BECOMING FREE, BECOMING BLACK

ALEJANDRO DE LA FUENTE
Harvard University

ARIELA J. GROSS
University of Southern California

"Becoming Free, Becoming Black is a brilliant study of the making of race in the New World. Deeply researched, insightful, and smoothly written, this book is a major contribution to the scholarly literature on slavery and the way it shaped, and was shaped by, attitudes about people of African descent."

ANNETTE GORDON-REED, Charles Warren Professor of American Legal History, Harvard University, and author of The Hemingses of Monticello: An American Family