Politics & International Relations

Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

The politics list at Cambridge is one of unparalleled quality and range.

Our books list routinely tops surveys of political scientists for the calibre of its output, which includes field-defining series such as Cambridge Studies in Comparative Politics, Cambridge Studies in International Relations and Cambridge Texts in the History of Political Thought.

American Political Science Review and International Organization are widely recognised as the leading generalist journals in political science and international relations, while the likes of British Journal of Political Science and World Politics remain essential reading for researchers worldwide.

For students and scholars across the breadth of political enquiry, Cambridge is the resource of choice.

For further details visit: cambridge.org/core-politics-and-IR
Cambridge Core

The new home of academic content

cambridge.org/core
STUDIES IN AMERICAN POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT

Editors
Anthony S. Chen, Northwestern University
Eric S. Schickler, University of California, Berkeley
Robin L. Einhorn, University of California, Berkeley

Editorial Advisory Board
Joyce Appleby, History, University of California, Los Angeles
Brian Balogh, History, University of Virginia
Richard Bensel, Government, Cornell University
Amy Bridges, Political Science, University of California, San Diego
Walter Dean Burnham, Government, University of Texas
Daniel Carpenter, Government, Harvard University
Elizabeth Clemens, Sociology, University of Chicago
Eldon Eisenach, Political Science, University of Tulsa
Richard Ellis, Politics, Villanova University
Victoria Hallman, New School for Social Research
Scott James, Political Science, University of California, Los Angeles
Ira Katznelson, Political Science and History, Columbia University

Editors in American Political Development is a semi-annual periodical which publishes theoretical and empirical research on political development and institutional change in the United States. A diversity of subject matters and methodologies is invited, including comparative or international studies that illuminate the American case. Manuscripts of up to 75 pages in length, excluding footnotes, will be considered. There is a “Notes” section for shorter presentation of research perspectives and findings. Also welcomed are review essays on bibliographies of unusual interest, and methodologies is invited, including comparative or international studies that illuminate the American case. Manuscripts should conform to Chicago style (see below for examples concerning preparation of reference and note materials).

Preparation of Manuscripts: Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced, and submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at: http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Authors should upload their manuscripts (double spaced) to the SAPD online submissions system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Manuscripts are welcomed for any period in American political development, ranging from the colonial era to the present. Manuscripts should conform to Chicago style (see below for examples concerning preparation of reference and note materials). Manuscripts should be sent to the editorial correspondence email: sapd@bspace.berkeley.edu. Manuscripts should be submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Authors should upload their manuscripts (double spaced) to the SAPD online submissions system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd.

Notes and references: Notes and references should be formatted in one of the following styles: Chicago, APA, or Harvard. Notes and references should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the essay, not at the foot of the page. Notes and references should be numbered consecutively throughout the article. Numbered notes should appear at the end of the sentence. If multiple notes are cited in a sentence they should appear as one consolidated note at the end of the sentence. Examples of correct styling for references are as follows:

Congressional records: Congressional Record, 5th Congress, 1st Sess., 1843, 89, 3553.

Electronic publication: Readers should check the electronic version of the article for the most up-to-date information on the availability of online content.

Preparation of manuscript: Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced, and submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Manuscripts are welcomed for any period in American political development, ranging from the colonial era to the present. Manuscripts should conform to Chicago style (see below for examples concerning preparation of reference and note materials). Manuscripts should be sent to the editorial correspondence email: sapd@bspace.berkeley.edu. Manuscripts should be submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Authors should upload their manuscripts (double spaced) to the SAPD online submissions system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd.

Notes and references: Notes and references should be formatted in one of the following styles: Chicago, APA, or Harvard. Notes and references should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the essay, not at the foot of the page. Notes and references should be numbered consecutively throughout the article. Numbered notes should appear at the end of the sentence. If multiple notes are cited in a sentence they should appear as one consolidated note at the end of the sentence. Examples of correct styling for references are as follows:

Congressional records: Congressional Record, 5th Congress, 1st Sess., 1843, 89, 3553.

Electronic publication: Readers should check the electronic version of the article for the most up-to-date information on the availability of online content.

Preparation of manuscript: Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced, and submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Manuscripts are welcomed for any period in American political development, ranging from the colonial era to the present. Manuscripts should conform to Chicago style (see below for examples concerning preparation of reference and note materials). Manuscripts should be sent to the editorial correspondence email: sapd@bspace.berkeley.edu. Manuscripts should be submitted as an electronic file via the online submission system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd. Authors should upload their manuscripts (double spaced) to the SAPD online submissions system at http://www.editorialmanager.com/sapd.

Notes and references: Notes and references should be formatted in one of the following styles: Chicago, APA, or Harvard. Notes and references should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the essay, not at the foot of the page. Notes and references should be numbered consecutively throughout the article. Numbered notes should appear at the end of the sentence. If multiple notes are cited in a sentence they should appear as one consolidated note at the end of the sentence. Examples of correct styling for references are as follows:

Congressional records: Congressional Record, 5th Congress, 1st Sess., 1843, 89, 3553.

Electronic publication: Readers should check the electronic version of the article for the most up-to-date information on the availability of online content.
ARTICLES

Barack Obama, Organizing for Action, and Executive-Centered Partisanship
Sidney M. Milkis and John Warren York 1

Judicial Partisanship and the Slaughterhouse Cases: Investigating the Relationship Between Courts and Parties
Gregory Elison 24

States as Stakeholders: Federalism, Policy Feedback, and Government Elites
Andrew Karch and Shanna Rose 47

Parties Without Brands? Evidence from California’s 1878–79 Constitutional Convention
Vladimir Kogan and Michael Binder 68

The Recursive Outcomes of the Multiracial Movement and the End of American Racial Categories
Kim M. Williams 88

Constructing Industrial Order in the Center of the American Economy: How Electoral Competition and Social Collaboration Evolved in Twentieth-Century New York
Stephen Amberg 108

The United States Military, State Development, and Slavery in the Early Republic
David F. Ericson 130