

OTHER BOOKS RECEIVED

Bananas, Beaches and Bases: Making Feminist Sense of International Politics. By Cynthia Enloe. Berkeley: University of California Press, 1990. xiii + 244 pp. Illustrations, tables, notes, and index. Cloth, $35.00; paper, $10.95.

Conceptual Toolmaking: Expert System of the Mind. By Jerry Rhodes. Cambridge, Mass.: Basil Blackwell, 1991. 206 pp. Charts. $32.95.

Down-Shifting: Reinventing Success on a Slower Track. By Amy Saltzman. New York: HarperCollins, 1991. 238 pp. Notes and index. $19.95.

The End of Economic Man: Principles of Any Future Economics. By George P. Brockway. New York: HarperCollins, 1991. xii + 303 pp. Charts, appendixes, notes, and index. $25.00.

The Liberal Conspiracy: The Congress for Cultural Freedom and the Struggle for the Mind of Postwar Europe. By Peter Coleman. New York: Free Press, 1989. xiii + 333 pp. $22.95.

The New Crowd: The Changing of the Jewish Guard on Wall Street. By Judith Ramsey Ehrlich and Barry J. Rehfeld. New York: HarperCollins, 1990. vi + 444 pp. Illustrations, notes, bibliography, and index. $10.95.

The Papers of Robert Morris, 1781–1784. Vol. 7: 1 Nov. 1782–4 May 1783. Edited by John Cantanzariti, et al. Pittsburgh, Pa.: University of Pittsburgh Press, 1989. Charts, illustrations, tables, appendixes, editorial methods, and index. $55.00.

Private Superannuation in the Banking Industry: A Centennial History of the Bank of New Zealand Officers' Provident Association. By Neil C. Quigley. Wellington, N.Z.: Bank of New Zealand Officers' Provident, 1988. xi + 362 pp. Charts, appendixes, tables, notes, and index. NZ$15.00.

The United Nations and International Business. By Sydney Dell. Durham, N. C.: Duke University Press, 1990. x + 191 pp. Notes and index. $29.95.

BUY NOW, PAY LATER

Advertising, Credit, and Consumer Durables in the 1920s

by Martha L. Olney

Martha Olney shows that spending on consumer durables not only increased significantly but also represented a genuine shift in the allocation of family income. Credit and advertising, Olney says, were not deliberate marketing ploys to encourage more spending but were separate responses to production and business problems. "A first-rate book."—Robert E. Gallman approx. 400 pp., 70 tables, $45

THE NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD, 1849–1871, AND THE MODERNIZATION OF NORTH CAROLINA

by Allen W. Trelease

This book covers all aspects of the NCRR and its history. Allen Trelease also assesses its impact on the economic and social development of North Carolina, particularly the Piedmont Crescent. "Ranks as one of the most important recent works in railroad history."—H. Roger Grant approx. 460 pp., $37.50

Fred W. Morrison Series in Southern Studies

AVAILABLE AT BOOKSTORES OR FROM

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA PRESS

POST OFFICE BOX 2288

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA 27515-2288

TOLL-FREE ORDERS: 1-800-848-6224

Cambridge University Press

R & D for Industry

A Century of Technical Innovation at Alcoa

Margaret B.W. Graham and Bettye H. Pruitt

Alcoa, during its century-long history, has surpassed many American manufacturing companies in devoting its energies to linked process and product innovation and has invested more heavily in R & D than its competition has. As a result, the company's history provides a valuable opportunity to observe the development of R & D within a corporation. R & D for Industry examines both the internal dynamic of that evolution and the impact of such external factors as the nation's changing R & D climate. Because Alcoa has focused on innovation as much as on product development, the company's history reveals the special nature of process R & D as well as the problems it poses for research management. Many claim that the United States has fallen behind chiefly in process technology; Alcoa's experience can help us to understand the conditions, internal and external, that have either fostered or inhibited process R & D.

39413-9 Hardcover about $49.50

Rivalry: In Business, Science, Among Nations

Reuven Brenner

"The quest for a parsimonious theory of economic change is hardly novel. It is comparatively rare, though, that historical and contemporary fact are allowed to act as the judge of whether the theoretical enterprise should stand or fall. Reuven Brenner's Rivalry: In Business, Science, Among Nations makes refreshing reading for its painstaking effort to provide empirical support for the argument." — Edward H. Lorenz, Business History Review

33187-0 Hardcover $32.50 / 38584-9 Paper $11.95

The Limits of the Law

The Public Regulation of Private Pollution

Peter Cleary Yeager

This book examines the systematic constraints on U.S. law enforcement agencies to regulate business behavior, looking specifically at the postwar development of laws regulating water pollution and at the Environmental Protection Agency's efforts to enforce them. It examines the struggle of the state to encourage both economic growth and environmental welfare.

36535-X Hardcover about $47.50

Reshaping Work

The Cadbury Experience

Christopher Smith, John Child and Michael Rowlinson

Foreword by Sir Adrian Cadbury

This book explores the management of organizational change. It focuses on Cadbury Ltd., which is famous for its pioneering personnel management, and provides an in-depth study of change within this famous British company. The authors develop a theory of organizational change which emphasizes the interaction between external market forces and internal management action.

Cambridge Studies in Management 16

32304-5 Hardcover about $65.00

At bookstores or from

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011.

Call toll-free 800-872-7423 outside NY State, 800-227-0247, NY State only.

MasterCard/VISA accepted. Prices subject to change.

BAHRAIN OIL AND DEVELOPMENT 1929-1989, by Angela Clarke. Traces the joint venture in the oil industry that spurred Bahrain's development to the present. 432 pages. 1990. $38. ISBN 0-918714-25-7.

ENERGY WATCHERS I: SHADOW OPEC AND A "REINTEGRATED" OIL INDUSTRY, proceedings of the 10th International Area Conference and 16th International Energy Conference. 135 pages. 1990. $24. ISBN 0-918714-19-2.

ENERGY WATCHERS II: PHOENIX-LIKE OPEC AND THE OIL-GAS RELATIONSHIP, proceedings of the 11th International Area Conference and 17th International Energy Conference. About 140 pages. 1991. $24. ISBN 0-918714-24-9.

WORLD OIL PRICES: DEMAND, SUPPLY, AND SUBSTITUTES, by Yousuf Hasan Mohammad and Walter Mead. 116 pages. 1990. $24. ISBN 0-918714-16-8.

OCCASIONAL PAPERS, each 20-24 pages and $10. (Papers One through Eleven available on Saudi Oil Policy and Changing World Energy Balance; The Future of Oil: Managing Risk and Uncertainty; The Development of Canadian Controls on Natural Gas Exports; The Gulf, Integration, and OPEC: Overseas Downstream Activities; Changing Energy Prices and Colorado Industry; The End of the Trend: Limited Opportunities to Slow Reintegration; and OPEC and Non-OPEC Relations.)

THE JOURNAL OF ENERGY AND DEVELOPMENT, twice yearly since 1975. For professionals, the business/industry community, government officials, and scholars in a broad area of energy and development topics. Annual subscription rates (surface post included, airmail additional): Institutional/general-$32; University/public libraries-$24; Academic (faculty/student, personal payments)-$14.

Send orders, with payment in U.S. dollars, to:
The International Research Center for Energy and Economic Development
(ICEED)

Campus Box 418, University of Colorado
Boulder, CO 80309-0418
Phones: 303/492-7667 or 492-6948

BUSINESS HISTORY

A FRANK CASS JOURNAL

Volume 33

January 1991

Number 1

ARTICLES

- An Introduction to Archival Research in Business History John Armstrong
- The Development of Industrial Cost and Management Accounting before 1850:
A Survey of the Evidence John Richard Edwards and Edmund Newell
- The Enlightened Paternalist in Action:
William Hesketh Lever at Port Sunlight before 1914 David J. Jeremy
- The Failure of the Anglo-American Council on Productivity Jim Tomlinson
- The Hundred Largest Employers in the United Kingdom, in Manufacturing and Non-manufacturing Industries, in 1907, 1935 and 1955 David J. Jeremy

DEBATE

- Locational Choice, Performance and the Growth of British Multinational Firms: A Comment Geoffrey Jones
- Debating Business History: Location, Performance and Growth of British MNEs Stephen Nicholas
-

Business History is published quarterly by Frank Cass.

Subscriptions: $35/£22 for individuals, $115/£70 for institutions.

Back issues available.

Orders to Frank Cass c/o Allen Press Inc., Subscription Services, P.O. Box
1897, Lawrence, Kansas 66044-8897.

Tel: (913) 843-1221. Fax: (913) 843-1274.

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

General Information

Manuscripts are considered for publication on the understanding that they are not concurrently under consideration elsewhere and that the material—in substance as well as form—has not been previously published.

Three copies of the manuscript should be submitted.

Authors should identify themselves only on a separate title page that provides name, mailing address, and telephone number. Authors must also remember not to identify themselves in the body of the manuscript; specifically, references to their own work in the text should be in the third person, and citations should be written without possessive pronouns—not “See my. . . .”

Each article should be accompanied by a précis of 75-100 words outlining the main point(s) of the paper and placing the article in context. Subheads should be used to divide the manuscript into three or four sections (or more, depending on length).

We do not have an upper or lower page limit, but articles usually run between 25 and 60 typescript pages, including notes and other material.

Articles must contain notes in the humanities style, not references as in the social sciences.

We are always eager to publish illustrations, but authors should not include originals of illustrative materials at the time of submission; photocopies of such material may be included.

Authors of accepted manuscripts will receive two copies of the issue in which the article appears and twenty-five free offprints.

Manuscript Preparation

ALL material—including extracted quotations and notes—must be double-spaced. Legible photocopies or word-processed originals may be submitted. Use of dot-matrix printers is discouraged.

Notes should be numbered consecutively and citations should be placed at the end of the text. Do not place footnotes at the bottom of the page (see word-processing instructions).

Each table or figure should occupy a separate page and should be numbered (in arabic numerals) and grouped together between the text and the notes. The position of these items should be indicated in the text (as, “see Table 3”), but they should not be mingled with the text and no extra space should be left for them there. Each table and figure must be accompanied by a complete source.

We use the 13th edition of The Chicago Manual of Style (1982) and spell and hyphenate words according to Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary.

The journal encourages authors to use gender-neutral prose in all cases where it is not anachronistic to do so; male nouns and pronouns should not be used to refer to people of both sexes.

We use the day-month-year form for dates, as 11 February 1990.

Double quotation marks should be used for journal titles and direct quotation; single quotation marks are used for quoted material inside quotations.

Sample Citation Forms:

Book: Alfred D. Chandler, Jr., The Visible Hand: The Managerial Revolution in American Business (Cambridge, Mass., 1977), 321-22.

Journal: Charles Cheape, “Not Politicians but Sound Businessmen: Norton Company and the Third Reich,” Business History Review 62 (Autumn 1988): 444-66.

Note that we do not include the publisher in book citations. We do not use loc. cit., op. cit., or item., but ibid. (not italicized) may be used.

Word-Processing Guidelines

The journal can accept disks of all standard sizes and densities, but they must be formatted in MS-DOS; we cannot use Apple or MacIntosh software. WordPerfect is directly compatible, but we may be able to accept your document if it can be converted into an ASCII file.

Potential contributors should submit hard copy, not diskettes, initially, but it will save considerable work for all parties in the event of acceptance if authors working on PCs follow a few rules from the beginning:

In general, use as few formatting commands as possible.

Do not justify or half-justify the right-hand margin.

Do not hyphenate words at the end of lines.

Do not use hard returns except for new paragraphs or required page ends except as absolutely necessary (for example, to break between text and notes).

Do not use special fonts; underline material that is to be set in italics.

Most important, do not use the word processor's automatic footnote functions: do not embed notes in the text. Notes should be keyed in at the end of the text (after any tables) or as a separate file.

