SUBMISSION OF PAPERS

Papers should be submitted, in accordance with the instructions to Authors on the inside back cover, to the Editor through the online submissions portal. Books for review should be sent to alice.kerr@kcl.ac.uk and emma.l.warnock-parkes@kcl.ac.uk

SPECIAL FEATURES

Original drawings or prints must be submitted for each line or half-tone illustration. Figures should be clearly labelled and be camera-ready manual. Photos etc, is referred to in an article, copies should be submitted as an additional document to facilitate review.

Figures.

References.

Text.

Title page.

A concluding (or only) paragraph must be the name and full mailing address of the author to whom reprint requests or other enquiries should be sent.

Acknowledgment.

A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the same initial surname should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. When there are three or up to and including five authors the first citation should include all authors; subsequent citations should be given as Williams et al. (1973). Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. Authors with the same initial surname should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.

References. All citations in the text should be listed in strict alphabetical order according to surnames. Multiple references to the same author (or authors) should be treated as a single entry.

References. Authors with the surname Williams should be distinguished by their initials. The appropriate positions of tables and figures should be indicated in the text. Footnotes should be avoided where possible.

References. A list of all cited unpublished or limited circulation material, numbered in order of appearance in the text, giving as much information as possible about each manuscript.
Contents

EMPIRICALLY GROUNDED CLINICAL INTERVENTIONS

The Use of Rescripting Imagery for People with Psychosis Who Hear Voices 129
Ison, R., Medoro, L., Keen, N. & Kuipers, E.

MAIN ARTICLES

Rumination, Depressive Symptoms and Awareness of Illness in Schizophrenia 143
Thomas, N., Ribaux, D. & Phillips, L. J.

Living Through Distress: A Skills Training Group for Reducing Deliberate Self-Harm 156
Booth, R., Koogi, K., Doyle, J. & Owens, T.

Metacognitive Therapy in Treatment-Resistant Psychosis: A Multiple-Baseline Study 166
Hutton, P., Morrison, A. P., Wardle, M. & Wells, A.

The Work and Social Adjustment Scale as a Measure of Dysfunction in Chronic Insomnia: Reliability and Validity 186
Jansson-Frömmark, M.

A Mixed-Methods Evaluation of a Pilot Psychosocial Intervention Group for Older People with Schizophrenia 199
Berry, K., Purandare, N., Drake, R., Elmsley, R., Jones, L. & Barrowclough, C.

The Relationship between Perfectionism and Rumination in Post Traumatic Stress Disorder 211
Egan, S. J., Hattaway, M. & Kane, R. T.

Early Improvement in Eating Attitudes during Cognitive Behavioural Therapy for Eating Disorders: The Impact of Personality Disorder Cognitions 224
Park, E. C., Waller, G. & Gannon, K.

BRIEF CLINICAL REPORTS

A Preliminary Attempt to Experimentally Induce Post Event Processing in Social Anxiety Disorder 238
Roxa, K., Antony, M. M., Swanson, R. P. & McCabe, R. E.

An Initial Evaluation of the Clinical and Fitness for Work Outcomes of a Military Group Behavioural Activation Programme 243
Wesson, M., Whybrow, D., Gould, M. & Greenberg, N.

Developing a Compassionate Mind to Enhance Trauma-Focused CBT with an Adolescent Female: A Case Study 248
Bowyer, L., Wallis, J. & Lee, D.

Book Reviews 255