PROCEDURE FOR MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION
Manuscripts of 8,000 to 10,000 words and any accompanying figures should be submitted electronically through the Editorial Manager online submission system (http://www.editorialmanager.com/jas/). If needed, the Editorial office can be reached via email: jas@journalofasianstudies.org or by phone: (444) 824-6521. Low-resolution images and illustrations are acceptable for the review process; all images, tables and figures should include titles or captions. Please note that in the event of publication, the author is responsible for acquiring high-resolution images along with permissions to publish them.

All authors who wish to include figures should read and follow the Cambridge Artwork Guide, available at https://journals.cambridge.org/action/displaypage?id=7584&level=1&menu=Authors&pageId=3609.

Due to the volume of submissions, we cannot evaluate proposed abstracts or titles, only full submissions. The Journal of Asian Studies does not do special issues.

See the AAS website (https://www.asian-studies.org/Publications/JAS), Cambridge Core (cambridge.org/jas), and Editorial Manager (http://www.editorialmanager.com/jas/default.aspx) for more information on the journal.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

When preparing a manuscript, please note that JAS is committed to publishing articles based on in-depth, original research. Authors should also take care to address the interests of our broad, multidisciplinary readership by raising larger questions of interest that reach beyond their precise research specialties. Authors are encouraged to consult recent issues of JAS for guidance on style and formatting.

1. Manuscripts submitted to JAS should not have been published elsewhere and should not be under review for publication elsewhere.
2. Articles are encouraged to be of high quality and that, when taken together, they make for individual issues and yearly volumes that seem likely to strike our readers as interesting and attractively varied.
3. Theљone over rule,љwhich means an ability to speak to someone in the same period. Articles do not need to be comparative or interdisciplinary. They do need to have a broad as-
4. Authors' names must be left off of the manuscript, as JAS engages in double-blind reviews.
5. Please double-space manuscripts and use 12-point type with 1 inch margins including abstracts, notes, and references.
6. Notes should be as few as possible and appear at the end of the text.
10. Articles in JAS represent neither the views of the Association for Asian Studies nor those of the JAS editors.
11. The Editor is responsible for the final selection of content of JAS and reserves the right to reject any material deemed inappropriate for publication. Responsibility for opinions expressed and the accuracy of facts published in articles and reviews rests solely with the individual authors.
12. The one over rule, which means an ability to speak to someone in a field close to the author's own. An article by, say, an anthropologist working on Laos need not have any obvious appeal to a literary critic specializing in the study of Korea, but if this piece would have no chance of drawing the interest of a sociologist whose focus is Cambodia, we have a problem. Similarly, while that imagined Korean
