

NEW TITLES

The Minority of Henry III D. A. CARPENTER

The dramatic minority of Henry III was a pivotal period in English history, for it determined that England would be ruled by Plantagenets rather than by the Capetian kings of France. Carpenter's new book supersedes all previous accounts of that stunning transformation. $34.95

Bonfires and Bells National Memory and the Protestant Calendar in Elizabethan and Stuart England DAVID CRESSY

Cressy brings together the history of popular culture and mainstream politics in Elizabethan and Stuart England. He draws on almanacs, pamphlets, sermons, diaries, and churchwardens' reports to trace the way political consciousness emerged among ordinary people. $30.00

Religion and Society in a Cotswold Vale Nailsworth, Gloucestershire, 1780-1865 ALBION M. URDANK

"A well-documented, readable, and thorough account of the ways in which religious conviction and its social environment interacted in an English village during the course of industrialization."
—Robert Wuthnow,
author of Meaning & Moral Order $47.50

Thomas Becket FRANK BARLOW

Now in paperback—
"[A] superb book. . . . The career of Thomas Becket is presented with a freshness that one would not have thought possible."

—London Review of Books
$13.95 paper

A Science of Impurity Water Analysis in Nineteenth Century Britain CHRISTOPHER HAMLIN

"Hamlin's book is much more than an excellent 'internalist' history of the various branches of nineteenth-century water science. It also treats in sophisticated fashion a range of broader issues of current interest in the history, philosophy, and social study of science."

—David E. Wright,
Michigan State University $39.95

Standing on the Shoulders of Giants A Longer View of Newton and Halley Edited by

NORMAN J. W. THROWER
In this book, 18 distinguished scholars, including astronomers, physicists, philosophers, and historians of science from several countries, present new material and fresh interpretations of familiar topics from humanistic and philosophical perspectives. $39.95

Habits of Thought in the English Renaissance Religion, Politics, and the Dominant Culture DEBORA KULLER SHUGER

"A brilliant and original book, full of arresting insights, by a remarkably independent author with an extraordinarily rich general culture."

—William Bouwsma, author of
A Usable Past
$35.00

At bookstores or order toll-free
1-800-822-6657. Visa/MasterCard only.

UNIVERSITY OF
CALIFORNIA
PRESS      BERKELEY 94720

For Party or Country*Nationalism and the Dilemmas of Popular Conservatism in Edwardian EnglandFRANS COETZEE, Yale University

"Very impressive in illuminating the period and informing the reader about pressure group politics – and its implications – in Britain. A crucial study for an understanding of the making of the modern Conservative party." – Peter Stansky, Stanford University. In this thorough analysis, Coetzee examines the condition of the Conservative party during the two decades preceding World War I – a transitional period for the party, marked by the foundation of an unprecedented number of conservative pressure groups.

1990 256 pp. $39.95

The Unwritten Law*Criminal Justice in Victorian KentCAROLYN A. CONLEY, University of Alabama, Birmingham

"A well-written and succinct book that advances our understanding both of Victorian criminal justice and of the role of gender in Victorian society. Conley makes a notable advance over earlier scholarship on Victorian criminal justice." – Martin J. Weiner, Rice University. Through a careful study of the ways that the status and circumstances of victims and suspects influenced judicial decisions, Conley provides important new insights into Victorian attitudes toward violence, women, children, community, and the all-important concept of respectability.

1990 256 pp. $29.95

Church and State in Early Modern England, 1509-1640LEO F. SOLT, Indiana University, Bloomington

"Professor Solt writes with great authority, and this work is the product of a lifetime of learning. . . . His use of printed sources, weaving them into his narrative in order to capture the precise flavor and meaning of authors and ideas, is masterful." – Martin J. Havran, University of Virginia. Solt provides the main contours of church-state connections in England from 1509 to 1640 through a selective narration of events interspersed with interpretive summaries.

1990 288 pp. $35.00

Aristocratic Government in the Age of Reform*Whigs and Liberals, 1830-1852PETER MANDLER, Princeton University

This book challenges the view that there was a smooth and inevitable progression towards liberalism in early nineteenth-century England. Drawing on a rich variety of original sources, Mandler provides a vivid image of the high aristocracy at the peak of its wealth and power, and offers a provocative and unique analysis of how their rejection of middle-class manners helped them to govern Britain in two troubled decades of social unrest.

1990 320 pp. $59.00

The Causes of the English Civil WarCONRAD RUSSELL, King's College

What were the causes of the English Civil War? In this study, Conrad Russell offers a compelling new analysis, bringing into focus fundamental religious and constitutional issues of vital importance to contemporaries but neglected by historians. Drawing heavily on research in printed and unpublished sources, Russell provides the most in-depth account to date of the origins of one of the most significant events in British history.

1990 276 pp. paper $13.95 cloth $48.00

The Pre-Industrial Consumer in England and AmericaCAROLE SHAMMAS, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Drawing on detailed local research and intensive quantitative analysis, Shammas here presents the most complete study available of consumers and consumption before industrialization and mass urbanization in eighteenth-century England and America.

1990 336 pp. $49.95

Prices are subject to change and apply only in the U.S. To order, send check or money order to: Humanities and Social Sciences Marketing Department

To order by phone using major credit cards please call (212) 679-7300, ext. 7106

Oxford University Press

200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016

---

---

Manchester University Press Presents . . .

---

---

International Studies in the History of Sport

General Editor: J.A. Mangan

Perceptive works from distinguished historians have stimulated a general and long-overdue appreciation of the significance of sport in modern society – in terms of its hegemonic, ritualistic and symbolic roles and its association with ethics, social class, religion, leisure, politics and both popular and elite cultures. This series provides a forum for the work that is now developing internationally in this field as well as the related fields of politics, education, economics and social history.

Sport and the Working Class in Modern Britain

Edited by Richard Holt

This collection by a wide range of specialists draws upon new material from newspapers, club records and conversations with former players to illuminate what sport has meant to the British working people. The contributors look beyond the economics of professional spectator sport to find out how sportsmen came to embody the hopes and beliefs of whole communities, and even whole countries.

1990 ISBN 0-7190-2650-4 $49.95 d.

Sport, Politics and the Working Class Organised Labour and Sport in Inter-War Britain

Stephen G. Jones

This original study examines the approach of the working-class to sport in inter-war Britain. It focuses on the attitudes, policies and responses of socialists, trade unionists and other working-class activists to what was perhaps the major proletarian leisure activity.

1989 ISBN 0-7190-2616-4 $45.00

English Football and Society, 1910-1950

N.B.F. Fishwick

Fishwick analyzes the impact of English soccer on people's lives and culture through studying the different forms of participation – playing, managing, watching, gambling, talking or reading about the game.

1989 ISBN 0-7190-2529-X $49.95

Forthcoming Titles:

Eternally Wounded Woman

Women, Doctors and Exercise in the Late
Nineteenth Century

Patricia Vertinsky

Rowing in England: A Social History

The Amateur Debate

Eric Halladay

Driving Ambitions

A Social Analysis of the American Hot-Rod
Enthusiasm

H.F. Moorhouse

---

---

Manchester University Press

Distributed in North America by St. Martin's Press

Scholarly and Reference Division ♦ 175 Fifth Avenue ♦ New York, NY 10010

1-800-221-7945 ♦ In NY, (212) 674-5151 ♦ Fax (212) 777-6359

---

---