

People in Political Science

Activities

Lucius Barker, chair and William Bennett Munro Professor of Political Science, Stanford University, received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree during the Spring 1994 commencement at Southern University. Barker received his B.A. in political science from Southern in 1949.

George Brown, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Missouri–Columbia, will be spending the 1994–95 academic year at the University of California–Berkeley, Center for Chinese Studies, on a postdoctoral fellowship.

Carl Q. Christol, professor emeritus of international law and political science, University of Southern California, was Qantas Visiting Professor in the faculty of law and legal practice, University of Technology, Sydney, Australia. Christol taught the graduate seminar on current problems in public international law.

J. Bryan Collester, professor of political science, Principia College, is currently on sabbatical to conduct research on a book about the future of the Western European Union.

Beth Furlong, R.N.C., School of Nursing, Creighton University, participated in a one month Fulbright Fellowship program in Jordan–Islamic Culture and Civilization Today.

Charles Patrick Henry, associate professor of political science and African American studies, University of California–Berkeley, has been nominated by President Clinton to serve on the National Council of the Humanities.

David Kinsella, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Missouri–Columbia, will be spending the 1994–95 academic year at The Ohio State University, Mershon Center, on a postdoctoral fellowship.

Robert H. Puckett, professor of political science, Indiana State University, has been elected to membership in the Council of Foreign Relations.

Lucius J. Barker, chair, department of political science, Stanford University, and former APSA President, receives honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Southern University. Awarding Barker are Chancellor Marvin L. Yates (far left), President Dolores R. Spikes (far right), and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs William E. Moore.

Photo Credit: Courtesy of the Southern University Office of Publications

Gerry Riposa, department of political science, California State University, Long Beach, spent the 1993–1994 academic year as an exchange professor at the University of Birmingham, England.

Robert I. Rotberg, research associate, Institute for International Development, Harvard University, has been nominated by President Clinton to serve on the National Council of the Humanities.

Keith Snavelly, Uday Desai, John Hamman and Osbin Ervin, department of political science, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, conducted three one-week training seminars in Bulgaria for municipal officials through the sponsorship of the United States Information Agency. Fifteen Bulgarian officials attended a follow-up training program at SIUC in July.

Administrative Appointments

Bruce E. Altschuler, chair, department of political science, SUNY–Oswego.

Suresht Bald, chair, department of politics, Willamette University.

Henry S. Bienen, president, Northwestern University; formerly dean, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University.

Janet Clark, chair, department of political science, West Georgia College.

Jonathan Casper, chair, department of political science, Northwestern University.

James Endersby, Interim-Director of Undergraduate Program, department of political science, University of Missouri–Columbia.

Kathy Ferguson, chair, department of political science, University of Hawaii at Manoa.

Cole Blease Graham, University of South Carolina, named interim Dean of the College of Criminal Justice.

Howard Handelman, director, Center for Latin America, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

Gerald Johnson, Interim Associate Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs, Auburn University.

Mark Kessler, chair, department of political science, Bates College.

Michael MacDonald, chair, department of political science, Williams College.

Robert Montjoy, director, Economic Development Institute, Auburn University.

Edward N. Muller, head, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Barbara Norrander, acting director of graduate studies, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Pippa Norris, associate director for research, Joan Shorenstein Barone Center for the Press, Politics and Public Policy, Harvard University.

Raymond E. Owen, acting chair, department of political science, University of Pittsburgh.

Stephen L. Percy, director, Urban Research Center, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

Donald Racheter, chair, department of political science, Central College, Pella, Iowa.

Tari Renner, head, department of political science, Illinois Wesleyan University.

Gerry Riposa, chair, department of political science, California State University, Long Beach.

Donald B. Rosenthal, chair, department of political science, SUNY–Buffalo.

Peter C. Sederberg, Dean, Honors College, University of South Carolina.

Ronald L. Tammen, professor of national strategy, National War College, appointed Associate Dean of Faculty and Academic Affairs.

Meredith W. Watts, chair, department of political science, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

John W. Williams, chair, department of political science, Principia College.

Dean Yarwood, director, Graduate Studies, department of political science, University of Missouri–Columbia.

Birol A. Yesilada, chair, department of political science, University of Missouri–Columbia.

Peter Zwick, coordinator, University Global Affairs, California State University, San Marcos.

New Appointments

Donna Bahry, professor, department of political science, Vanderbilt University, effective January 1995; formerly University of California–Davis.

Sally Bermanzohn, assistant professor, department of political science, Brooklyn College of City University of New York; formerly The City University of New York Graduate Center.

M. Kent Bolton, assistant professor, department of political science, California State University, San Marcos; formerly George Washington University.

Robert E. Breckinridge, visiting assistant professor, department of history and political science, Saint Francis College; formerly Lycoming College.

Robert A. Brown, assistant professor, department of political science, Emory University; formerly University of Michigan.

William Roberts Clark, assistant professor, school of international affairs, Georgia Institute of Technology.

Major G. Coleman, assistant professor, department of political science, SUNY–Buffalo; formerly Stanford University.

Jill Crystal, assistant professor, department of political science, Auburn University; formerly University of Michigan.

Bruce Cummings, professor of political science and director of international studies, Northwestern University, formerly University of Chicago.

People in Political Science

Krista Finnigan, research assistant professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina; formerly Georgetown University.

William Friedman, research associate, The Public Agenda Foundation; formerly The City University of New York Graduate Center.

Anthony Gadzey, assistant professor, department of political science, Auburn University; formerly Texas A&M University.

Edward Gibson, assistant professor of political science, Northwestern University; formerly University of Michigan.

Stephen Godek, assistant professor, department of political science, The College of Wooster.

Joanne C. Green, assistant professor of political science, Texas Christian University.

John Gunnell, professor, department of political science, Vanderbilt University, effective January 1995; formerly SUNY-Albany.

John Hindera, assistant professor, department of political science, Texas Tech University; formerly St. Cloud State University.

Brad Jones, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Arizona; formerly Babson College.

Jyl Josephson, assistant professor, department of political science, Texas Tech University; formerly University of Maryland.

Xandra Kayden, senior fellow, Institute for Leadership Studies, department of political science, Loyola Marymount University.

Janet M. Kelly, assistant professor, department of political science, Clemson University; formerly Bowling Green State University.

John Kincaid, Robert B. and Helen S. Meyner Professor of Government and Public Service and director of the Meyner Center for the Study of State and Local Government, Lafayette College; formerly executive director, U.S. Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations (ACIR). Kincaid has also been appointed Kestnbaum Fellow by the ACIR for 1994–95.

Christopher Kirley, assistant professor of political science and Canadian Studies, Bridgewater State College.

George A. Krause, assistant professor, department of government and international studies University of South Carolina; formerly West Virginia University.

Paulette Kurzer, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Arizona; formerly Columbia University.

David Lublin, assistant professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina; formerly Harvard University.

Laura R. Winsky Mattei, assistant professor, department of political science, SUNY-Buffalo; formerly Hamilton College.

Melissa Matthes, assistant professor, joint appointment with government and politics and women's studies, University of Maryland, College Park.

Walter Mattli, assistant professor, department of political science, Emory University; formerly University of Chicago.

Amy McCready, assistant professor, department of political science, Bucknell University.

Rene McEldowney, assistant professor, department of political science, Auburn University.

J. Patrice McSherry, assistant professor of political science and Latin American Studies, State University of New York at New Paltz; formerly The City University Graduate Center and Fulbright Scholar (1992).

Zeev Maoz, Director, Jaffee Center for Strategic Studies and professor of political science, department of political science, Tel Aviv University; formerly University of Haifa.

Cynthia Chavez Metoyer, assistant professor, department of political science, California State University, San Marcos; formerly Northern Arizona University.

Irwin Morris, assistant professor, department of political science, Texas Tech University; formerly University of North Carolina.

Dale K. Nesbary, assistant professor, department of political science, Oakland University.

Melissa Nobles, assistant professor, department of political science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Maryjane Osa, assistant professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina; formerly University of Chicago.

Richard Price, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Minnesota.

Beryl A. Radin, chair and professor, department of public administration and policy, Rockefeller College, SUNY-Albany; formerly University of Southern California Washington Public Affairs Center.

Bruce Ranson, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, Clemson University; formerly Stockton State College.

Michael J. Rich, assistant professor, department of political science, Emory University; formerly Brown University.

Martin B. Schaffer, assistant professor of political science, Marist College.

Frederic C. Schaffer, assistant professor, department of political science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

William Scheuerman, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Pittsburgh.

Ben Ross Schneider, associate professor of political science, Northwestern University; formerly Princeton University.

Miranda Schreurs, assistant professor, department of government and politics, University of Maryland, College Park.

Christa Slaton, assistant professor, department of political science, Auburn University; formerly Georgia Southern University.

David Spiro, assistant professor, department of political science, University of Arizona; formerly Columbia University.

Karin L. Stanford, assistant professor of political science and African American studies, University of Georgia; formerly post-doctoral fellow at University of North Carolina.

Peter Swenson, associate professor of political science, Northwestern University; formerly University of Pennsylvania.

Kathleen Thelen, associate professor of political science, Northwestern University; formerly Princeton University.

Michael Wallerstein, professor of political science, Northwestern University; formerly University of California–Los Angeles.

Eric N. Waltenberg, assistant professor of American politics, department of political science, Purdue University.

Frederick Carl Walton, assistant professor of political science, University of Georgia.

Carrie R. Wickham, assistant professor, department of political science, Emory University; formerly Princeton University.

James Willey, instructor, department of political science, The College of Wooster.

Brian Woodall, assistant professor, School of International Affairs, Georgia Institute of Technology; formerly Harvard University.

Promotions

Shaun Bowler, associate professor, department of political science, University of California–Riverside.

Susan Burgess, associate professor of political science with tenure, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

Paul F. Diehl, professor of political science, University of Illinois at Urbana–Champaign.

William J. Dixon, professor, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Marcus Ethridge, professor of political science, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

Patricia S. Florestano, professor, department of government and public policy, University of Baltimore.

John A. Garcia, professor, department of political science, University of Arizona.

David Goldfischer, associate professor with tenure, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver.

Arthur A. Goldsmith, professor of management, University of Massachusetts at Boston.

Vicki Golich, associate professor of political science with tenure, California State University–San Marcos.

Cole Blease Graham, professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina.

Jerrold D. Green, professor, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Leslie Hill, assistant professor, department of political science, Bates College.

Lawrence Jacobs, associate professor, department of political science, University of Minnesota.

Calvin Jillson, professor of political science, University of Colorado, Boulder.

J. Edward Kellough, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, University of Georgia.

John S. Klemanski, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, Oakland University.

Frank Laird, associate professor with tenure, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver.

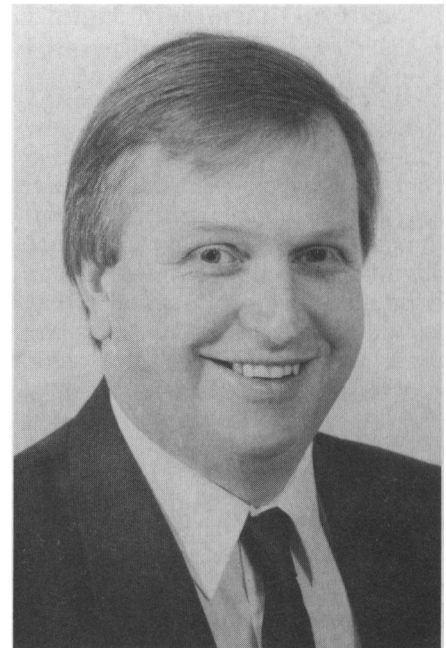

William Lasser, professor, department of political science, Clemson University.

John Christian Laursen, associate professor, department of political science, University of California–Riverside.

Mark Lichbach, professor of political science, University of Colorado, Boulder.

Brad Lockerbie, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, University of Georgia.

Alistair J.A. McCulloch, professor, School of Public Administration and Law, The Robert Gordon University, Scotland, UK.

Alistair J.A. McCulloch

Larry Martinez, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, California State University–Long Beach.

Robert Melson, professor, department of political science, Purdue University.

Jonathan Nagler, associate professor, department of political science, University of California–Riverside.

Laurence J. O'Toole, Jr., professor of political science with tenure, University of Georgia.

Stephen L. Percy, professor of political science, University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

C. Michelle Piskulich, associate professor with tenure, department of political science, Oakland University.

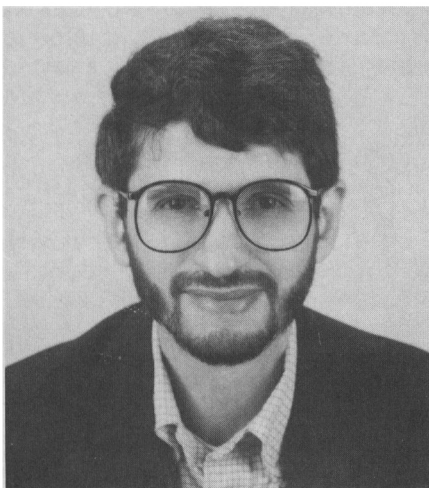

People in Political Science

Lyn Ragsdale, professor, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Stanley A. Renshon, professor, department of political science and Ph.D. Program, The City University of New York.

James Richter, tenure, department of political science, Bates College.

Mitchell Seligson, Daniel H. Wallace Professor of Political Science, University of Pittsburgh.

Mitchell Seligson

Kathryn Sikkink, associate professor, department of political science, University of Minnesota.

Keith Shimko, associate professor, department of political science, Purdue University.

Piotr Swistak, associate professor, department of government and politics, University of Maryland, College Park.

Lowell Turner, associate professor with tenure, School of Industrial and Labor Relations, Cornell University.

Allen S. Whiting, regents professor, department of political science, University of Arizona.

Visiting and Temporary Positions

Robert Bartlett, Mellon Fellow, departments of political science and classics, Emory University; formerly University of Toronto.

Michael Bratman, Stanford University, Olmsted Visiting Professor, Ethics, Politics, and Economics Program, Yale University, Fall 1994.

Maqsood Choudary, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, University of Missouri-Columbia, for the 1994-95 academic year.

Susan Dicklich, assistant professor, University of Toronto, visiting assistant professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina, 1994-95.

Scott Gates, department of political science, Michigan State University, visiting assistant professor of political science, University of Trondheim, Norway, during the 1994-95 academic year.

Libby Hoffman, visiting instructor, department of political science, Principia College.

Steven Hook, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, University of Missouri-Columbia, for the 1994-95 academic year.

Kemal Kirisci, associate professor, Bogacizi University, Turkey, served as visiting professor, University of Minnesota, spring and summer, 1994.

Jeffrey Lantis, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, The College of Wooster.

Richard Matland, department of political science, University of Houston, served as visiting associate professor of political science, University of Trondheim, Norway, spring and summer semesters 1994.

Art Rohloff, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, Texas Tech University; formerly University of Colorado.

W. Bradley Stock, visiting professor, Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University.

Christian Tuschhoff, DAAD professor, department of political science, Emory University; formerly Free University of Berlin.

Gary Young, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, University of Missouri-Columbia, for the 1994-95 academic year.

Retirements

Harold B. Birch, research assistant professor, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina.

Jyoti Das, department of political science, University of California-Berkeley.

Robert Delorme, professor and department chair, department of political science, California State University-Long Beach.

Gail Lapidus, department of political science, University of California-Berkeley.

Metin Tamkoc, professor, department of political science, Texas Tech University.

Kenneth Waltz, department of political science, University of California-Berkeley.

Correction

Carol Swain, department of political science, Princeton University, was incorrectly listed in the People in Political Science section of the September 1994 issue of PS. Swain has been promoted to associate professor of politics and public policy.