

MONETARY REDRESS FOR ABUSE IN STATE CARE

Investigating a fast-developing field of public policy, Stephen Winter examines how states redress injuries suffered by young people in state care. Considering ten illustrative exemplar programmes from Australia, Canada, Ireland, and Aotearoa New Zealand, Winter explores how redress programmes attempt to resolve the anguish, injustice, and legacies of trauma that survivors experience. Drawing from interviews with key stakeholders and a rich trove of documentary research, this book analyses how policymakers should navigate the trade-offs that survivors face between having their injuries acknowledged and the difficult, often retraumatizing, experience of attaining redress. A timely critical engagement with this contentious policy domain, Winter presents empirically driven recommendations and a compelling argument for participatory, flexible, and survivor-focused programmes.

STEPHEN WINTER is Associate Professor of Political Theory at the University of Auckland and a leading expert in state redress programmes. He is the author of Transitional Justice in Established Democracies: A Political Theory (2014) and co-editor of Magna Carta and New Zealand: History, Politics and Law in Aotearoa (2017).
