Epidemiology and Infection

Editor-in-Chief

Norman Noah, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, UK

Epidemiology and Infection publishes original reports and reviews on all aspects of infection in humans and animals. Particular emphasis is given to the epidemiology, prevention and control of infectious diseases. The field covered is broad and includes the zoonoses, tropical infections, food hygiene, vaccine studies, statistics and the clinical, social and public health aspects of infectious disease. Papers covering microbiology and immunology, which have an epidemiological relevance, are part of this broad field. Papers come from medical and veterinary scientists worldwide. It has become the key periodical in which to find the latest reports on recently discovered infections and new technology. For those concerned with policy and planning for the control of infections, the papers on mathematical modelling of epidemics caused by historical, current and emergent infections, will be of particular value.

Cover Artwork

Coastal Bloom I, acrylic painting on Yupo by Kristine S. Kellor

In her artistic work, Kristine S. Kellor works to “Depict the Inexpressible.” Her abstract paintings are inspired by her inner experience and imagination. The use and understanding of bold colors is, she believes, the strongest aspect of her paintings. She is not afraid of color and uses it freely in both her fiber and 2-D paintings.

Kristine has always enjoyed nature and believes her life-long engagement with vegetable and flower bed design and cultivation heavily influences her creative and artistic eye. Her primary medium is abstract water-based painting.

Her work can be viewed at her website: kristine-kellor.artistwebsites.com.

Aims and Scope: The mission of Prehospital and Disaster Medicine (PDM) is the distribution of information relevant to the practice of out-of-hospital and in-hospital emergency medical care, disaster health, and public health and safety. PDM provides an international forum for the reporting and discussion of scientific studies, both quantitative and qualitative, that have relevance to the above practices. The major objectives are: (1) the improvement of the types and quality of the care delivered to patients with perceived medical emergencies and to victims of multi-casualty accidents or disasters, including the public health and safety aspects of such events; and (2) the prevention and/or mitigation of the occurrence of such events and of the effects of these events upon the human population and environment.
