SPECIAL ISSUE
Future time reference in English
Edited by Ilse Depraetere and Christopher Williams

161 Introduction by the guest editors

ARTICLES
163 The development of future time expressions in Late Modern English: redistribution of forms or change in discourse?
Nadja Nesselhauf

187 Will: tense or modal or both?
Raphael Salkie

217 Expressions of futurity in contemporary English: a Construction Grammar perspective
Alexander Bergs

239 Beyond aspect: will be -ing and shall be -ing
Agnès Celle and Nicholas Smith

271 Future time reference expressed by be to in Present-day English
Renaat Declerck
INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submitted papers as well as general correspondence should be sent to the appropriate editor, as follows:

Baaerts papers on present-day English syntax and morphology, papers not obviously falling under any of the areas listed below, and all reviews

David Denison: papers on historical syntax and morphology

April McMahon: papers on historical and present-day phonetics and phonology

North American contributors may, if they prefer, submit manuscripts to

Professor Robert Stockwell, University of California, Los Angeles

E-mail: b.aarts@ucl.ac.uk

http://assets.cambridge.org/ELL/ELL_ifc.pdf

North American contributors may, if they prefer, submit manuscripts to Cambridge University Press.

Submissions of an article are taken to imply that it has not been previously published or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.

1. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

2. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

3. If an accepted manuscript departs significantly from the style specified below, the editor may be asked to reformat it. Detailed instructions for contributors are available at http://assets.cambridge.org/ELL/ELL_ifc.pdf

4. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to assign copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press.

5. Manuscripts accepted for publication will be double-spaced throughout. The first lines of paragraphs, except when the first paragraph of a new section or sub-section, should be indented. There should be no extra space between paragraphs.

6. Italics may be used in the manuscript. Besides the first paragraph of a new section or sub-section, should be indented. There should be no extra space between paragraphs.

7. DOIs give each article and book review a code made up of a Cambridge University Press prefix and a unique numerical identifier number, which is a code increasingly in use for items published on the web. Such articles and book reviews can then be referenced and retrieved as separate items. DOIs will also be useful for citing and identifying individual articles as separate entities, without the need to list specific journal, volume or issue details.

8. TOC entries in the online journals may be viewed in the online version from the beginning of the journal. For all other use of material from the journal permission must also be double-spaced starting from 1. Footnote indicators in the text should be outside punctuation.

9. Each article and book review in the journal is annotated with a digital object identifier (DOI). A DOI gives each article and book review editor a code made up of a Cambridge University Press prefix and a unique numerical identifier number, which is a code increasingly in use for items published on the web. Such articles and book reviews can then be referenced and retrieved as separate items. DOIs will also be useful for citing and identifying individual articles as separate entities, without the need to list specific journal, volume or issue details.

10. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

11. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

12. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

13. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

14. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

15. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

16. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

17. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

18. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

19. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

20. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

21. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

22. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

23. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

24. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

25. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

26. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

27. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

28. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

29. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

30. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.

31. Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (or equivalent). Shorter pieces and squibs are welcome.

32. Authors should submit to the appropriate editor an electronic copy of the paper, preferably in Microsoft Word DOC format. The name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details should be on a separate page at the start of the document. Occasionally, an author may be asked to send a paper copy of the manuscript by post or a PDF version as well.