THE CONTRIBUTORS

Hans Speier is chief of the Social Science Division of the Rand Corporation. His recent publications include German Radio Propaganda, with Ernst Kris, et al. (1944), and Social Order and the Risks of War: Papers in Political Sociology (1952).

Charles A. Micaud is an associate professor in the Woodrow Wilson School of Foreign Affairs at the University of Virginia. He is the author of The French Right and Nazi Germany, 1933-1939 (1943), and a contributor to Modern France: Problems of the Third and Fourth Republic, edited by Edward Mead Earle (1951).

Forrest C. Pogue has been a War Department Historian since 1946, and has just completed The Supreme Command for the Office of the Chief of Military History, Department of the Army. He is now a member of the Operations Research Office, Johns Hopkins University, which is under contract with the Department of the Army.

Isaac Deutscher was, in recent years, a member of the editorial staffs of the London Economist and Observer. Since the appearance of Stalin: A Political Biography in 1949, he has published Soviet Trade Unions (1950), and is now preparing biographies of Trotsky and Lenin.

Edgar S. Furniss, Jr., is assistant professor of politics at Princeton University. He was an undergraduate and graduate student of Professor Nicholas John Spykman, whose work he reappraises in this issue of World Politics, acted as his teaching assistant, and assumed direction of his undergraduate course during Professor Spykman's last illness.

Klaus Knorr is associate professor of public affairs at the Center of International Studies, Princeton University.

Kurt P. Tauber received his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1951; his doctoral dissertation, "The Foundations of the Doctrine of Self-Defense," was awarded the Chase Prize. He is currently engaged, with a colleague, on historical studies of recurrent phenomena in international relations.
