MACROECONOMIC DYNAMICS

Volume 21, Number 3, April 2017

Contents

ARTICLES
The Role of Investment-Specific Technology Shocks in Driving International Business Cycles: A Bayesian Approach
Jaya Dey

Can RBC Models Explain Business Cycles in Korea?
Wooheon Rhee

Inequality and International Trade: The Role of Skill-Biased Technology and Search Frictions
Moritz Ritter

Pollution Abatement as a Source of Stabilization and Long-Run Growth
Theodore Palivos and Dimitrios Varvarigos

Money and Monetary Policy in the Eurozone: An Empirical Analysis During Crises
Jonathan Benchimol and André Fourçans

What explains the Recent Jobless Recoveries?
Irina B. Panovska

The Role of Resource Misallocation in Cross-Country Differences in Manufacturing Productivity
Robert Inklaar, Addisu A. Lashitew and Marcel P. Timmer

Public Investment in a Hierarchical Education System with Capital-Skill Complementarity
Assaf Sarid

Entrepreneurs, Financiers, and Boom-Bust Cycles
Takuma Kunieda and Akihisa Shibata

Taylor Rule and Discretionary Regimes in the United States: Evidence from a k-State Markov Regime-Switching Model
Joseph D. Alba and Peiming Wang
MACROECONOMIC DYNAMICS

Editor: William A. Barnett, University of Kansas, Department of Economics, 356 Snow Hall, 1460 Jayhawk Boulevard, Lawrence, KS 66045-7523, USA, and The Center for Financial Stability, 1120 Avenue of the Americas, 49th Floor, New York, NY 10013, USA.

Book Review Editors: Michele Boldrin, Department of Economics, Washington University, One Brookings Drive, St. Louis, Missouri 63130, and Universidad Carlos III de Madrid, Gregory D. Hess, President’s Office, Washab College, W. Washab Avenue, Crawfordsville, IN 47933.

Special Issues Editors: Stephen Turnovsky, Department of Economics, Box 353330, University of Washington, Seattle, WA 98195; Lee Ohanian, Department of Economics, UCLA, 2261 Bunche Hall, 405 Hilgard Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

Editorial Information System Manager: Stephen E. Spear, Graduate School of Industrial Administration, Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

Local Area Network Manager: Nathan Haley, Lawrence, Kansas.

Editorial Associate: Melinda Barnett, University of Kansas.

Advisory Editors:
- Jean-Pascal Bénassy (CEPREMAP, Paris), Willem Buiter (London School of Economics and Political Science, London), Francis X. Diebold (University of Pennsylvania), Steven Durlauf (University of Wisconsin), Douglas Gale (New York University), Giancarlo Gandolfi (Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei, Rome), Roger Guesnerie (DELETA, Paris), Takashi Ito (University of Tokyo), Timothy Kehoe (University of Minnesota), Finn Kydland (Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh), Lei-Fei Lee (Oregon State University), Robert Townsend (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), Martin Watson (Princeton University), Kenneth West (University of Wisconsin). Michael Woodford (Columbia University), Randall Wright (University of Wisconsin, Madison)

Associate Editors:
- Gaetano Antinolfi (Washington University), Jasmin Artziv (Simon Fraser University), Pierpaoilo Benigno (Università di Bologna), Joydeep Bhattacharya (Iowa State University), Volker Bohm (University of Bielefeld, Germany), Benjamin Born (University of Bonn, Germany), Hedehf Bouchekri (HEC Montreal, Canada), Raouf Bouchekri (Université Catholique de Louvain, Belgium), Jeffrey Campbell (Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago), Shankha Chakravorty (University of Oregon), Marcelle Chamber (University of California at Riverside), Christophe Deisengberg (European University Institute, Italy), Hubert Ennis (Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond), Alvano Escibano (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid, Spain), Emilio Espino (Universidad Torcuato di Tella, Argentina), Georges Fontaine (University of Oregon), Etgar Faize (Goethe University of Frankfurt), Roger Farmer (UC Santa Barbara, Luisa Foster (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid, Spain), Oded Galor (University of Helsinki), Iouri Manovskii (Brown University), Kevin Huang (University of Oregon)

Book Review Editors:
- Daniel Laitner (New York University), Todd Keister (Research Institute of Industrial Economics, Sweden), Nathan Haley, Lawrence, Kansas.

COPYRIGHT AND PERMISSIONS

Aims and Scope/Editorial Policy.

The journal publishes research that advances the highest theoretical, empirical or quantitatively sophisticated understanding of economic policy, with strong emphasis on macroeconomics and from all parts of the world. The journal encourages the publication of related research or abstracts that reflect the current research in Macroeconomics.

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Articles:

- Argia M. Sbordone (Vanderbilt University), Tony Smith (University of Toronto), Ronald Wendner (Monash University, Australia)

Note:

Footnotes. Where more that a single source citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each entry should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Note 1.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

Aims and Scope/Editorial Policy.

The journal publishes research that advances the highest theoretical, empirical or quantitatively sophisticated understanding of economic policy, with strong emphasis on macroeconomics and from all parts of the world. The journal encourages the publication of related research or abstracts that reflect the current research in Macroeconomics.

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Articles:

- Argia M. Sbordone (Vanderbilt University), Tony Smith (University of Toronto), Ronald Wendner (Monash University, Australia)

Note:

Footnotes. Where more that a single source citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each entry should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Note 1.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

Aims and Scope/Editorial Policy.

The journal publishes research that advances the highest theoretical, empirical or quantitatively sophisticated understanding of economic policy, with strong emphasis on macroeconomics and from all parts of the world. The journal encourages the publication of related research or abstracts that reflect the current research in Macroeconomics.

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Articles:

- Argia M. Sbordone (Vanderbilt University), Tony Smith (University of Toronto), Ronald Wendner (Monash University, Australia)

Note:

Footnotes. Where more that a single source citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each entry should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Note 1.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

Aims and Scope/Editorial Policy.

The journal publishes research that advances the highest theoretical, empirical or quantitatively sophisticated understanding of economic policy, with strong emphasis on macroeconomics and from all parts of the world. The journal encourages the publication of related research or abstracts that reflect the current research in Macroeconomics.

Contributions, Contributions are welcome from all countries. They should be written in English.

End-of-proof signposts should appear as clearly above and below the line, respectively. Equations, all equations should be typeset on the line and may be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed together. Each equation number should be included. The last line of the ms should begin with Eq. 1.

Equations.

All equations should be typeset and numbers for displaced equations should be placed in parentheses in the right margin. Equations (1989) Substitution, risk aversion and the temporal behavior of consumption and asset allocation, Princeton University Press, pp. 65–97. Princeton, NJ:
ARTICLES

The Role of Investment-Specific Technology Shocks in Driving International Business Cycles: A Bayesian Approach

Jaya Dey 555

Can RBC Models Explain Business Cycles in Korea?

Wooheon Rhee 599

Inequality and International Trade: The Role of Skill-Biased Technology and Search Frictions

Moritz Ritter 624

Pollution Abatement as a Source of Stabilization and Long-Run Growth

Theodore Palivos and Dimitrios Varvarigos 644

Money and Monetary Policy in the Eurozone: An Empirical Analysis During Crises

Jonathan Benchimol and André Fourçans 677

What Explains The Recent Jobless Recoveries?

Irina B. Panovska 708

The Role of Resource Misallocation in Cross-Country Differences in Manufacturing Productivity

Robert Inklaar, Addisu A. Lashitew and Marcel P. Timmer 733

Public Investment in a Hierarchical Educational System with Capital–Skill Complementarity

Assaf Sarid 757

Entrepreneurs, Financiers, and Boom–Bust Cycles

Takuma Kunieda and Akihisa Shibata 785

Taylor Rule and Discretionary Regimes in the United States: Evidence from a k-State Markov Regime-Switching Model

Joseph D. Alba and Peiming Wang 817