The Purpose of the Biblical Genealogies

With Special Reference to the Setting of the Genealogy of Jesus
Second Edition

MARSHALL D. JOHNSON

The reissue in second edition of this important book examines the function and purpose of the genealogical lists which occur throughout the Bible. Dr Johnson shows that they are not merely appendices to Biblical narratives but are closely related to their context in language, structure and theology.

Wisdom in the Q-Tradition

The Aphoristic Teachings of Jesus

RONALD A. PIPER

This is the first study to examine the neglected aspect of Jesus' teaching – the proverbial sayings which are as prominent in the gospel as the parables. Small collections of aphoristic sayings can be detected in the writings traditionally known as 'Q'. Their markedly similar structures and concepts indicate that they were compiled by a unique group which has a particular interest in 'wisdom'.

A Bibliography of Greek New Testament Manuscripts

J. K. ELLIOTT

There are some 5,000 manuscripts of the Greek New Testament. Facsimiles, photographic reproductions, collations and studies of the textual character of many of them have been published, but this is the first bibliography of the manuscripts to be made available.

Ephesians: Power and Magic

The Concept of Power in Ephesians in Light of its Historical Setting

CLINTON E. ARNOLD

Ephesians places significant emphasis on the power of God and the supernatural 'powers' of evil. Through a study of the various religious traditions of western Asia Minor and a careful analysis of the text of Ephesians, this study seeks to uncover the motivation for this emphasis.

The Turnings of Darkness and Light

Essays in Philosophical and Systematic Philosophy

KENNETH SURIN

This collection of essays written between 1975 and 1987 covers topics including the doctrine of analogy, the Trinity, theological realism, the problems of evil and suffering, ecclesiology and the so-called theistic "proofs". The essays address a wider range of issues than is usual in works of philosophical theology and are distinctive in the methods and approaches employed.

Selected Christian Hebraists

WILLIAM MCKANE

The Christian Hebraists of this study – Andrew of St Victor, William Fulke, Gregory Martin, Richard Simon and Alexander Geddes – contributed in different ways to the reception of the Hebrew Bible in the Christian Church. The concern of these studies is with how the exercise of critical methods can be reconciled with the assumption that the Hebrew Bible is a Christian book.

Remembering and Repeating: Biblical Creation in *Paradise Lost

REGINA M. SCHWARTZ

While this study engages Freud, Nietzsche and Derrida, reinterpreting Milton in the light of postmodernism, the author derives her thesis from Milton's debt to an ancient source: Biblical poetics.

'This is a brilliant study that quietly but powerfully recharacterises many of the contexts of discussion in Milton criticism... A fine achievement.'

On Religion

Speeches to its Cultured Despisers

FRIEDRICH SCHLEIERMACHER

Translated by RICHARD CROUTER

This edition of one of the central documents of early German Romanticism, On Religion provides a fluent new translation of the original (1799) edition with detailed annotation and a substantial introduction.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the Editor, Professor S. R. Sutherland, King's College, Strand, London, WC2R 2LS.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributions of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage, but it would normally be simpler just to retain a copy.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
