THE VOICE RESEARCH SOCIETY

We announce the formation of the Voice Research Society. The Society brings together the different professions within the Arts, Sciences and Medicine that deal with all aspects of normal and disorderd voice. The objects of the Society are to provide:

1. Information about voice research
2. Identification and standardization of the terminology used to describe voice quality
3. An annual up-dating symposium
4. A journal in order that research in aspects of voice may be freely available to all related disciplines.

A distinguished international advisory board has been formed. Membership is open to all professionals interested in voice. The annual subscription for membership is £12.50. A regular newsletter will be circulated to members.

Application forms for membership and further details are available from the Honorary Secretary:
