Financial History Review

Contents

Articles

Andrew Odlyzko
Economically irrational pricing of nineteenth-century British government bonds 277

Christopher Hoag
Clearinghouse loan certificates as interbank loans in the United States, 1860–1913 303

Mikio Ito, Kiyotaka Maeda and Akihiko Noda
Market efficiency and government interventions in prewar Japanese rice futures markets 325

Jelten Y. P. Baguet
Social change and markets for urban credit: political elites as investors in urban annuities in sixteenth-century Ghent 347
Financial History Review

EDITORS
S. Ballmann, Department of Social Sciences, Università Cattolica Sv. Maria, Angera Guide
(Madrid), Spain
B. P. Estates, Department of Economics, University of Oxford, Oxford OX1 3QY, UK

BIBLIOGRAPHERS
S. Notter & A. Krieger, European University Institute, Baeza Fossati, 50068 San Remo (Finale), Italy

EDITORIAL ADVISORY PANEL
O. Accomazzo, London School of Economics and Political Science
C. Barlow, University of York
Y. Cao, European University Institute
E. Chiappori, University of California, Berkeley
M. Hamideh, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva
P.C. Haultoucq, Paris School of Economics
H. James, Princeton University
A. Kanda, University of Tokyo
C. Meinert, University of California, Davis
K. Mühlenber, University of Hertfordshire
A. Murphree, Harvard Business School
L. Neal, National University of Ireland, Galway

SUBMISSIONS
Submission of an article will be deemed to constitute acceptance of the Copyright Statement.

Financial History Review (ISSN 0968-5650) is published three times a year in April, August and December.

The journal is registered with the Copyright Licensing Agency.

Copyright © Cambridge University Press 1994. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any form without permission in writing from Cambridge University Press.

Copying
Organisations and individuals are encouraged to photocopy articles for private and non-commercial use. Copies should not be loaned or sold or used in a public lending right scheme.

Contact: Cambridge University Press, The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge University Press, 50, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 2RU, UK. Offices in the USA and Canada: 32 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10013, USA. Details of Cambridge University Press's worldwide agency offices are available from the publisher.

Cambridge University Press's worldwide agency offices are a separate legal entity and have no responsibility for or control over information maintained on this journal.

Information on

Printed in the United Kingdom by Bell & Bain Ltd, Glasgow.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

EDITORIAL POLICY

Financial History Review is published by Cambridge University Press on behalf of the European Association for Banking and Financial History e.V. It is devoted to the publication of articles of historical, economic and financial interest relating to banking, finance, insurance, and financial institutions. The Review is international in scope, covering topics from different perspectives, including theoretically inspired approaches, advanced empirical studies, and the interactions between history, finance, policy, and society. The Review particularly encourages contributions from younger scholars.

Articles should normally be of 5,000 words including footnotes, tables, and other illustrative material. (A graph or occupying a page is deemed equivalent to 500 words.) The journal is published in English and contributions should be submitted in that language. Articles written in any other language than English are encouraged to have an English summary and their manuscript submitted to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.

SUBMISSIONS

Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page: http://journals.cambridge.org/FHR. Authors are required to upload:

1. A main manuscript conforming to the style, format, and length requirements of the journal. The original manuscript file and a sample PDF must be submitted. Authors are requested to upload a word or PDF version of their manuscript.

2. Publication notes at the end of the original manuscript, conforming to the requirements of the journal.

3. A self-contained table of contents conforming to the requirements of the journal.

4. A detailed copy of the manuscript. The cover page of the manuscript should include the following: article title; abstract (max. 200 words); 3-5 key words; institutional affiliation(s); JEL codes. Please note that you should supply a WORD file of each document for the final text. The journal makes use of standard reference management software in order to facilitate the production of bibliographical references, appendices, and a single document in PDF for Tables and Figures.

Authors will receive a PDF offprint of their published article. Proofs will be sent to authors for-check and approval before publication. The journal aims to secure a rapid publication date for accepted papers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.

SUBMISSIONS

Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page: http://journals.cambridge.org/FHR. Authors are required to upload:

1. A main manuscript conforming to the style, format, and length requirements of the journal. The original manuscript file and a sample PDF must be submitted. Authors are requested to upload a word or PDF version of their manuscript.

2. Publication notes at the end of the original manuscript, conforming to the requirements of the journal.

3. A self-contained table of contents conforming to the requirements of the journal.

4. A detailed copy of the manuscript. The cover page of the manuscript should include the following: article title; abstract (max. 200 words); 3-5 key words; institutional affiliation(s); JEL codes. Please note that you should supply a WORD file of each document for the final text. The journal makes use of standard reference management software in order to facilitate the production of bibliographical references, appendices, and a single document in PDF for Tables and Figures.

Authors will receive a PDF offprint of their published article. Proofs will be sent to authors for-check and approval before publication. The journal aims to secure a rapid publication date for accepted papers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.

SUBMISSIONS

Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page: http://journals.cambridge.org/FHR. Authors are required to upload:

1. A main manuscript conforming to the style, format, and length requirements of the journal. The original manuscript file and a sample PDF must be submitted. Authors are requested to upload a word or PDF version of their manuscript.

2. Publication notes at the end of the original manuscript, conforming to the requirements of the journal.

3. A self-contained table of contents conforming to the requirements of the journal.

4. A detailed copy of the manuscript. The cover page of the manuscript should include the following: article title; abstract (max. 200 words); 3-5 key words; institutional affiliation(s); JEL codes. Please note that you should supply a WORD file of each document for the final text. The journal makes use of standard reference management software in order to facilitate the production of bibliographical references, appendices, and a single document in PDF for Tables and Figures.

Authors will receive a PDF offprint of their published article. Proofs will be sent to authors for-check and approval before publication. The journal aims to secure a rapid publication date for accepted papers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.

SUBMISSIONS

Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page: http://journals.cambridge.org/FHR. Authors are required to upload:

1. A main manuscript conforming to the style, format, and length requirements of the journal. The original manuscript file and a sample PDF must be submitted. Authors are requested to upload a word or PDF version of their manuscript.

2. Publication notes at the end of the original manuscript, conforming to the requirements of the journal.

3. A self-contained table of contents conforming to the requirements of the journal.

4. A detailed copy of the manuscript. The cover page of the manuscript should include the following: article title; abstract (max. 200 words); 3-5 key words; institutional affiliation(s); JEL codes. Please note that you should supply a WORD file of each document for the final text. The journal makes use of standard reference management software in order to facilitate the production of bibliographical references, appendices, and a single document in PDF for Tables and Figures.

Authors will receive a PDF offprint of their published article. Proofs will be sent to authors for-check and approval before publication. The journal aims to secure a rapid publication date for accepted papers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.

SUBMISSIONS

Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page: http://journals.cambridge.org/FHR. Authors are required to upload:

1. A main manuscript conforming to the style, format, and length requirements of the journal. The original manuscript file and a sample PDF must be submitted. Authors are requested to upload a word or PDF version of their manuscript.

2. Publication notes at the end of the original manuscript, conforming to the requirements of the journal.

3. A self-contained table of contents conforming to the requirements of the journal.

4. A detailed copy of the manuscript. The cover page of the manuscript should include the following: article title; abstract (max. 200 words); 3-5 key words; institutional affiliation(s); JEL codes. Please note that you should supply a WORD file of each document for the final text. The journal makes use of standard reference management software in order to facilitate the production of bibliographical references, appendices, and a single document in PDF for Tables and Figures.

Authors will receive a PDF offprint of their published article. Proofs will be sent to authors for-check and approval before publication. The journal aims to secure a rapid publication date for accepted papers. Authors are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary review prior to submission.
Contents

Articles

Andrew Odlyzko
Economically irrational pricing of nineteenth-century British government bonds 277

Christopher Hoag
Clearinghouse loan certificates as interbank loans in the United States, 1860–1913 303

Mikio Ito, Kiyotaka Maeda and Akihiko Noda
Market efficiency and government interventions in prewar Japanese rice futures markets 325

Jelten Y. P. Baguet
Social change and markets for urban credit: political elites as investors in urban annuities in sixteenth-century Ghent 347