Submit your proposal for a themed section in Social Policy and Society

Social Policy and Society publishes a uniquely structured themed section in each issue which is designed to offer an overview of a particular policy-relevant theme. The inclusion of a state of the art article and a short guide to useful sources help to make these themed sections an invaluable resource for academics, policy-makers and students. By allowing flexibility in the number of articles in a themed section, the Guest Editors have the freedom to take the appropriate approach for their theme.

Themed section proposals are welcome on any topic that is relevant to social policy. Recent topics have included: ‘Looking for Trouble?’ Critically Examining the UK Government’s Troubled Families Programme; Policy Responses to Ageing and the Extension of Working Lives; and Assessing the Effects of Conditional Cash Transfers in Latin American Societies in the Early Twenty-First Century.

Themed section proposals must include:
• The envisaged title
• Names and institutional affiliations of the proposed Guest Editor(s)
• A rationale for the Themed Section that outlines the key issues to be explored and justifies the authors chosen
• A list of contributors and their institutional affiliations
• An ordered list of contents that conforms with the requirements for Themed Sections
• The author(s), title and a 500 word abstract of each proposed article

Proposals should be sent to the editors via email at spseditors@sheffield.ac.uk. All proposals are reviewed by the Editorial Board and can be submitted at any time.

For further information please consult the Instructions for prospective Guest Editors of a Themed Section (cambridge.org/sps-ifc) or contact the editors.

Cambridge’s sociology list is one of the longest established and most respected in the world.

Including leading authors such as Michael Mann, Anthony Giddens, Charles Tilly, Theda Skocpol and Margaret Archer, our books list has particular strengths in social theory, historical sociology, political sociology and research methods.

This is complemented by a cluster of leading journals including European Journal of Sociology, Journal of Social Policy and Ageing & Society.

Editorial Policy:
Social Policy and Society welcomes scholarly papers which analyse any aspect of social policy including any associated teaching and learning issues. In particular, it seeks to encourage contributions which integrate conceptualist or theoretical ideas with the use of empirical evidence. Its scope is both international and comparative, and it draws on research and developments in all of the social sciences. (See Editorial, Social Policy and Society, Volume 1, Part 1, 2002.)

Subscriptions:
Social Policy and Society is sold with Journal of Social Policy as a joint subscription only. The 2018 institutional electronic-only subscription rate is US $371 in USA, Canada and Mexico, €417 elsewhere; print plus electronic US $689 or €501; print-only US $384 or £492. Individual rates are available from the journal’s website: journals.cambridge.org/sps. For all other use, permission should be sought from Cambridge or the American Branch of Cambridge University Press. Organizations authorized by the Copyright Licensing Agency may also copy material subject to the usual conditions. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. These notes should be endnotes rather than footnotes and should be placed after the body of the text and before the references.

Copying:
This journal is registered with the Copyright Clearance Centre, 222 Rosewood Drive, Danvers, MA 01923, USA (www.copyright.com). Organizations in the USA who are also registered with the CCC may therefore copy material (beyond the limits permitted by sections 107 and 108 of US copyright law) subject to payment to CCC. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes.

Guidelines for Contributors
1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to SP & S Administrator, Department of Sociological Studies, University of Sheffield, Elmsfield, Northumberland Road, Sheffield, S10 2TU, email spseditors@sheffield.ac.uk. Articles should be up to 6000 words including endnotes, but excluding tables and bibliography. Word length must be stated.

2. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been submitted for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

3. Submissions are subject to double-blind peer review and will be reviewed by at least one independent referee. The Social Policy Association supports the study of all aspects of Social Policy through the sponsorship of its journals — see journals.cambridge.org/sps.

4. Contributions should be typed double-spaced with generous margins on A4 paper. Contributions should include an electronic copy of the manuscript formatted in Microsoft Word, text in rich format, by electronic mail to spseditors@sheffield.ac.uk.

5. All contributions should be accompanied by a detachable title page providing information about the word length, the position(s) held by the author(s), full correspondence and email addresses and full details of any acknowledgments. Papers with more than one author, the contact author should be clearly specified.

6. Contributions should conform exactly to the Social Policy and Society style and authors should check the full instructions for contributors are available from the journal’s website: journals.cambridge.org/sps.

7. Discriminatory language should be avoided. Further guidance on avoiding sexist, racist and other inappropriate language is published by the British Sociological Association (BSA) — see journals.cambridge.org/core. The Social Policy Association is a non-government, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world’s forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.
