BOOK REVIEW

DAVID MARNO
Death Be Not Proud: The Art of Holy Attention (Eleanor Hardy) [289]
Religious Studies is an international journal devoted to the philosophy of religion. Each article must be submitted with an abstract of 100 words. If an article has been accepted for publication, the author must provide their manuscript according to the journal style guide which can be found at journals.cambridge.org/es. Articles and book reviews will be checked and copy-edited for journal style and UK English. The manuscript must be supplied in electronic format as Microsoft Word accompanied by a pdf of the same file.

Editorial policy

Religious Studies is an international journal devoted to the problems of the philosophy of religion as these arise out of classical and contemporary discussions and from varied religious traditions. Space is devoted to articles, of which more than 25 are published each year, but the journal also contains classical and contemporary discussions and from varied religious traditions. Space is devoted to articles, of which more than 25 are published each year, but the journal also contains book review sections, which may include review articles and shorter notes as well as normal-length reviews.

1. Submissions

All contributions must be submitted via the electronic submission system at http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/rs.

For further details, please visit the journal’s website: cambridge.org/res.

No article will be accepted for publication without blind review. The text of submitted articles must be ready for this and must bear no trace of the author's identity. Articles that are not ready for blind review will be rejected. Discussion notes should be replies to papers published in Religious Studies. The text of submitted articles must be ready for this and must bear no trace of the author’s identity. Articles that are not ready for blind review will be rejected. Discussion notes should be replies to papers published in Religious Studies.

2. Manuscript preparation

Articles must be submitted as Word files to the journal and should not be more than 8,000 words long. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should be in English.

3. Proofs

First proofs are sent to contributors by e-mail as PDF files. Corrections will only be accepted if they are returned within the specified time. Typographical or factual errors only may be changed at proof stage. The publisher reserves the right to change authors for correction of non-typographical errors.

4. Offprints

Complimentary offprints are not supplied. Each author will receive a pdf file containing their contributions to the journal, for their own use. Authors of Articles will also receive a copy of the journal.
