

THE
MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION
OF AMERICA.

Proceedings at Boston, December 29, 30,
1885.

BALTIMORE:
1886.

NOTE.

The Modern Language Association purposes to publish from time to time, independently of the Annual Proceedings of the Society, and in the form of a series of papers that shall be known as "The Modern Language Series," such matter as may, in the judgment of the Executive Council, serve to call attention to the aims of the Association. Three numbers of this Series have already appeared: No I, "A Plea for a Liberal Education," by Prof. James King Newton, of Oberlin College; No II, "The Preparatory Schools and the Modern Language Equivalent for the Greek," by Prof. Charles E. Fay, of Tufts College; No III, "Observations on the Academic Study of Romance Philology," by Prof. Gustav Körting. (Translated from the German, with the author's approval, by Dr. Henry A. Todd, of the Johns Hopkins University). Every member of the Association is entitled to one copy of each number of this publication, and also to one copy each of the Society's PROCEEDINGS and TRANSACTIONS. Additional copies are supplied, at five cents, each, for the Series, fifty cents for the Proceedings and one dollar for the Transactions, by the Secretary of the Association.
