We changed our name

... from Argyle® Urologicals back to our first name, Dover®. Dover is a name long associated with safe, innovative, high-quality urological products. And although we've changed our name, we've kept our commitment to strong customer relationships by providing better value ... value that was appreciated by the more than 1200 hospitals that used our products in 1993. Value that was recognized by a national group of major teaching hospitals which chose Dover as a sole source for many of its urological products.
