aberto Escobar, Peru, Ernesto Garzon-Valdes, and Gilda Romero-Brest of Argentina, Johann Schaschig, the Vatican, Hans-Albert Stegar, Germany, and Rudolf van Zantwijk of Holland. The papers will be published in No. 9 of the Boletín Informático sobre Estudios Latinoamericanos en Europa, of the Centro de Estudios y Documentación Latinoamericanos de Amsterdam.

Conference on U.S. Foreign Policy
University of Nebraska
October 14th, 1969

The University of Nebraska and the U.S. Department of State co-sponsored this conference. In the field of Latin America, participants included Clarence A. Boonstra, Diplomat-in-Residence at the University of Colorado and Former Ambassador to Costa Rica; Robert J. Reddington, Deputy Director of Office of Inter-American Political Affairs, Department of State and Alternate U.S. Representative on the OAS Council, and William B. Miller, Diplomat-in-Residence and Visiting Professor at the University of Nebraska.

Annual Conversations in the Disciplines
for Latin American Studies
University College, New Paltz
October 17 and 18, 1969

The State University of New York and the Center for Inter American Studies. SUNY, Albany co sponsored this meeting. The general theme was "Current Issues in the Economic, Social and Political Development of Latin America." Conversations were organized around the following topics: The planning and implementation of economic development, political problems of development and structural problems of development.

8th Annual Assembly of the Inter American Education Association
Montevideo and Punta del Este
Uruguay, October 17–20, 1969

The first meeting on October 18th was held at the Punta del Este Headquarters under the auspices of the Commission on Freedom of Teaching. Chairman was Father Juan A. Morales. The general status of freedom of teaching in the hemisphere was discussed, with comments by national delegates and recommendations. On the following day, Father Edward B. Rooney, ILEA Vice President spoke about the UNESCO Program for the International Year of Education; Carlos Wernecke, Brazilian educator and national congressman—spoke on Educational Reform in Brazil; Emilio Mignone, Under Secretary of Education of Argentinian on Educational Reform in Argentina; Roland Balwin, director of the Baldwin School of New York City and Baldwin School of Puerto Rico discussed Inter-American Relations at the School Level; and finally a paper was given on Education Reform in Uruguay. Address of the New York Secretariat of the IAEA is 1150 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.

15th Annual Meeting of the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies. Fullerton, California
October 23–25, 1969

This meeting was held at the California State College at Fullerton. Organizer was David Feldman, President of PCCLAS, 1969. Subjects under discussion on the first day were: New Directions in Music and Art in Latin America, Religious Ferment in Latin America, Contemporary Latin American Writers, Resurgence of Militarism and Political Trends, Economic Crisis in Latin America. Speakers at the luncheon and dinner were Martin Sable, University of Wisconsin, who talked about Latin American Studies, and Daniel Sharp, Adlai Stevenson Institute. On the following day three main topics were considered: Urbanization in Latin America and its' Implications, Agrarian Problems and Political Responses, and Educational Trends in Latin America. Each subject was discussed by a panel of from two to six speakers. Further information from the organizers at California State College, Fullerton, 800 N. State College Blvd. Fullerton, California 92631.

Latin American Research Review

Conference: The World Urban Crisis: A Challenge to International Education, Tucson, Arizona
October 23–25, 1969

America. Enrique Cervantes Sanchez, Chief of the Division of Advanced Studies, at the National School of Architecture, Universidad Nacional Autónoma, Mexico City, discussed the programs of urbanization now being carried out in the Mexican state of Sinaloa and other federally aided projects concerned with relieving the urban crisis in Mexico. Frank Servaites, Coordinator of Housing and Urban Development for the U.S. Section of the United States-Mexico Commission on Border Development and Friendship explained the plans of the U.S. and Mexican governments for the development of urban planning commissions in twin cities along the border from Brownsville-Matamoros to San Diego-Tijuana. Patricio Izurieta, graduate student at Montana State University discussed urbanization in Ecuador and David O. Roncayolo-Morales, University of Arizona, urbanization in Venezuela.

The University of Arizona and the Institute of International Education were joint sponsors of this conference at which considerable attention was given to Latin

National Consortium for Latin American Studies, University of Nebraska, October 24 and 25, 1969

Details may be obtained from Roberto Esquenazi Mayo, Institute for Latin American and International Studies, Lincoln, Nebraska, 68508.

2nd Biennial Symposium of Sciences and Humanities, São Paulo, Brazil
October 1969

Details from Biennial of São Paulo Foundation. Caixa Postal 7832. São Paulo, Brazil.

16th Conference of the Inter-
American Bar Association
Caracas, Venezuela
November 1–8, 1969

Central topic of the agenda was "Legal Aspects of Development and Integration." Address of IABA: 1730 K Street N.W. Washington, D.C. 20006.

3rd Meeting of Executives for Agrarian
Reform in Latin America
Caracas, Venezuela
November 1–8, 1969

Sponsored by the Inter American Institute of Agricultural Sciences.

4th National Consortium
on Oral History
Airlie House, Warrenton, Va.
November 7–10, 1969

Venezuela 1969: Analysis of Progress. Washington, D.C.
November 10–11, 1969

Approximately 350 persons from Venezuela and the U.S. attended this conference which was sponsored by the School of Advanced International Studies, Washington D.C. and the Creole Petroleum Corporation. Selected problems of Venezuelan development were analysed in twelve commissioned papers given and discussed by participants from the public and private, business and academic sectors. Over half the meeting periods were given to open debate on the papers. Topics were as follows: Monday, November 10: 1) Social Problems, papers by Gordon C. Ruscoe, Syracuse: Efficacy of Venezuelan Education, and José Rafael Revenga, Creole Foundation, Caracas: An Educational Program for Development, Chairman Roger Leeds, SAIS. 2) Agrarian Problems: papers by Raul Alegrett, director Instituto Agrario Nacional: The Venezuelan Agrarian Reform: Impact and Outlook and John D. Powell, Harvard: Venezuelan Agrarian Problems in Comparative Perspective. Chairman: C. Neale Ronning, New School of Social Research. 3) Economic Development Problems, papers: Arturo Sosa, Empresas Vollmer, Caracas and David E. Blank, University of Louisville, who spoke on Political Conflict and Industrial Planning in Venezuela. Chairman was A. Irving Sirken, SAIS. 4) Regional and Urban Problems, papers: John R. Dinkelspiel, Babson College, Boston: Technology and Tradition: Regional and Urban Development in the Guayanas; Antonio Morales Tucker, Director of Urban Planning, City of Caracas: Urban Planning in Venezuela, the Case of Caracas. Chairman John Plank, Brookings Institution. Two panels on Tuesday discussed 5) International Economic Problems, papers by Robert P. Clark, Texas A&M: Economic Integration and the Political Process: Linkage Politics in Venezuela, and Antonio Alamo, CV Guayana: Economic Integration in Latin America and the Case of Venezuela. Chairman: Freddy Miller, Vice president FEDE-CAMERAS. 6) Petroleum Problems, papers: Humberto Peñaloza, President Mito Juan Oil Corporation: Present and Future of the Venezuelan Oil Industry, and John H. Lichtblau, New York Petroleum Consultant: Petroleum as a Current Resource and Future Development Problem. Chairman C. Allen Stewart, former Ambassador to Venezuela. The papers will be published in English by the Johns Hopkins Press, Baltimore, Maryland in 1970 and in

Latin American Research Review

Spanish by Farol, house organ of the Creole Petroleum Corporation, Caracas. Further information from Philip B. Taylor Jr., Director of Latin American Studies, University of Houston, Texas, organizer of the meeting.

World Seminar on the Formation of Rural Leaders
Montevideo, Uruguay
November 20–December 22, 1969

Organized by the International Movement of Catholic Agricultural
Rural Youth. 24, Diestsevest,
Louvain, Belgium.

7th Meeting of the Inter American
Nuclear Energy Commission
Washington D.C., November 21–25, 1969

Newberry Library Conference on Colonial Brazil. Chicago, Ill.
November 21–22, 1969

Dauril Alden was chairman of this meeting which was attended by over forty specialists. The program was as follows: 1) The Shaping of the Colony; papers by John L. Vogt, University of Georgia: Colonial Brazil-Coastal Enclave, and Francis A. Dutra, University of California, Santa Barbara: Donatarial Privilege, Centralization, and the Struggle for Hegemony in Seventeenth Century Brazil. 2) New Viewpoints on the Colony's Socio-Economic Development. Papers: Stuart B. Schwartz, University of Minnesota: Free Labor in a Slave Economy: the Lavradores of Bahia, 1550–1750; Harold B. Johnson, University of Virginia: Rio de Janeiro; A Preliminary Enquiry into Money, Prices, and Wages, 1763–1823. 3) The Past in Present Perspective: the State of our Knowledge. Paper: Some Reflections on the Historiography of Colonial Brazil in the Last Twenty Years, by C. R. Boxer, Yale University. 4) The Eighteenth Century Watershed: Economic Aspects. Papers: The Indian Labor Structure in the Portuguese Amazon, 1700–1800, by Colin M. Malachlan, California State College, Long Beach; How the Brazilian West was Won, by David M. Davidson, Cornell. 5) The Eighteenth Century Watershed: Administrative and Cultural Aspects. Papers: Gomes Freire de Andrade, Martinho de Mendonça and the Capitation Tax, 1735–1737, by Robert White, University of Texas; Theory and Reality: the Enlightenment in Colonial Brazil by Kenneth R. Maxwell, University of Kansas.

3rd Annual Meeting of the Southwest Alliance for Latin America (SALA)
San Marcos, Texas
November 24 and 25, 1969

This meeting was held at the Alumni House of Southwest Texas State University. Participants included James C. Carey, Chief of Party—Panama, Thomas B. Livingston, Chief of Party—Nicaragua, Josue Angel, Dean of the Universidad del Valle in Cali, Colombia and David Amato, Coordinator of Training and Education at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City. Richard G. King, director of the Harvard University Center for Studies in Education and Development spoke on the role of the Latin American University in Development. Gerald W. Thomas, Dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University was elected President and John F. Leich, director of the Center for Comparative International Studies, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute Vice President for 1970.

Southern Marketing Association
St. Louis, Missouri
November 31, 1969

Applied to Guatemala. This will be published in the Southern Journal of Business.

Douglas F. Lamont gave a paper on Use of Vector Analysis to Segment Markets in the LDC's The Game of Marketing Adaptation

8th Special Meeting of the Inter American Economic and Social Council at the Ministerial Level. Caracas, Venezuela
December 1–10, 1969

Latin American Congress on Food and Economic Development
São Paulo, December 1–7, 1969

In preparation for the 2nd World Food Congress to be held in June 1970 at the Hague.

1st Congress of Hispano-American lexicography, San Juan, Puerto Rico
December 1–5, 1969

Organized by the Puerto Rico Academy of Language.

Latin American Research Review

Annual Meeting of the Catholic Economic Association. New York December 27–29, 1969

Attempts were made to suggest a workable methodology for determining how Latin American firms can be stimulated to increase their export sales efforts, and how U.S. firms can be encouraged to invest in Latin America. Welfare considerations were also discussed. Warren J. Bilkey of the University of Wisconsin gave a paper entitled: Psychological Counterpart Analysis: A Behavioral Methodology for Economics. Commercial relations between firms in the U.S. and El Salvador were discussed. Papers will be published in the Review of Social Economy, March 1970. Address for further information: Catholic Economic Association, De Paul University, 2323 North Seminary, Chicago, Illinois 60614.

7th Annual Catholic Inter-American Cooperation Program Conference. Washington D.C. February 5–8, 1970

Aim of CICOP 1970 is "to voice Latin America's frustrations and aspirations and relate these to Church, private and government decision-making structures." Dr. Paulo Freire explained and demonstrated the controversial educational technique of conscientization, developed in Brazil to stimulate social consciousness and community action, actively involving the audience in this process. Additional information from: Michael Lenaghan, CICOP Coordinator, Division for Latin America, USCC. 1401 K St. Washington D.C. 20005.

20th Annual Latin American Conference, Gainesville Florida, February 25–28, 1970

See LARR V.i. "Universities in Transition" was the theme of this conference, the first of a series under the general heading: "The U.S. Presence in Latin America," sponsored by the Center for Latin American Studies, University of Florida. The primary purpose was to interpret and evaluate U.S. influenced changes in Latin American higher education during the past decade. A working nucleus of a dozen scholars, half of whom were from Latin America, spent the first two days listening to and discussing papers they had prepared; official observers were admitted and participated at the end of each session. Topic of the first period was: Foundations and Universities, North American and Latin American viewpoints were put by Reubin Frodin, Ford Foundation and Raúl Urzúa, University de Chile, Santiago, respectively. Period II was devoted to the U.S. Government and Latin American Universities, Latin American speaker Augusto Franco A., of the Instituto Colombiano Para El Fomento de la Educación, North American speaker was F. M. Tiller, Director, Center for the Study of Higher Education in Latin America, University of Houston. An exhibit of Mayan art was formally opened at the University of Florida Galleries at 8 p.m. with an address by Michael Kampen of the University of Florida on Copán: The Alexandria of Maya. Period III the following days was entitled: Promotors of the U.S. Model in Latin American Universities. Robert Arno, Stanford University and Ford Foundation, Bogotá talked about Institutional, Peace Corps and International Exchange Programs and Rudolph P. Atcon of the Department of Educational Affairs, OAS discussed Integrated University Reform. Speaker at the luncheon was Luis Alberto Sánchez, former Rector of San Marcos University, Lima. His subject was: Views on Latin American Higher Education. Dr. Sanchez also gave the Latin American viewpoint in Period IV: The Relevance of U.S. Models for Latin American University Development. Period V was devoted to a preliminary discussion of final reports and a public address by John U. Crimmins, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, State Department on the subject: Toward a More Mature Partnership: The Nixon Administration's Latin American Policy. Sessions on Saturday February 28th were open to the general public. Part I: Latin American Report was given by Germán O. E. Tjarks, Visiting Professor from Argentina at the University of Florida and Part II: North American Report by George Waggoner, Dean of the University of Kansas. Information about this and future conferences can be obtained from the Center for Latin American Studies, Room 450, College Library, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida 32601.

Meeting on Foreign Investment in Latin America—Past Policies and Future Trends. Charlottesville, Virginia, March 13–14, 1970

This meeting was sponsored by the American Society of International Law, the John Bassett Moore Society of International Law and the University of Virginia School of Law. It was attended by students, professors, practicing lawyers, economists, political scientists and government officials. Notable participants included Covey T. Oliver, Raul Prebisch and Enrique Iglesias. The conference discussed Recent Expropriations in Latin America, Legal Issues raised by these and the Outlook for Foreign Investment in Latin America. Further details can be obtained from the organizer: Robert K. Goldman, John Bassett Society for International Law, University of Virginia School of Law, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901.

This meeting was sponsored by the American Society of International Law, the John Bassett Moore Society of International Law and the University of Virginia School of Law. It was attended by students, professors, practicing lawyers, economists, political scientists and government officials. Notable participants included Covey T. Oliver, Raul Prebisch and Enrique Iglesias. The conference discussed Recent Expropriations in Latin America, Legal Issues raised by these and the Outlook for Foreign Investment in Latin America. Further details can be obtained from the organizer: Robert K. Goldman, John Bassett Society for International Law, University of Virginia School of Law, Charlottesville, Virginia 22901.

Latin American Research Review

29th Annual Meeting of the Society for Applied Anthropology
Boulder, Colorado
April 1–5, 1970

Theme was: Social and Cultural Pluralism: Problems in the Confrontation of Diversity. Different aspects of Applied Anthropology were discussed in a number of workshops and symposia. Topics included: the American Indian in Urban Society, Theories of Development, Education and Economic Development, Health Care, American Indian Education, Academics, Humanism and the Ethics of Involvement, Pluralism etc. Two workshop sessions were devoted specifically to Latin American themes: 1) Pluralism in the Hispanic Caribbean, chairman Nancie L. Gonzáles, University of Iowa. Participants examined the Hispanic Caribbean in an effort to delineate the kinds of pluralism, both past and present which exist there. They then discussed the interrelationships among the segments and the ways in which they have been incorporated into different political structures. Andean Government Policies Toward Cultural Diversity was the theme of another workshop, under the chairmanship of Henry F. Dobyns, University of Kentucky. Papers: Peasant Political Movements in Peru, by Susan C. Borque, Cornell University; The Theoretical Framework of Peruvian Development Plans, by Charles Delgado, National Planning Institute, Peru; Traditional Peasant Communities and Peruvian Agrarian Reform by Mario C. Vásquez, Bureau of Peasant Communities, Peru; Tribal Land Rights in National Development by Scott S. Robinson, Cornell University. Other Latin American papers given during the meeting included: La Educación en los Programas de Desarrollo Regional en México, by Gonzalo Aguirre Beltrán, Instituto Indigenista Interamericano; Traditional World View and Modern Medicine in a Highland Guatemalan Community by Clyde M. Wood, UCLA; Interethnic Relations in British Honduras by Sheila Cosminsky, Brooklyn College; Cross-Ethnic Adjustment in Western Mexico: Mestizo-Indian Relations in the Southern Sierra Madre Occidental, Gottfried O. Lang and Delmos Jones, both of the University of Colorado, were Program Chairmen.

Southeastern Conference on Latin American Studies
Columbia, South Carolina
April 2–4 1970

This meeting was held at the University of South Carolina under the chairmanship of Edward H. Mosely, University of Alabama.

General title was: Instruction, Investigation and Interpretation: Roles of the Latin Americanist. The program was as follows: 1) Instruction: The Latin Americanist as Teacher. Papers by Ralph Lee Woodward Jr., University of North Carolina: Undergraduates and Latin American Studies: Latin American History since Independence; Edward D. Terry, University of Alabama: Literature and the Understanding of Latin America; Joedd Price, University of Delaware: A Graduate Student's View. 2) Investigation: The Latin Americanist as Researcher. Papers: Geographic Studies in the Upper Amazon, by Edmund Hegen, University of Alabama; Investigating the Social Structure of Northeastern Brazil by Harry W. Hutchinson, University of Miami, Investigating the Problems of Urbanization by Pedro F. Hernandez, Louisiana State University. 3) Interpretation: The Latin Americanist as Analyst. Papers: Trends in Economic Interpretations in Latin America: The Shifting of Balance among Neoclassical Marxian and Malthusian Views, by Herman Daly, Louisiana State University; The Mexicans Interpret their History by Richard Greenleaf, Tulane University; A Study of the United States' Military Mission in Latin America by Frank R. Pancake, Mary Baldwin College.

2nd National Meeting of the Latin American Studies Association
Washington D.C.
April 16– 19, 1970

Richard M. Morse of Yale University was program chairman of LASA's second national meeting which was held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Washington, D.C.

There were 8 formal sessions: 1) Analysis of the Rockefeller Report, chairman Eldon Kenworthy, Cornell; 2) Economic Development, chairman Albert Hirschman, Harvard with papers by Clark Reynolds, Stanford, and David Barklin, NYU; 3) A Present View of Past Literature by Future Latin Americanists, chairman Daniel Levin, University of Michigan; 4) Review of the Alliance for Progress, chairman Richard Fagen, Stanford, paper by Harrison Wagner; 5) Moral versus Economic Incentives in Contemporary Cuba, chairman Anthony Maingot, Yale, papers by Bertram Silverman, Queens, and C. Mesa-Lago, Pittsburgh; 6) Current Status of Area Studies Programs, chairman William Carter, Florida, paper by Martin Needler, University of New Mexico; 7) Contemporary Literature and Politics, chairman John A. Coleman, NYU; 8) Radical Approaches to the Study of Latin America. Ecological Aspects of Development in Latin America were discussed in an informal session, and open forums were held on Problems of Latin American Programs in Small and Medium Sized Institutions and the Future of LARR.

Southwest Council on Latin America
University of Houston, Texas
April 23–25, 1970

Harvey L. Johnson, President of SECOLAS was responsible for organizing this meeting, which took as its theme: Contemporary Latin America. Participants included several distinguished Latin American scholars and professors from institutions in Texas, Georgia, Alabama and Arizona State as well as members of the Texas Consortium for Microfilming Mexican

Latin American Research Review

Archival Materials. The papers given will be published by the Office of International Affairs at the University of Houston.

Wisconsin Council of Latin Americanists:
Spring Meeting. Ripon College
Wisconsin. April 24, 25, 1970

Organizer: Alexander Hooker
Department of Spanish
Ripon College
Ripon Wisconsin, 54971.

Rocky Mountain Council for Latin American Studies. Brigham Young
University, Provo, Utah
April 24, 25, 1970

Theme: The Impact of Modernization on Latin America. Organizer: Lyman S. Shreeve, President of RMCLAS. Brigham Young University. Provo, Utah.

Latin Americanist Geographers
Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana
April 30–May 3 1970

Theme of this meeting was: The Future of Geographic Research in Latin America. Panel sessions covered the following topics: 1) Ecology; 2) Indian and Peasant Cultures; 3) Population and Settlement; 4) Commercial Primary Activities; 5) Data Collection and Numerical Analysis; 6) Spatial Factors and Development Planning; 7) Neglected Fields #1—physical, political, medical and recreational; 8) Neglected Fields #2—urban, industrial, and transportation. Chairman of the Executive Committee was Barry Lentnek, Secretary Robert N. Thomas. The following were chosen as chairmen of the respective panels: 1) Charles F. Bennett, UCLA; 2) William M. Denevan, Wisconsin-Madison and Oscar H. Horst, Western Michigan; 3) Robert L. Nunley, Kansas; 4) Don R. Hoy, Georgia and Clarence W. Minkel, Michigan State; 5) David A. Hill, Colorado; 7) Dieter Brunnschweiler, Michigan State and 8) Howard L. Gauthrie, Ohio State. Details from the Secretary, Dept. of Geography, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

15th Seminar on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials Inc.
Toronto, Canada. June 23–26, 1970

Special attention was given to Latin American materials for research in the social sciences and legal fields in Latin America.

Other sessions dealt with progress made in the past year in the areas of acquisitions, bibliography, exchange of publications, photo-duplication of Latin American materials, official publications and the book trade. The program and working papers for the meeting were planned by a committee composed of President-elect Carl Deal, Dr. A. Curtis Wilgus, Glenn Read and Donald Wisdom. Further information from Carl W. Deal, Acting Director for the Center of Latin American Studies, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois 61801.

Future Meetings

Association of Caribbean Universities—Full Meeting.

Caracas, June 1970.

Information from: Institute of Caribbean Studies, University of Puerto Rico, Río Piedras, Puerto Rico.

34th Congreso Internacional de Americanistas.

Lima, Peru, 2–9 August 1970.

Information: Comisión Organizadora. c/o Dr. Duccio Bonavia, Horacio Urteaga 694. Lima, Peru.

8th Inter-American Planning Congress

Salvador-Bahia, Brazil. September 13–18, 1970. Comitê de Organização. Alameda Itu 657, 287–1305. São Paulo 5 Brazil.

7th World Congress of Sociology

14–19, September 1970. Varna, Bulgaria. Sponsored by the International Association of Sociologists. General theme: Contemporary Societies, and Future Societies: Prognostic, Social Planning and Planned Development.

Midwest Association for Latin American Studies.

University of Nebraska, October 1–3, 1970. Theme: The Role of the Latin American Military in Government. Information from Roberto Esquenzi-Mayo. Institute for Latin American and Colonial Studies, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508.

Southern Historical Association Meeting.

Louisville, Kentucky, October 1970. Program topics will include: 1) Paraguay, Brazil and the Río de la Plata in the 19th century; 2) Brazilian Foreign Policy, 20th century; 3) Latin American Radicalism, 20th century; 4) Interpretations of 19th century political history; 5) The Free Negro—Colonial and Modern. Organizer is David Bushnell of the University of Florida.

38th American Assembly.

Arden House, Harriman, New York. October 29th–November 1st 1970.

Theme: The U.S. and the Caribbean. Social, political, economic and military relations between the U.S. and the Caribbean islands will be examined. Clifford C. Nelson is the organizer.

Inter American Specialized Conference on Human Rights.

San José, Costa Rica.

Was due to be held in September, but has now been postponed until November 7–22, 1970 by the OAS Council.

2nd Annual Gulf Coast History and Humanities Conference.

Pensacola, Florida. December 4–5, 1970.

Write to Dr. E. F. Dibble, Chairman, Department of History, Gamma College, University of West Florida, Pensacola, Florida 32504. Topic: The Gulf Coast during the Americanization Period.

16th Meeting of Seminars on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials. (SALALM)

Mexico, June 15–18, 1971.

After 1971 annual meetings will be held on alternate years in the U.S. and a country of Latin America.