INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Editorial policy
Financial History Review, published by Cambridge University Press on behalf of the European Association for Banking and Financial History e.V., is committed to high international standards and publishes and reviews scholars doing research on banking, financial, monetary, insurance and financial history on any subject. International period and regional area. The Review adheres to seek to achieve a broad approach in publishing research findings within the growing international scope. Articles can address banking, financial and monetary history from different perspectives, including theoretically inspired approaches, advanced theoretical analysis, and the interconnections between history, finance, policy, culture and society. The Review particularly encourages submissions from young scholars.

Articles should normally be of 6,000 words including footnotes, tables and any other illustrative material. A graphic abstract may be provided, up to 300 words.

The journal is published in English and contributions should be submitted in that language. Authors whose native language is other than English are encouraged to obtain a blinded copy of their manuscript from a professional native speaker to prepare a preliminary version for submission.

Preparation of manuscripts
1. Articles should be double spaced throughout. 0.24 in. is 6.24 cm. 1.0 or 1.12

2. Pages should be numbered consecutively beginning with the title page, the page number being placed directly at the top right-hand corner of the page.

3. Footnotes should be double spaced, double ruled and numbered consecutively and be grouped at the bottom of the page. Footnotes should be included in the.

4. Articles should be double spaced into subsections designated by Roman numerals on the page. Sub-headings within an article should be avoided.

5. Tables, maps and figures should be submitted on separate pages and grouped together in a section at the end of the manuscript. Please number tables/maps/figures consecutively with Arabic numerals, e.g. Table 1, Map 5, Figure 24.

6. Substantive footnotes, involving commentary or argument, should be avoided, such material being more properly contained within the body of the text. If an elaborate commentary on any point is needed, and cannot be incorporated within the body of the article, it should form an appendix to the article (to be included in the total extent of 6,000).

7. Articles of appropriate length, double spaced throughout, 6,000 words, are published.

8. With permission, an electronic reprint can be placed on the web site.
