Editor's note

This second part of vol. 15, the last for which I am responsible as Editor, is seriously delayed. For this I offer sincere apologies, especially to those contributors whose work has thus had its publication quite undeservedly deferred. My successor has my best wishes and sympathy.

J.C. Wells, University College London.

Further editorial work on this issue has been done by various people at UCLA who made a number of editorial changes while producing the camera ready copy. There has, however, been nobody in charge of sub-editing this issue, and as a result there are numerous inconsistencies. We hope that authors and readers alike will accept our apologies.

Peter Ladefoged, UCLA.
