The China Quarterly

submissions on all aspects of contemporary China, including Taiwan, Hong Kong, Macau, and Tibet. Submissions in the fields of religion, media, literature, or on China prior to 1978, will be considered if they engage with issues of wider significance in contemporary China.

The China Quarterly will consider two main types of submissions: regular articles (up to 9,000 words, including footnotes) in-depth and theoretical pieces which should present original research in combination with analytical arguments. Research reports (up to 4,000 words, including footnotes) - shorter pieces based on primary research and empirical evidence. We will not consider manuscripts that are under consideration elsewhere, or that have been published in any form in any language.

Article manuscripts should be submitted through the ScholarOne online submission and peer review system (http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/cqy). If you experience technical difficulties, please contact the Editorial Office at chinaq@soas.ac.uk. An abstract of 100-150 words, some keywords and a bibliography should also be provided.

All submissions should conform to the styling of The China Quarterly.

Style

Romanization and Chinese characters

Chinese characters are incorporated into article texts (i.e. English (pinyin, characters)) so authors must provide Chinese characters for all Chinese used in the main text (not footnotes) on first appearance, including pinyin phrases, people's names and geographical locations.

Numbers

One to ten spelled out, 11 or more in figures; per cent in text, but % in footnotes. Dates: 2 March 1993. Page references 324-26 but 324-336.

References in footnotes

Books, chapters and articles should be shortened to the author-date-page format as follows:

Smith 2010, 15.

Smith and Wang 2011, 55-57.

Bibliography

All bibliographical references should be included at the end of the article in alphabetical order. Examples:

Liu, Weikeng. 2006. “Lingnan shezhi zhuai de liu xian zhi” - Sihui (Sihui: one of the six counties set up the earliest in Lingnan's history). Lingnan wenshi 3, 12-14.

Copyright

It is a condition of publication in the Journal that authors assign copyright to SOAS University of London. This ensures that requests from third parties to reproduce articles are handled efficiently and consistently and will also allow the article to be as widely disseminated as possible. In assigning copyright, authors may use their own material in other publications provided that the Journal is acknowledged as the original place of publication, and Cambridge University Press is notified in writing and in advance.

THE GORDON WHITE PRIZE

The £500 prize is awarded annually for the most original article or research report published in The China Quarterly in the relevant year.

Gordon White achieved great distinction for his analysis of modern Chinese politics and society, and for his efforts to promote teaching and research on China. He served as a member of the Editorial Board and Executive Committee of The China Quarterly from 1991 until his death in 1998.

The judges are drawn from among the Editorial Board. The prize-winner is published in the June issue of the journal each year.
