The Cambridge History of American Literature

Volume I: 1590–1820

Edited by SACVAN BERCOVITCH

The Cambridge History of American Literature addresses the spectrum of new and established directions in American writing, wedding the voice of traditional criticism with the diversity of interests that characterise contemporary literary studies. Volume I covers the colonial and early national periods, discussing authors ranging from Renaissance explorers and Puritan theocrats to the poets and novelists of the new republic.

A Cultural History of the American Novel

Henry James to William Faulkner

DAVID MINTER

Minter's broad and synthetic vision of the relationship between literary narratives and cultural events reconstructs literary history as a cultural drama in which the novels and the events, provocative fusions of the real and the imagined, emerge as kindred forms of cultural expression.

The Politics and Poetics of Journalistic Narrative

The Timely and the Timeless

PHYLLIS FRUS

Frus's book tells the story of the separation of journalism from literature (Crane and Hemingway) in the early 20th century, and discusses the narratives that resulted when fiction and nonfiction appeared to merge again in the innovative journalism of the 1960s and 70s (Mailer, Capote, Wolfe, Janet Malcolm).

African American Theatre

An Historical and Critical Analysis

SAMUEL A. HAY

This book traces the history of African American theatre from its beginnings to the present. It analyses the types of plays written for this theatre, identifies the perennial problems faced by theatre artists and producing companies, and makes bold, innovative proposals for the theatre's healthy survival.

William Carlos Williams and Alterity

The Early Poetry

BARRY AHEARN

Many critics have noticed the paradoxes and contradictions in the work of William Carlos Williams, but few have analyzed them in detail. Professor Ahearn argues that Williams criticism has not gone far enough in recognising the uses Williams saw for contradiction.

Poetics of the Feminine

Authority and Literary Tradition in William Carlos Williams, Mina Loy, Denise Levertov and Kathleen Fraser

LINDA A. KINNAHAN

This book examines the early work of William Carlos Williams in relationship to a woman's tradition of American poetry, as represented by Mina Loy, Denise Levertov and Kathleen Fraser – three generations of women poets working in or directly from a modernist tradition. Linda Kinnahan traces notions of the feminine and the maternal that develop as Williams seeks to create a modern poetics.

The Baroque Narrative of Carlos de Siguenza y Gongora

A New World Paradise

KATHLEEN ROSS

This book is the first critical study to place both the writer and his narrative within the phenomenon of the Barroco de Indias, or the Spanish-American baroque. Approaching Siguenza as criollo historian preoccupied with the placement of the New World within a universal context, Professor Ross develops a theoretical framework within which his texts can be read and understood today.

The Limits of American Literary Ideology in Pound and Emerson

CARY WOLFE

Cary Wolfe analyses the dynamics and consequences of radical individualism and the sort of cultural critique it generates in Ralph Waldo Emerson and Ezra Pound. The main purpose of the book is to demonstrate that any form of individualism which is modelled on the logic and structure of private property will always reproduce the very contradictions and alienations which it set out to criticise and to remedy.

Constituting Americans

Cultural Anxiety and Narrative Form
Priscilla Ward

Ever since the founders drafted "We the People," "we" have been at pains to work out the contradictions in their formulation, to fix in words precisely what it means to be American. Constituting Americans rethinks the way that certain writers of the mid-nineteenth and early twentieth century contributed to this project; in doing so, it revises the traditional narrative of U.S. literary history, restoring an essential chapter to the story of an emerging American cultural identity.
New Americanists 368 pages, £16.95 pb

The Long War

The Intellectual People's Front and Anti-Stalinism, 1930-1940

Garrison Keillor

Peter A. Scholl

"Scholl's in-depth study draws parallels between Keillor's public career as a radio performer and his solitary life as a writer. Scholl calls it 'Keillor's duality, his doubleness. There is the celebrity and private citizen, the writer and the performer... Scholl was given complete access to the Minnesota Public Radio archives, and spent hours listening to reel-to-reel tapes and reading scripts. He also corresponded with and interviewed Keillor associates and interviewed the man himself." - Waterloo Courier 276 pages, £11.95 pb

Anne Tyler as Novelist

Edited by Dale Salwak

The seventeen essays that compose this volume, concentrate upon the distinctive features of Tyler's writing: her steady concern with the American family, the quietly comic touch that underlies her unobtrusive but perfectly controlled style, and her prodigious gift for bringing to life a variety of eccentric characters, their fears and concerns, their longing for meaning and understanding. 240 pages, £28.50 hb, £13.95 pb

The Last Word

Letters Between Marcia Nardi and William Carlos Williams
Edited by Elizabeth Murrie O'Neil

"This correspondence illuminates both the desperation of a woman poet seeking a language and a literary place that continued to elude her and the use a male poet made of her talent and desperation. An essential book for Williams scholars and for feminists." - Carolyn G. Heilbrun 292 pages, 9 photos, £32.95 hb, £15.95 pb

My Life with President Kennedy

Christopher Clausen

"Clausen remains one of the clearest thinking of our cultural critics. The reflections that he offers here are set instructively within an informed and engaging perspective . . . The result is a most provocative gathering: keen insights, fine writing." - Stanley Lindberg 128 pages, £21.95 hb, £9.50 pb

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, History Department, Lancaster University, Lancaster LA1 4YG, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 6,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been concurrently submitted for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed or printed in double spacing (including footnotes), with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to The Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition, 1982) or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Proof corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps). Typescripts from the UK will not normally be returned.
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
