Contents

1 Discussion: the futures of global history
Richard Drayton and David Motadel

16 Replies to Richard Drayton and David Motadel
David A. Bell and Jeremy Adelman

22 Readable flowers: global circulation and translation of collected saints’ lives
Jonathan E. Greenwood

46 The elk, the ass, the tapir, their hooves, and the falling sickness: a story of substitution and animal medical substances
Irina Podgorny

69 The world’s fairs as spaces of global knowledge: Latin American archaeology and anthropology in the age of exhibitions
Sven Schuster

94 Between art and information: communicating world health, 1948–70
Alexander Medcalf

121 Managing the world: the United Nations, decolonization, and the strange triumph of state sovereignty in the 1950s and 1960s
Eva-Maria Muschik

145 REVIEW ARTICLE

150 REVIEWS

156 ERRATUM
Journal of Global History

Journal of Global History is published by Cambridge University Press. Journal of Global History is indexed and abstracted in the following Thomson-Reuters products: Arts and Humanities Citation Index®, Current Contents/Arts & Humanities, Current Contents: Social & Behavioral Sciences, Journal Citation Reports/ Social Sciences Edition, Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editorial Board
Professor Ravi Ahuja University of Göttingen, Germany
Professor Gareth Austin University of Cambridge, UK
Professor Maxine Berg Warwick University, UK
Dr John Chalcraft London School of Economics and Political Science, UK
Professor David Christian Macquarie University, Australia
Professor Felipe Fernández-Armesto University of Notre Dame, USA
Professor Ulrike Freitag Free University of Berlin, Germany
Professor Pierre-Olivier Grouilleau Centre Roland Moussuier, ParisIV Sorbonne, France
Professor Nelly Hanna American University in Cairo, Egypt
Professor Marnie Hughes-Warrington Australian National University, Australia
Professor Joseph E. Inikori African University, Nigeria
Professor Li Bozhong Tsinghua University, China
Professor Victor Lieberman University of Michigan, USA

Editor-in-Chief
Professor Dominic Lieven University of Cambridge, UK
Professor Mary Jo Maynes University of Minnesota, USA
Dr Anna-Maria Mora University of Cambridge, UK
Professor Kenneth Pomerantz University of Chicago
Professor Shalini Randeria Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies / Institut de hautes études internationales et du développement, Switzerland
Professor Patricia Seed University of California, Irvine, USA
Dr Gagan Singh London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

Managing Editor
Pauline Khing Journal of Global History E-mail: jgh@cambridge.org Website: cambridge.org/jgh

Instructions to Contributors

Institutional Policy

The Journal of Global History seeks scholarly articles that explore global history. Consistent with our aim of publishing a journal of high quality and of broad scope, we maintain high standards of peer review and do not accept articles that exhibit lower standards of proof-reading or revisions. We reserve the right to decide the length of papers, to accept or reject articles, and to make any revisions suggested by the editorial board.

Policy on Articles

Authors should submit articles in electronic form, and include a brief statement about the background of the article, together with a fuller statement about the research questions and methodology. Articles should be around 10,000 words in length, not including footnotes. The journal also welcomes short articles (no more than 4,000 words) that provide a synthesis of current debates. These should be submitted via the journal’s online submission system at cambridge.org/jgh. The online submission system will guide authors through the process of making articles available online.

Policy on Timeframes

The journal's final decision about acceptance is made within 12 weeks of a manuscript's receipt. Authors should allow at least 12 months for the final publication of a paper.

Policy on Footnotes

Notes should be numbered consecutively and are to be kept to a minimum, except for the first note. Any revisions that contradict JGH house style will not be transferred. Authors are not shown second proofs which are checked by journal.

Published in February 2008, the first issue of the Journal of Global History, edited by the respected scholar Professor Ronald C. Price, was announced. The journal was launched in response to the growing interest in global history, a field that seeks to understand the world as a whole,而非 just as a collection of isolated events.

The Journal of Global History is designed to provide a forum for the publication of high-quality, scholarly articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal welcomes articles that explore the economic, political, social, and cultural developments that have occurred worldwide, as well as the ways in which these developments have been intertwined.

The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.

The journal is open to contributions from scholars around the world, and welcomes articles that address the history of global processes and the ways in which they have shaped the modern world. The journal is published twice a year, in March and September, and is available online at cambridge.org/jgh. It is indexed and abstracted in Thomson-Reuters products, and is also available in print.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Discussion: the futures of global history</td>
<td>Richard Drayton and David Motadel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>Replies to Richard Drayton and David Motadel</td>
<td>David A. Bell and Jeremy Adelman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22</td>
<td>Readable flowers: global circulation and translation of collected saints' lives</td>
<td>Jonathan E. Greenwood</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>46</td>
<td>The elk, the ass, the tapir, their hooves, and the falling sickness: a story of substitution and animal medical substances</td>
<td>Irina Podgorny</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>69</td>
<td>The world’s fairs as spaces of global knowledge: Latin American archaeology and anthropology in the age of exhibitions</td>
<td>Sven Schuster</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>94</td>
<td>Between art and information: communicating world health, 1948–70</td>
<td>Alexander Medcalf</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>121</td>
<td>Managing the world: the United Nations, decolonization, and the strange triumph of state sovereignty in the 1950s and 1960s</td>
<td>Eva-Maria Muschik</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>145</td>
<td>Unconnected arches</td>
<td>Haydon Cherry</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>150</td>
<td>George Lawson on Prasenjit Duara’s The crisis of global modernity: Asian traditions and a sustainable future</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>151</td>
<td>Kenneth Morgan on Lisa Lowe’s The intimacies of four continents</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>153</td>
<td>Johnny Fulfer on Vanessa Ogle’s The global transformation of time, 1870–1950</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>156</td>
<td>The category of ‘family workers’ in International Labour Organization statistics (1930s–1980s): a contribution to the study of globalized gendered boundaries between household and market – Erratum</td>
<td>Theresa Wobbe and Léa Renard</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>