Journal of Global History

Instructions to Contributors

Editorial Policy
The Journal of Global History seeks scholarly articles that explore broad questions of historical interpretation, and the historical imagination, the journal particularly welcomes contributions from Asia, Africa and Latin America. The editors approach refereeing from both senior figures in the field and younger scholars seeking to carry out detailed research in a wake context. The journal also publishes review articles, think-pieces and selected book reviews on a case by case basis. The advisory philosophy is to encourage disciplined diversity, disciplined through rigorous peer-review, and promotion in points of view. Every year nearly a third of the volume consists of these reviews.

Reviews of Books: The journal only publishes reviews that centrally address problems of global history. Publishers must submit an abstract to the Reviews Editor announcements of forthcoming or recently published books that they think would be of interest to global historians. They are not asked to send book reviews and心动地 requested to do so. Unpublished reviews will not be returned. Required books should be sent to the LSE address indicated below.

Book Review Editor
Dr John Chalcott
Department of Government
London School of Economics and Political Science
Houghton Street
London WC2A 2AE, UK
E-mail: journal.global.history@lse.ac.uk

Managing Editor
Pauline Kling
Journal of Global History
London School of Economics and Political Science
4th Floor, Tower 3
Houghton Street
London WC2A 2AE, UK
E-mail: journal.global.history@lse.ac.uk

Website: journals.cambridge.org/jgh

Copyright
This journal is registered with the Copyright Licensing Agency which may also copy material subject to payment to the C.C.C. of the per copy fee of £10.00. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes. Cite 1740-0281/01 $58.50. The journal is printed in the UK by Latimer Trend Printers, of high quality stock and white glossy prints. Maps sent by post must be black and white glossy prints. Photographs are sent by post, they should be black and white glossy prints sent by post. To: journal.global.history@lse.ac.uk

Language
Quotations in the text should be translated into English, and should be in full. Days of the week and months of the year should appear in full, as should centuries, thus eighteenth century. Numbers up to 100 should normally be spelled in full.

Numbers
Numbers should be given above the line. For dates and references to sources and descriptive headings must be in full.

Paragraphs and Sections
Paragraphs and sections should be clearly referenced in the text, and should be used where appropriate. The first page of the first paragraph should be numbered 1, and should have the necessary accents and other punctuation.

Footnotes
Footnotes should be numbered in one sequence, identified by a superior number in the text, and appear at the end of the text. They should be kept as short as possible.

References
References should be numbered in the text in the order of their appearance, and be included in the text. They should be kept as short as possible.

Abbreviations
Abbreviations should be used to keep footnotes to a minimum.

Promotion
Promotion is not essential, it should be identified by a superior number in the text, and appear at the end of the text. They should be kept as short as possible.

References
References should be numbered in the text in the order of their appearance, and be included in the text. They should be kept as short as possible.

Internet references
Internet references should only be used to direct the reader to the website. They should be included in the text, and should be used where appropriate.

Authors will receive a link to the PDF of their article after proofs which are checked by journal.

5. Proofs
The author(s) will be asked to sign copyright form(s) after proof stage. The publisher reserves the right to charge authors for corrections or non-typographical errors. Authors are to be sent an electronic version of their proofs which are to be returned to the proofreaders. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do work.

6. Offprints
Authors will receive a link to the PDF of their article after publication. Offprints may be purchased at proof stage.

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. IP address: 54.70.46.11, on 17 Jun 2019 at 21:03:36, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/S0263573900001192

Journal of Global History is published by Cambridge University Press for the London School of Economics and Political Science. Journal of Global History is indexed in the following Thomson-Reuters products: Arts and Humanities Citation Index; Current Contents®/Social & Behavioral Sciences; Current Contents®/Engineering, Computing, and Technology; Current Contents®/Life Sciences; Current Contents®/Social Sciences Citation Index. Journal of Global History is published eight times a year in May, July, and November. As a member of the Cambridge University Press, the London School of Economics and Political Science, and other publishers, this journal is committed to the highest standards of quality and ethics in journal publishing. The journal is owned and published by Cambridge University Press. The journal is distributed to subscribers only. It is not sold individually.

Journal of Global History (ISSN 1740-0281) is published twice in March, May, July, and November. Three parts form a volume. The subscriber services: Ann and Harriet Character Index®; Current Contents®/Social & Behavioral Sciences; Current Contents®/Engineering, Computing, and Technology; Current Contents®/Life Sciences; Current Contents®/Social Sciences Citation Index. The journal is owned and published by Cambridge University Press. The journal is distributed to subscribers only. It is not sold individually.
Contents

EDITORIAL
167 Editors’ note

ARTICLES
169 Markets in pre-industrial societies: storage in Hellenistic Babylonia in the medieval English mirror
Bas van Leeuwen, Peter Földvári and Reinhard Pirngruber
195 The hybrid military establishment of the East India Company in South Asia: 1750–1849
Kaushik Roy
219 Editorial – The transnational history of international institutions
Glenda Sluga
223 Transnational intellectual cooperation, the League of Nations and the problem of order
Daniel Laqua
249 Development advisors in a time of cold war and decolonization: the United Nations Technical Assistance Administration, 1950–59
David Webster
273 Algeria, France, Mexico, UNESCO: a transnational history of anti-racism and decolonization, 1932–1962
Todd Shepard

DISCUSSION — GLOBAL MIGRATION
299 From mobility transition to comparative global migration history
Jan Lucassen and Leo Lucassen
309 Different transitions: comparing China and Europe, 1600–1900
Adam McKeown
321 From regional to global repertoires of migration
Leslie Page Moch
327 Quantifying mobility in early modern Europe: the challenge of concepts and data
Josef Ehmke
339 Some considerations about the link between economic development and migration
Jelle van Lottum

REVIEW ARTICLE
345 Ottomans in early modern global history
Sam White

351 REVIEWS