Race Relations in the Portuguese Colonial Empire 1415-1825

C. R. BOXER

Professor Boxer examines race relations in Morocco and West Africa, India, Brazil, and the Maranhão, and investigates the Portuguese claim that they never had a colour-bar nor exercised a policy of race discrimination. '... a masterly piece of work. It is also a political tract—in the best sense of the word—which is both timely and scholarly.'

A Political History of Ghana

*The Rise of Gold Coast Nationalism
1850-1928*

DAVID KIMBLE

'... a masterly exercise in the scaling of an Everest of detail and the safe descent therefrom. Out of this well-written narrative comes a solid yet exciting sense of historical experience, of the passage of many kinds of people from a traditional to a modern world; and any common reader with the time to spare will enjoy the journey.' ## Documents and Speeches on Commonwealth Affairs 1952-1962

EDITED BY NICHOLAS MANSERGH

'... a triumph of compression, selection, and arrangement—the hardest parts of editing—and it contains the material from which a whole phase of history can be deduced.' THE TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT. Among the principal topics illustrated by the documents is Cyprus, treated at considerable length, and the latest document is De Gaulle's démarche of January 1963. ★ 84s. net

The Letters of

CAPTAIN WILLIAM BRAGGE

Third (King's Own) Dragoons

EDITED BY S. A. C. CASSELS

'They are alive with glimpses of what campaigning with Wellington was like and their editor, Commander Cassels, has unobtrusively done a first-rate job. Choice and reproduction of illustrations is up to the high level of the textual editing.' THE TIMES

Free Trade in Books

*A Study of the London Book Trade
since 1800*

J. J. BARNES

This is mainly a study of Victorian book-selling and publishing, with emphasis on trade organization and resale price maintenance. Events leading to and following the passage of the Net Book Agreement in 1899, including the upholding of it in 1962, are discussed. ★ 30s net

Social Leaders and Public Persons

A Study of County Government in Cheshire since 1888

J. M. LEE

'... an important, sensible and highly readable book about the passing of political power from the gentlemen of Cheshire.'
