INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS Latin American Politics and Society (formerly the Journal of Interamerican Studies and World Affairs) publishes articles presenting original research in contemporary Latin American politics, economics, sociology, and U.S.-Latin American relations. The journal also considers essays addressing political, social, and economic issues in Latin American studies. Manuscripts must be in English and must not be under current consideration by any other publication. Manuscripts should be submitted via email, preferably in Microsoft Word format. Please include the author’s name, mailing address, phone, fax, and email, on a separate page; and an abstract of the paper, up to 150 words. All text, notes, references, and tables should be double-spaced in Times New Roman 12 type. Maximum total length is 40 pages (about 10,000 words). References should follow the Chicago Manual author-date citation style. All submissions considered for publication are sent to outside reviewers and are subject to revision before final acceptance and editing before publication.
