absentee landlords, 46, 70, 292n16
Abul Fazl, 94
accounts: completeness of Medici bank’s, 160 agricultural land: holdings in Attica, 28; mortgages in Attica on, 28; taxation of (Abbasid caliphate), 75; taxation of (Roman Empire), 49–50 agriculture: cooperation between capital and labor in, 70–1; in Elizabethan England, 173, 175, 177, 184; in Florentine Republic, 150; in Japan, 124, 141; national product and (Abbasid caliphate), 68; see also financing agriculture aid to the poor, 271n14; see also annona; poverty Akbar, 94, 115
Amsterdam, 198, 199; commodity exchange in, 217; stock exchange in, 3; trading houses in, 224; wealth in, 203, 204–5, 207, 208
Amsterdamse Wisselbank, 214–16
Anatolia, 81
animals, price in Attica, 21
annona, 51
Arabs in Abbasid caliphate, 271n7 armed forces: paid by nobles in Mughal India, 105; recruitment in Ottoman Empire, 8–9; zamindars’ expenditures for, 119; see also expenditures; military pay assaying, 112
assets: of Amsterdamse Wisselbank, 215; Dutch foreign, 203; Florentine movable, 156; of Medici bank, 158–60
Athens, 16–17
Attica, 16, 17–20
auctions, Roman public, 267n59
Augustus, 34, 36, 37, 47, 49, 50
Baghdad, 62, 75
Bairoch, P., 132
balance of payments: Athenian, 30; between Osaka and Edo, 140 balance sheet(s): Elizabethan England, 195–7; Florentine Republic, 169–70; national comparisons, 57–8; national premodern, 233; Roman Empire, 56–9 balance of trade, 240; in Roman Empire, 47 Balkan provinces of Ottoman Empire, 81 bankers: in Athens, 27; in Florence, 155, 157–62; in Mughal India, 112; in Roman Empire, 43, 44; in Tokugawa Japan, 139; without banks, 68 banking, international, 158 banks, 239; in ancient Mesopotamia, 14; in Athens, 27, 28; in Florence, 157–8, 160–2; in Osaka, 140; private (Ottoman Empire), 88; profits of Medici, 161–2; in United Provinces, 214–17 barley: consumption of, 11, 29; as means of payment in Mesopotamia, 12; silver price of (Mesopotamia), 13 bills of exchange, 1–2, 162, 186, 188, 215; see also Hundis Black Death, 145, 171
bonds: government, 2, 3, 239; privately issued, 213, 239 book credit, 162, 186
booty, 41, 42, 66, 72
borrowing by individuals, 243 borrowing by state, Peloponnesian War and, 33 bullion: fees for minting, 179; held by Amsterdamse Wisselbank, 215 Bursa, 84
business organization, 163 business records in Florence, 157

Cairo, 82
capital: aggregate Athenian, 22; credit for, 186; for domestic and foreign trade (1600, in England), 186; for international trade, 188; narrowness of market for (Elizabethan England), 195; remuneration for use of (Islam), 69–70 capital expenditures: in Florence, 164; in Mughal India, 100–1; in Tokugawa Japan, 133; in United Provinces, 202–3 capital formation, 240; external financing of private, 244; rate of (Mughal India), 101; rate of (in Roman Empire), 36; rate of (Tokugawa Japan), 132–3; in United Provinces, 202–3 castasto: see property census checks, 140, 162
Christians: as moneylenders, 68; in Ottoman Empire, 81; recruitment and conversion to Islam, 80–1 church: bankers and, 160; interest loans and, 163 cities: in Abbasid caliphate, 62; in Elizabethan England, 171–2; in Mughal India, 97; in Ottoman Empire, 81–2, 84; in Roman Empire, 34; in Tokugawa Japan, 127–9; in United Provinces, 202, 203, 205, 208–9, 211; see also urbanization civil servants, recruitment in Ottoman Empire, 80–1 claims against financial institutions, 2 Claudius, 48
coins: absence of fixed relations between, 66; absence of (Mesopotamia), 236; akche, 86, 87; ashrafi, 86; asper, 86; Athenian gold, 31; Athenian silver, 25–6; aureus, 37; banco guilder, 212, 238; bronze, 65, 66, 232; Byzantine, 65; of caliphs, 65; cho-gin, 136; copper, 37, 65, 67, 86, 137, 157, 211, 237; crown, 179; daalder, 212; dam, 110; dareik, 27; denarius, 37; deterioration of (from 17th century on), 216; dinar, 65, 66; dirham, 65; double stuiver, 212; drachma, 18–19, 25; ducat, 86, 212; duit, 212;
Index

Dutch Leeuwendaalder, 86; in Egypt, 40, 263n14; esedi ku-rus, 86; exchange rates among, 236, 237; florin, (Dutch), 212; florin (Florentine), 156–7, 237; fluctuation values of, 212; fulus, 65; gold (in Abbasid caliphate), 65–8; gold doubloons, 212; gold (in Elizabethan England), 179; gold (in Florence), 156–7; gold (in Japan), 135–7; gold (in Ottoman Empire), 86; gold (in Persia), 27; gold (in United Provinces), 211–13; groot, 212; guilder, 212; half-penny, 179; held by Amsterdamse Wisselbank, 215; imported and exported (United Provinces), 213; imported into Ottoman Empire, 86; Islamic standard, 65; Japanese common copper, 137; kara kuru, 86; kruisghdaalder, 212; leeuwendaalder, 212; mameita gin, 136–7; mohur, 110; in Mughal India, 110–12, 284n43; nomisma, 65; not legal tender, 37, 237; in Ottoman Empire, 86–7; pence, 179; penning, 212; Persian gold, 27; piastre, 86; Ptolemaic, 40; real (pieces of eight), 212; recoinage of, 66, 136, 178, 238; rijksdaalder, 212; Roman, 37, 38, 39, 40–2, 264n24; ryo, 135; Sassanid, 65; schilling, 212; sestertius, 37; shekel, 12–13; shilling, 179; silver (Abbasid caliphate), 65–8; silver (Elizabethan England), 179; silver (Florence), 157; silver (India), 237; silver (Japan), 136–7; silver (Ottoman Empire), 86; silver (United Provinces), 211–12; soldi, 157; sources of metal for, 38, 40, 66, 67, 87, 135, 136, 178, 180, 238, 259n38; Spanish pieces of eight reales, 86; stuivers, 212; Venetian ducat in Ottoman Empire, 86; volume in Elizabethan England, 180; yen, 135; see also cowrie shells; money colonies of Athens, 17 commercial transactions and activities: book money for substantial, 212; in Ottoman Empire, 89 commodities: important Roman domestic, 46; price movements in Elizabethan England, 181; in United Provinces, 198, 224 confiscations in Abbasid caliphate, 74–5 consumer credit and financing: in Elizabethan England, 188–9, 196; Florentine interest rates on, 163; in Mughal India, 115; in Roman Empire, 57; in United Provinces, 213 corporate stocks (shares), 2, 214 Council of 500 (boule) in Athens, 33 countries, differences in sizes of, 230 cowrie shells: as change, 237; rupee value of, 284n45 credit: in Abbasid caliphate, 71; in agriculture, 113, 185–6, 301n45; for capital, 186; foreign trade and, 29, 115, 236, 240; among Japanese merchants, 139; in Ottoman Empire, 88–9; urbanization and, 231; see also consumer credit and financing; trade credit credit balances of Medici bank, 158 currency: of account, 157; international, 157; see also coins; money
Index

customs duties, 249; in Abbasid caliphate, 72; Athenian, 32; in Egypt, 92; in Elizabethan England, 191–2; in Mughal India, 120; Roman, 50, 53 daimyos, 126, 129–31, 143 dates cited, 230
debasement: England, 178, 181, 238; Roman Empire, 37, 42 debts: agricultural (Mughal India), 114; business, 163–4; English peers and crown (in 1603), 197; household, 164; Mesopotamia, 14; of tenants to landlords (Roman Empire), 43; see also financing entries; public debt Delian Confederacy, 26, 31 demand notes, 195
deposit certificates, 140
deposits: in Amsterdamse Wisselbank, 215; in Medici bank, 160 dividends, 214
drachma, 18–19, 25, 256n18
duties, see customs duties East India Company (VOC), 188, 221–2; see also United East India Company economic development, 199; differences in levels of, 230; financial superstructure and, 5–6 economy: financial superstructure of, 1; financing nonagricultural private (Mughal India), 114–15; financing the private, 243
Edirne (Adrianople), 84
Edo, 140
Egypt, 34; ancient population of, 11; bankers in, 44; budget of (during Ottoman Empire), 91–3; coins in, 263n14; export of wheat from, 45; government revenue during Ottoman Empire, 83; interest rates in, 45; main source of revenue in, 92; mints in, 67; monetary system of, 38; revenues per inhabitant under Abbasid caliphate, 78; tax collection during Ottoman Empire, 90
Elizabeth, outstanding achievements of, 178 Europe, most important financial center in Western, 145 exchange rates between silver and gold in Tokugawa Japan, 140 expenditures: consumption, 149; on public buildings and monuments in Athens, 22 exports: Athenian, 29, 30; Elizabethan England, 187–8; Mesopotamia, 12; prohibition of, 50; Roman, 53; taxes on (United Provinces), 224, 226; of United Provinces, 224; urban (Roman Empire), 46; see also customs duties farmers: land of tenant (Elizabethan England), 300n39; nonagricultural activities of Japanese, 126 feneratores, see moneylenders (in Roman Empire) feudal states, 247, 248, 249 fiefs: awarded by Shogun, 123; Japanese, 130–1; in Ottoman Empire, 85–6, 90 financial administration in Mughal India, 116–20 financial assets: in Florence, 156; ownership of, 233; of Roman Empire, 57; use of, 233 financial infrastructure: ancient Near East, 10; financial superstructure and, 6; Roman, 59 financial institutions and organizations: in Abbasid caliphate, 68–9; in Athens, 27; in coun-

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. IP address: 54.70.40.11, on 09 Dec 2019 at 11:54:34, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/CBO9780511895630 tries with rudimentary financial systems, 231; in more developed financial systems, 231; in Elizabethan England, 183; in Florence, 157–8, 160–2; most important 17th century, 214; Islamic, 68–9; in Mughal India, 112–13; in Ottoman Empire, 88; in Roman Empire, 43–4; in Tokugawa Japan, 139–40; types of, 2; in United Provinces, 214–17; see also banks; deposits (banks) financial instruments: in Abbasid caliphate, 69; in Attica, 27–8; in countries with larger and more developed financial systems, 231; in Elizabethan England, 183; long-time, 2, 240; in Mughal India, 112; oldest, 1; in Ottoman Empire, 87–8; premodern period, 1, 239, 240; in Roman Empire, 43, 265n32; in Tokugawa Japan, 139–40; in United Provinces, 213–14; use of, 233 financial interrelations ratio(s), 7, 57, 169, 233 financial markets, 3

financial structure(s): Abbasid caliphate, 241; of cases cited, 231; changes over time, 251; Elizabethan England, 242–3; Florentine Republic, 242; Mughal India, 242; Ottoman Empire, 241–2; Roman, 241; Tokugawa Japan, 242; United Provinces, 243 financial superstructure: economic development and, 5–6; of economy, 1; foreign trade share of national product and, 236; Mesopotamia, 15; Roman, 59 financial systems, 3–4, 5; attempts to quantify characteristics of, 6; comparisons among, 7–8, 58–9, 250–1; connections and influence among, 249–50; defined, 1; development of, 249–50; feudal, 247; premodern, 230; rudimentary, 231; sophisticated, 212 financing agriculture: in Abbasid caliphate, 70–1; in Attica, 28–9; in Elizabethan England, 183–6; in Mughal India, 113–14; in Ottoman Empire, 87–8; in Roman Empire, 45; in Tokugawa Japan, 141–2; in United Provinces, 218 financing domestic trade: in Abbasid caliphate, 71–2; in Elizabethan England, 186; in Florence, 163–4; in Mughal India, 112, 114–15; in Roman Empire, 45–6; in United Provinces, 213, 215, 219; see also consumer credit, and financing; credit; trade credit financing foreign trade: in Abbasid caliphate, 72; in Attica and Athens, 29–31; in Elizabethan England, 187–8; in Mughal India, 112, 115; in Ottoman Empire, 89; in Roman Empire, 46–7; in United Provinces, 223–5 financing government: Abbasid caliphate, 72–6, 78–9; Athens, 31–3; Elizabethan England, 189–95; Florence, 164–9; Mughal India, 115–22; Ottoman Empire, 89–93; Roman Empire, 47–56; Tokugawa Japan, 142–4; United Provinces, 226–8 financing manufacturing in Athens, 29 financing nonagricultural private economy in Mughal India, 114–15 food: distributed gratis to Roman plebs, 5; England’s self-sufficiency in, 184; expenditures for, 63, 149; Indian consumption of, 64; main (Abbasid caliphate), 64; see also grain; names of specific foods foreign assets, Dutch, 203 foreign creditors of English crown, 195 foreigners: in Elizabethan England, 172, 187; role in financial activities, 246; sales to (in Florence), 168 foreign exchange, profits from, 161 foreign lending and borrowing, 246 foreign trade: of Abbasid caliphate, 72; Japanese, 124; Roman, 46–7; share of national product, 236; size of country and importance of, 236; in Tokugawa Japan, 124; of United Provinces, 213, 216, 217, 219–25; see also financing foreign trade; trade Friesland, 199

futures trading, 217
gemstones, 72
Genoa, 145
geographic distances, 230
Gini ratio, 233; Amsterdam, 204; Elizabethan England, 176; Florentine Republic, 153–4 gold: in ancient Mesopotamia, 13, 236; from Christian religious establishments, 66, 72; as a commodity, 236; in Elizabethan England, 180; hoards of, 23; imports and exports of, 47, 66, 72, 111; parity ratio with silver in Rome, 37; price of (Florence), 146, 150; production in Roman Empire, 41, 42; relation to silver, 37, 110; to settle negative trade balance, 47, 72; sources of, 67, 87; see also coins; mines; monetary systems; precious metals; gold equivalent to national product comparisons, 232–3 Gouda, concentration of wealth in, 205 government: balance between expenditures and revenues of Roman, 52; borrowing by Elizabeth’s, 194; borrowing by (United Provinces), 248; centralization and control in Japanese, 123; comparative figures for revenues and expenditures of, 55–6; debt of Elizabeth’s, 248; Elizabethan England’s small, 189, 194; expenditures of (Abbasid caliphate), 79; expenditures of Elizabeth’s, 193–4; expenditures of Florentine, 164–9; expenditures of (Ottoman Empire), 90; expenditures of Roman, 48–9, 51–6; finances of municipal (Roman Empire), 56; income of Florentine, 164–9; revenues of Abbasid caliphate, 75–6, 78–9; revenues of Ottoman, 89–92; revenues of Roman, 49–56; see also financing government government securities, 2, 3, 214; see also public debt grain: annual consumption in Attica, 18, 29; annual production (Athens), 19; olive crop value vs. crop value of, 261n48; Roman imports of, 45–6; United Provinces’ imports of, 224; see also barley; wheat grain land: prices in Attica, 20–1; prices in Mesopotamia, 13 guilds in Florence, 150
Index

Hague, The, wealth in, 208
Hammurabi’s Law, 15
Harrod formula, 203
herring exported by United Provinces, 224 Holland, 199, 226, 227
household debt, 164
houses: in Attica, 21; in Florence, 292n19
hundis, 112
hylophantism, 179–80
hypolepsy, 179–80
ibn Amram, Aron, 68
ibn Phineas, Joseph, 68
Ieyasu, 129, 130, 135
immigration: into Attica, 17; United Provinces and, 199
imports: of Abbasid caliphate, 72;
Athenian, 29–30; of Elizabe-
than England, 187–8; India’s,
47; Japan’s, 47; Mesopotamia,
12; Roman, 47, 53; taxes on
(United Provinces), 224, 226;
of United Provinces, 224; see also customs duties income: agricultural (Abbasid caliphate), 64; breakdown by Athenian, 29–30; of Elizabe-
than England, 187–8; India’s,
47; Japan’s, 47; Mesopotamia,
12; Roman, 47, 53; taxes on
(United Provinces), 224, 226;
of United Provinces, 224; see also national income of income property in Florence, 147–8
income tax, substitute for (Athens), 33
inflation: in Abbasid caliphate, 270n2, 270n4; in 3rd century, 42 insurance: Islamic prohibition of,
68; maritime, 112, 163, 183, 217
interest: burden of government debt’s (United Provinces), 228; inflation, 270n2, 270n4; in Elizabethan England, 177; Muslim prohibition of, 70, 87, 88–9, 241, 245 interest rates, 43, 246; in Abbasid caliphate, 69–70, 245; in Attica and Athens, 26–7, 244; compounding, 15; consumer credit vs. trade credit, 1; in Elizabethan England, 181,
183, 245; in Florence, 163,
245; Mesopotamia, 14–15,
244; in Mughal India, 115,
245; in Ottoman Empire, 245;
in Roman Empire, 44–5, 245;
significance of, 7; in Tokugawa Japan, 139, 245; in United Provinces, 217–18, 245
internal revenue, Athenian, 32, 33 international trade; see foreign trade; trade investment: in Elizabethan England, 175–6, 186; internally financed, 239; policies discouraging (Mughal India), 121; volume of private, 244
Islam: Abbasid caliphate and, 60, 61; conscription and conversion to (Ottoman Empire), 80–1; golden age of civilization of, 270n2; influence on taxes of converting to, 72, 74, 76–7;
interest and loans and, 69–70,
Islam (cont.)
87, 88–9, 241, 245; see also Moslems

Istanbul, concentration of wealth in, 84–5

Italy, most important financial center in, 145

jagirs, 117–18

janissaries, 80; wages of, 82

joint-stock companies, 188

King, Gregory, 174–7

labor force: agricultural (Mughal India), 96; Roman, 35; urban (Mughal India), 96, 99; see also slaves land: agricultural (Elizabethan England), 177, 184–6; assessments on (Mughal India), 117; in balance sheet of Roman Empire, 56; distribution of (Japan), 130–2; distribution of revenues from tax on (Mughal India), 117–19; expected yield of investments in (Attica), 27; imperial Roman, 51, 54; income from Crown (England), 191, 192; ownership in Mughal India, 113; private, 22; revenue from (Mughal India), 99–100; revenue from taxes on (Mughal India), 105–6; taken from religious institutions, 192; tax-exempt (Mughal India), 98, 118; taxes on, 49–51, 72–4, 89–90, 92, 98, 116; total value in Roman Empire, 45; value in Attica, 28; see also agricultural land; grain land land reclamation in United Provinces, 202 lawyers, incomes of Florentine, 155–6 legal tender in Roman Empire, 37, 38; see also coins; cowrie shells; monetary system; money

Leiden, concentration of wealth in, 205 lenders: non-Muslim, 68, 70; rewards to (Abbasid caliphate), 79 letters of credit, 68, 71 liabilities of Medici bank, 160

linen industry, 208

loans: in Abbasid caliphate, 69–70; in absence of institutional lenders, 218; in Athens, 27; bankers’, 44; barley as medium for, 14; bottomry, 28, 30–1, 43, 45, 112, 188; church’s prohibition of interest on, 163; consumer, 43, 44, 188–9, 218; for dowries, 28; of Medici bank, 158, 160, 161; in Mughal India, 113; by non-Muslims, 68, 70; nonproductive, 243; repudiated by government, 249; in Roman Empire, 43; short-term consumer, 43, 44; short-term (Ottoman Empire), 87–8; silver as medium for, 14; see also credit; debt; interest rates; mortgages local governments: borrowing by, 249; finances of (Mughal India), 122; taxes, 226–7

London, 171, 192

manors, 184, 301n43, 301n44 mansabdars, troops paid by, 116; see also nobles in India manufacturing, 29

Medici bank, 145, 157–62

Merchants Adventurers, 187–8

Mesopotamia, 10, 11, 12–13, 14

military expenditures, 249; Abbasid caliphate, 79; Athenian, 31; Florence, 146, 164, 166, 295n43; gross national product and United Kingdom's, 296n45; in Japan after 1615, 143, 289n16; Mughal India, 116, 121, 122, 287n65; national product and pre-industrial societies', 296n45; Roman, 49, 51, 52; Roman veterans' separation payments, 48, 50; of United Provinces, 226 military pay, 255n11; Abbasid caliphate, 79; Roman Empire, 38, 51, 52; separation (Rome), 48, 50, 51, 53; see also armed forces mines, 38; gradual exhaustion of Roman gold and silver, 42; Japanese gold and silver, 135, 136–7; of Laureion, 25–6, 32, 259n38; silver, 25–6 minting: in Abbasid caliphate, 67; fees for, 179; in Japan, 135–6; in Roman Empire, 37, 38; seignorage on, 37, 67 mints, 236; in Abbasid caliphate, 67; in England, 179; in Florentine Republic, 294n34; in Ottoman Empire, 87 monetization: in ancient Mesopotamia, 13; increase in Roman Empire, 41; indication of degree of, 7; in Tokugawa Japan, 124 monetary metals in Attica, 22–3; see also coins; gold; silver; precious metals monetary policy: Elizabethan England, 180; narrow scope for Roman, 42; United Provinces, 212 monetary system: of Abbasid caliphate, 65–8; of Athens, 25–6; of Elizabethan England, 178–80; of Florentine Republic, 156–7; Japanese trimetallic, 137; of Mughal India, 110–12; of Ottoman Empire, 86–7; regionalization of Japanese, 138; of Roman Empire, 36–42, 59; of Tokugawa Japan, 135–8; two currency (in United Provinces), 212; of United Provinces, 211–13; see also coins money: of account, 212; ancient Mesopotamia, 12–13; book, 212; in circulation in Elizabethan England, 179–80; in circulation in United Provinces, 212–13; form in circulation, 236; as hoarded store of wealth, 42; inverse of income velocity of, 7; metallic, 2; paper, 2, 137–8, 237; rice as, 124; stock of (at death of Augustus), 41; supply in relation to national product, 238; transfers of, 68, 112, 216; velocity of circulation of, 41–2, 111, 157, 238, 294n33; see also coins; currency money changers, 2, 249; in Abbasid caliphate, 66, 68; in Florence, 158; in Mughal India, 112; need for, 27, 66, 236; in Ottoman Empire, 88; in Roman Empire, 43; in Tokugawa Japan, 139, 140, 237 money lenders: in Elizabethan England, 189; in Florence, 158, 163; in Mughal India, 112, 114; in Roman Empire, 43; see also bankers; banks; credit; loans monometallism, first example of, 236–7

Monte: claims against, 162, 167–8; creditors’ actions against, 297n53; as Florence’s central financial institution, 297n50; shareholders in, 297n54

Monte delle Dote, 168
mortgages, 2, 3; on agricultural land in Attica, 28; in Elizabethan England, 189; in Roman Empire, 43, 45, 57; in Tokugawa Japan, 139; in United Provinces, 213, 218

Moslems: in Mughal India, 95; wakfs (trusts) for, 68–9

Muslims: loans among, 69; in Ottoman Empire, 81; see also Islam national income of Ottoman Empire, 82–6 national product: of Abbasid caliphate, 62–5; of Attica, 17–20; comparisons of, 133–5; of Elizabethan England, 173–8; estimates of, 6–7; of Florence, 146, 147–50; of Florentine Republic, 148; gold values of, 35, 134; government expenditures and Athenian, 32; inventories and, 293n21; money supply in relation to, 238; of Mughal India, 97–105; of Ottoman Empire, 83; ratio of stock of money to, 7, 67–8; relative size of, 7; of Roman Empire, 35–6; share of government revenues in, 105; of Tokugawa Japan, 132–5; of United Provinces, 200–3 national product deflators, 101 national product per head: in Attica, 256n17; average gross, 256n17; comparative figures for, 101–3, 134; estimating, 232; estimating rate of growth of, 233 national wealth: of Attica, 20–3; of Elizabethan England, 173, 177–8; of Ottoman Empire, 82–6; structure of, 233; of United Provinces, 203–4

naval vessels, Athenian, 262n70; see also warships

Near East: coinage in, 10; economic infrastructure data, 10; population (ancient times), 11

Neo-Byzantine Empire, 60

Neo-Sassanid Empire, 60

Nero, 37

nobles in India, 100, 105–6, 121–2

Northwest Company, 188

numularii, 43, 44; see also money changers (in Roman Empire) occupations: in Elizabethan England, 173, 186; in Florence, 150; in United Provinces, 199–200, 202; wealth and (Florence), 155–6

Omayyad caliphate, 60

options trading, 217

Osaka, 127, 128, 137, 138, 139, 140

partnerships, 163, 219

pawnbrokers, 2, 139

peace, prolonged (Japan after 1615), 123 peasantry, heavy tax burden on feudal, 249 peers, debt and wealth of (Elizabethan England), 189 political structure of Japan, 123 population: Abbasid caliphate, 60–2; Attica, 16, 17, 20; Elizabethan England, 170–3, 184; Florence, 145, 146, 147; Florentine Republic, 147, 150; incomes of rural (Abbasid caliphate), 63; Japan, 123, 124, 126–32, 141; Mughal India, 95–7; non-Muslim (in Egypt during Ottoman Empire), 92; occupational distribution (Japan), 126; Ottoman Empire, 81–2; Ottoman Empire’s rural, 85; Roman Empire, 34–5; Roman urban, 46; United Provinces, 198–200 poverty, 271n14, 291n13, 296n46 precious metals: accumulation by governments, 212; in Japan,

137–8; in Mughal India, 285n52; as part of national wealth in India, 23; price in terms of commodities in Mesopotamia, 12; United Provinces as market for, 198; see also coins; gold; silver precious stones imported into Abbasid caliphate, 72
prestanze, 166
price movements, 7; in Mesopotamia, 13; in Ottoman Empire, 87
prices: in Elizabethan England, 174–5, 181, 183; in Japan, 138 privateering, income from, 192 profit sharing as substitute for interest in Islam, 69–70
property census (castasto) (Florence), 145; exemptions from, 149 property values, derivation of (Florence), 147–8
public buildings and property: in Athens, 22, 258n27; in Roman Empire, 52; Taj Mahal,
281n28
public debt: in Florence, 156, 167– 9; in United Provinces, 227 public works: under Abbasid caliphate, 79; Athenian, 31; paid for by daimyos, 143; in United Provinces, 202–3
purchasing power, national product in Roman Empire in terms of, 35
Rashid, Harun al, 80
ratios: of assets of banking system to those of all financial institutions, 7; comparative financial, 57–9; current revenue to national product (Elizabethan England), 189, 190, 192; debt-to-assets, 169; English gold-to-silver, 180; financial intermediation, 57, 169; financial interrelations, 7, 57, 169, 233;
gold-to-silver value, 37, 110, 111–12; government debt to individual wealth (United Provinces), 227; government debt to national wealth, 169– 70; government expenditures to Athenian national product, 32; government revenues or expenditures to national product, 246–7, 249; private investment to national product, 244; stock of money to national product, 7; use of, 232–3
regulated companies, 188 regulation system for land-tax collection (India), 116–17
rent: arrears in (Roman Empire), 45; in Elizabethan England, 176–7, 181; from imperial Roman lands, 51; from public lands, 191, 192, 269n75 revenues: of Elizabeth's treasury, current, 189–93; government, 49–56, 75–6, 78–9, 89–92
rice, 126; consumption of (Japan), 132; crop of (Japan), 141–2;
as money, 124; price of, 138 rice delivery orders as financial instruments, 139
roads: in Japan, 143; Roman, 52
Rotterdam, 224
rupee(s), 237; exchange rate in pence, 111; purchasing power of, 101, 103, 105; as standard coin of India, 110
Russia Company, 188
salt, United Provinces trade in, 224 samurai, 123, 126; impoverishment of, 144; rents of, 136
Index

savings: capital investment from (Elizabethan England), 186; net foreign investment as financial (United Provinces), 203; policies discouraging (India), 121 securities, see bonds; corporate stocks seignorage, 37, 40, 236, 237

shekel (ancient Mesopotamia), value of, 12–13 shipbuilding industry in United Provinces, 224 shipping, employment in (United Provinces), 303n6 ships, United Provinces', 198; see also naval vessels, warships shoguns: financial position after 17th century, 143; financial reserves of, 143

shroffs, 112–13

silver: in ancient Mesopotamia, 12, 13, 236; Athenian, 25–6; booty, 42, 66; imports and exports of, 30, 87, 111, 137; outflow from Japan, 137; output of, 264n20; production in Roman Empire, 42; relation to gold, 37, 110; sources of, 25–6, 66, 135, 180, 259n38; as a standard of value, 236; uses for, 26, 180; world stock of (1st century A.D.), 40; see also coins; mines; monetary system; precious metals size distribution of income and wealth, 233 slave prices: ancient Mesopotamia, 13; in Roman Empire, 34–5 slaves: Abbasid caliphate, 62, 72; Athens, 17, 18, 20, 21; Attica, 25, 28, 259n6; Florence, 293n28; Mesopotamia, 253n4; in national balance sheets, 58; number and monetary value in Roman Empire, 54, 57; Ottoman Empire, 81; as part of military forces, 62, 81; taxes on (Attica), 32; taxes when freed (Roman Empire), 50

societates publicanorum, see tax farmers sources of information: on Abbasid caliphate, 269n1; Ain-i-Akbari, 8, 119; Amsterdam exchange price list of commodities as, 217; Florentine castasto, 8; on international trade, 217; on Mughal India, 94; primary, 9; on private economy of Ottoman Empire, 88; on Tokugawa Japan, 287n1 speculation in United Provinces, 217 spices: imported into Abbasid caliphate, 73; income from trade in (Florence), 156; United Provinces trade in, 224 standard of living: in Abbasid caliphate, 64; in Egypt (11th century), 64; in Roman Empire, 35 state real property value in Attica, 22

stocks, see corporate stocks

Suleiman the Magnificent, 80, 90 symmetrical system, 237 taxable real property in Florence, 150–1 tax burden: Egypt, 274n41, 274n42; Florence, 166; Mughal India, 119, 120–1; Ottoman Empire, 92; on peasantry, 249; Tokugawa Japan, 143, 144

tax collecting: direct (Roman Empire), 48, 50; feudal system of, 247; in Florence, 166–7; by government directly, 247; in Mughal India, 116; in Ottoman Empire, 90; remuneration for, 98; tax farmers for, 43, 49, 50, 52, 79, 226, 247; in taxes: on agricultural workers, 90; alms, 74; arrears in, 45; assessments of (England), 299n23; on buildings, 226; burden of, 92, 119, 120–1, 143, 144, 249, 274n1, 274n2; on communities in Roman Empire, 49; on contracts, 166; conversion to Islam and, 72, 74, 76–7; on crops, 49; direct (Athens), 33; in Egypt during Ottoman Empire, 91–2; estate, 54; excise, 227; on food, 166; on freeing of Roman slaves, 50; high (United Provinces), 226; import and export, 226; indirect (Athens), 33, 227, 249; inheritance, 48, 50, 53, 54; in kind, 46, 52, 73, 76, 78, 117, 142; on labor, 142; land, 49–51, 72–4, 89–90, 98, 116–20, 142, 226; major and minor, 74; on manumission of slaves, 50, 54; on money changers, 294n32; municipal, 226–7; on nonagricultural wealth and income, 75; on non-Muslims, 89, 277n24; in Ottoman Empire, 89–92; poll, 72, 74, 92; property, 21–2, 33, 149, 166; provincial (United Provinces), 226; Roman head, 49; from Roman provinces, 48; sales, 164, 166; on salt, 164; on textiles, 166; on transactions, 217; on urban population, 100; urban real estate, 144; on wealthy Athenians, 32–3; on wine, 164; see also names of specific types of taxes, e.g., customs duties tax farmers, 43, 49, 50, 52, 79, 226
Index

Tokugawa Japan, 142, 143; in United Provinces, 226

trade: coins of fluctuating value for retail, 212; domestic (Roman), 46, 71–2; in Florence, 150, 155–6; international (United Provinces), 72, 213, 216, 217, 219–25; minimal foreign (Japan), 124; Roman international, 46–7; sea-borne, 43; sea-borne domestic (Roman), 45–6; urban retail (Roman), 46; see also loans (bottomry); financing domestic trade; trade credit

traders, incomes of Florentine, 155

trapezitai, see bankers (in Roman Empire)

tribute: of Athens's allies, 32, 33; Peloponnesian War and, 30

tributum (stipendium), 49, 52–3

trierarch, 24, 32–3

trusts; see wakfs

Union of Utrecht, 211

United East India Company, 213, 214, 219–21; see also East India Company

upper income and wealth groups, 234–6; ownership of financial assets and use of financial instruments by, 233

woolen, 145, 187

thesaurization, 110, 121, 236, 237

timber imported by United Provinces, 224 tithes, Islamic, 72, 74 tokens, 238

trade: coins of fluctuating value for retail, 212; domestic (Roman), 46, 71–2; in Florence, 150, 155–6; international (United Provinces), 72, 213, 216, 217, 219–25; minimal foreign (Japan), 124; Roman international, 46–7; sea-borne, 43; sea-borne domestic (Roman), 45–6; urban retail (Roman), 46; see also loans (bottomry); financing domestic trade; trade credit

traders, incomes of Florentine, 155

trapezitai, see bankers (in Roman Empire)

tribute: of Athens's allies, 32, 33; Peloponnesian War and, 30

tributum (stipendium), 49, 52–3

trierarch, 24, 32–3

trusts; see wakfs

Union of Utrecht, 211

United East India Company, 213, 214, 219–21; see also East India Company

upper income and wealth groups, 234–6; ownership of financial assets and use of financial instruments by, 233
Index

urbanization: in Elizabethan England, 171–2; in Mughal India, 96–7; in Ottoman Empire, 81–2; in Roman Empire, 34; significance for financial development, 231; in Tokugawa Japan, 124, 127–9; in United Provinces, 202; see also cities urban population: of Abbasid caliphate, 63, 279n10; in Elizabethan England, 173; exemption from taxes, 143; of Mughal India, 96–7

Venice, 145

villages: in India, 279n14; in Japan, 141–2 wages: Abbasid caliphate’s average, 63; in Attica, 18; in Elizabethan England, 181, 183; in Florence, 146, 148; of skilled craftsmen (Abbasid caliphate), 63; in Tokugawa Japan, 132, 138

wakfs, 68–9

Wales, 193

war: Florence, 146; Peloponnesian, 17, 20, 23, 25, 30, 33; Persian, 19 warrior caste, see samurai warships: responsibility for maintenance of, 24, 32–3; of United Provinces, 198 wealth: concentration of, 234–6; distribution of, 23–5, 84–6, 130–2, 153–6, 176–8, 195–7, 204–5, 206–9, 211; forms of (United Provinces), 214; government (United Provinces), 203; of individuals (United Provinces), 227; occupations and (Florence), 155–6; private (Athens), 21, 22, 258n30; private urban and rural (United Provinces), 203–4; structure of Florentine, 156 wealth classes in Abbasid caliphate, 74 welfare costs under Abbasid caliphate, 74, 79

West India Company, 188, 214, 219, 223

wheat, 29, 46, 146, 149–50; see also grain zamindars, 98, 106, 113, 116, 118–19, 284n36, 286n65

Zeeland, 199, 224.