Area Studies
Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

Cambridge has a vibrant programme of books and journals spanning all geographical areas of the world.

We publish prestigious book series and stand-alone titles that analyse regions through a variety of disciplines in both the humanities and social sciences, ranging from politics, economics and history through to anthropology and religion.

Our multi- and interdisciplinary journals regularly achieve high Impact Factors and lead their respective fields.

History

Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

History is the largest single subject area for the Press. It is a programme with both depth and breadth, ranging in subject matter from late antiquity to the present day, international in scope and embracing new approaches.

Our publishing includes major reference series, textbooks and monographs, as well as a collection of distinguished journals affiliated to the world’s leading scholarly societies.

Together, they reflect the diversity of the discipline and offer an unmatched resource for today’s historians.

This authoritative guide to published works in African studies has been published annually since 1984. The Africa Bibliography includes a wide range of material: books, articles in journals, and book chapters, covering the whole of Africa. It lists works published in a number of languages, such as Portuguese, Swahili, French and German, as well as English; categorises by region, country and subject; and includes an author index and a detailed thematic index. The Africa Bibliography records publications on Africa of interest to students of Africa, principally in the social and environmental sciences, humanities and arts; though some items from the medical, biological and natural sciences, likely to be of interest to a reader from a social science/arts background are included. This annual publication records the previous year’s work in its field, with provision for retrospective inclusion of earlier items. It is prepared in association with the International African Institute’s journal Africa.

Richard E. Bartholomew is a bibliographer who has a PhD in the Study of Religion from SOAS, University of London. He also works as a book indexer and copy editor, and he has published on religion and media.

The Africa Bibliography is available as a fully searchable database of all volumes published to date.
