Subscriptions

International Psychogeriatrics (ISSN 1360-3589) is published monthly by Cambridge University Press, Cambridge, UK. Although it is primarily concerned with psychogeriatrics, the journal welcomes contributions on all sides and the pages should be numbered. International Psychogeriatrics uses the spelling of American English. Manuscripts written by those whose primary language is not English should be edited carefully for language prior to submission. The journal has a Language Assistance Panel consisting of both native English speakers willing to check manuscripts for errors prior to submission, and bilingual experts willing to assist with the translation of manuscripts into English. Further details including contact information for individual panel members can be found at the International Psychogeriatrics website, cambridge.org/ipg. Please read these instructions carefully before submitting articles. Articles that are not prepared in accordance with these guidelines will be returned to authors.

Manuscripts should be submitted online via our manuscript submission and tracking site, www.editorialmanager.com/ipg. Full instructions for electronic submission are available directly from this site.

Scope and contributions

International Psychogeriatrics is written and read by those doing, clinical, teaching, and research work with older people. It is the official journal of the International Psychogeriatric Association (IPA) and is published by Cambridge University Press, Cambridge, UK. Although it is primarily concerned with psychogeriatrics, the journal welcomes contributions from all across the field of mental health and aging. Original research papers are particularly welcome.

Contributions include original research articles, reviews of the literature, book reviews, letters to the editor, and editorial. Apart from editorial and book reviews, which are commissioned, contributions to International Psychogeriatrics are spontaneously submitted and under the editor's discretion. Submissions of a paper implies that it is neither under consideration for publication elsewhere, nor previously published in English. Manuscripts must be formatted double-spaced with ample margins on all sides and the pages should be numbered. International Psychogeriatrics uses the spelling of American English. Manuscripts written by those whose primary language is not English should be edited carefully for language prior to submission. The journal has a Language Assistance Panel consisting of both native English speakers willing to check manuscripts for errors prior to submission, and bilingual experts willing to assist with the translation of manuscripts into English. Further details including contact information for individual panel members can be found at the journal's website, cambridge.org/ipg.

An up-to-date version of the journal's instructions for contributors can be found at the International Psychogeriatrics website, cambridge.org/ipg. Please read these instructions carefully before submitting articles. Articles that are not prepared in accordance with these guidelines will be returned to authors.
