Gender and Law

Gender Equality
Dimensions of Women’s Equal Citizenship
Edited by Linda C. McClain and Joanna L. Grossman
$90.00: Hb: 978-0-521-76647-0: 468 pp.
“This outstanding collection of essays both illuminates and complicates a range of gender justice problems in intimate and public arenas within and across national boundaries. The ‘citizenship’ of the title stands for democratic inclusion, and is animated by an aspirational vision of ‘equal citizenship’ for women and men. Yet the volume’s editors recognize that the citizenship concept is itself fraught and double-edged, and must be deployed self-critically... The volume offers a rigorous overview of many of the political and theoretical conundrums facing advocates of equal justice for women today.”
–Linda Bosniak, Rutgers University School of Law

Constituting Equality
Gender Equality and Comparative Constitutional Law
Edited by Susan H. Williams

The Gender of Reparations
Unsettling Sexual Hierarchies while Redressing Human Rights Violations
Edited by Ruth Rubio-Marin
“This book makes a unique contribution to our understanding of the gendered implications of transition for women. It sets out to map and expose the gendered terrain of reparations, and exceeds its own ambitions in the process. It cogently demonstrates the varied dimensions of reparations and how the giving or exclusion of remedies for women is an integral part of their integration into societies experiencing change.”
–Fionnuala Ni Aoláin, Dorsey and Whitney Chair in Law, University of Minnesota Law School and Director, Transitional Justice Institute, University of Ulster

MINERVA’S OWL
The Tradition of Western Political Thought
JEFFREY ABRAMSON
“[Abramson] gives us a wonderfully accessible survey of the entire field of Western political philosophy. His book is not only a fine introduction for beginners, but also an erudite, nonpartisan consideration for those who may be more conversant with the literature. There is something to think about on every page.”
—Roger Gathman, Austin American-Statesman

LUCAS A. POWE, JR.
Drawing on more than four decades of thinking about the Supreme Court and its role in the American political system, this book offers a new, clear, and troubling perspective on American jurisprudence, politics, and history. Lucas Powe shows how virtually every major Supreme Court ruling, however deftly framed in constitutional terms, suited the wishes of the most powerful politicians of the time.

THE ETHOS OF A LATE-MODERN CITIZEN
STEPHEN K. WHITE
White offers an incisive interpretation of our late-modern ethical-political condition and explains how a distinctive “ethos,” or spirit, of citizenship might constitute part of an exemplary response. This ethos requires reworking basic figures of the modern political imagination, including our conception of the self, citizenship, and democratic politics.

THE BIRTHRIGHT LOTTERY
Citizenship and Global Inequality
AYELET SHACHAR
“Shachar’s fundamental insight is to suggest treating the material benefits of citizenship as a form of property. That recasts citizenship as an inheritance... that ought to be taxed... For those who would argue that it is repellent to pay for your birthright—a sort of head tax in reverse—Shachar attacks the notion that citizenship is a natural right... [She] has raised the bar on the discussion of equality.”
—Cathal Kelly, Toronto Star

Autonomy for Kant is not just a synonym for the capacity to choose, whether simple or deliberative. It is what the word literally implies: the imposition of a law on one's own authority and out of one's own rational resources. In Kant and the Limits of Autonomy, Susan Meld Shell explores the limits of Kantian autonomy—both the force of its claims and the complications to which they give rise. Through a careful examination of major and minor works, Shell argues for the importance of attending to the difficulty inherent in autonomy and to the related resistance that in Kant's view autonomy necessarily provokes in us. Such attention yields new access to Kant's famous, and famously puzzling, Groundlaying of the Metaphysics of Morals. It also provides for a richer and more unified account of Kant's later political and moral works; and it highlights the pertinence of some significant but neglected early writings, including the recently published Lectures on Anthropology.

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS
A Life
by Melvin I. Urofsky
The first full-scale biography in twenty-five years of one of the most important and distinguished justices to sit on the Supreme Court—a book that reveals Louis D. Brandeis the reformer, lawyer, and jurist, and Brandeis the man, in all of his complexity, passion, and wit.

“...likely to become the standard biography. . . . An authoritative, impressive assessment of a man whose legal reasoning continues to influence our republic.” —Kirkus Reviews (starred)

WOODROW WILSON
A Biography
by John Milton Cooper, Jr.

“There is no more accomplished Woodrow Wilson scholar than John Milton Cooper, and this magisterial, judicious, deeply researched book—the culmination of decades of study—shows the author at the zenith of his powers. Cooper’s book demonstrates Wilson’s importance to our own generation, and his powerful judgments will shape the way we view the 28th President for a very long time.”

REVOLUTION 1989
The Fall of the Soviet Empire
by Victor Sebestyen

A revealing new account of the collapse of the Soviet Union’s European empire during months of largely peaceful revolution that profoundly changed the world. Authoritative, riveting in both its broad political sweep and its abundance of personal detail, this is an essential addition to the annals of contemporary history.

New Books from Yale

Superpower Illusions
How Myths and False Ideologies Led America Astray—And How to Return to Reality
Jack F. Matlock, Jr.

“Matlock held important positions in the years leading to the end of the Cold War. He has thought deeply about how to apply the lessons of that time to the challenges we have faced since then.”
—George P. Shultz
$30.00

Green Intelligence
Creating Environments That Protect Human Health
John Wargo

“This volume is a twenty-first century Silent Spring distilled and brought up to date with appealing prose. . . A disturbing book of revelations about the soup of manmade pollutants that permeates the entire world. . . . It also provides a clear roadmap for the ways forward. . . . Required reading for all citizens and leaders.”
—Thomas E. Lovejoy
17 illus. $32.50

In the Name of God and Country
Reconsidering Terrorism in American History
Michael Fellman

“This book is persuasive, eye-opening, and an essential historical grounding for our mistaken assumption that terror is something foreign to our own habits, self-image, and history.”
—David W. Blight
9 illus. $29.95

Montesquieu and the Logic of Liberty
War, Religion, Commerce, Climate, Terrain, Technology, Uneasiness of Mind, the Spirit of Political Vigilance, and the Foundations of the Modern Republic
Paul A. Rahe

This fresh examination of the works of Montesquieu seeks to understand the shortcomings of the modern democratic state in light of the great political thinker’s insightful critique of liberal democracy.

One Nation Under Contract
The Outsourcing of American Power and the Future of Foreign Policy
Allison Stanger

“Breaks new ground in describing how the emergence of joint ventures between the government and private actors is transforming government accountability and diplomacy.”
—Charles MacCormack
7 charts $26.00

Treasures of the Earth
Need, Greed, and a Sustainable Future
Saleem H. Ali

“Provides a welcome linkage between environmental behavior and poverty alleviation. Ali’s call for harnessing the earth’s resources efficiently and equitably deserves to be heeded by all sectors of society and used as a means of spurring innovations towards sustainable development.”
—Muhammad Yunus

The Anti-Enlightenment Tradition
Zeev Sternhell
Translated by David Maise

“Few scholars comprehend the nexus between Counter-Enlightenment discourse and fascist ideology as well as Zeev Sternhell. Sternhell provides a series of provocative and disturbing arguments to demonstrate convincingly just how fraught and intimate those linkages were. . . . A landmark and transformative contribution to the political history of ideas.”

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies announces its 2010–2011 Walter H. Shorenstein Fellowships. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent Ph.D.s must have degree conferral by August 31, 2010) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the program is contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or topics in international relations and international political economy. Fellows must be in residence for at least three academic quarters, beginning the fall quarter of the 2010 academic year. Fellows take part in center activities throughout the academic year, and are required to present their research findings in center seminars. Fellows also participate in the center’s publication program. The fellowship carries a stipend of $42,000, plus $2,500 for research materials.

Applicants should submit: (1) a brief research statement (not to exceed five typed pages), which describes the research and writing to be undertaken during the fellowship period, as well as the proposed publishable product that will result; (2) curriculum vitae; and (3) three letters of recommendation.

Deadline for Receipt of All Material Is December 15, 2009. Address all materials and queries to Ms. Nancy Ashton, Executive Assistant to the Director, Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Encina Hall E301, Stanford University, Stanford, CA 94305-6055. email nashton07@stanford.edu
