Managing the world: the United Nations, decolonization, and the strange triumph of state sovereignty in the 1950s and 1960s – ERRATUM

Eva-Maria Muschik

The publishers regret there was a factual error on page 131 (penultimate sentence). It should read: Although sixteen countries joined the UN in 1955, only six were from Asia and Africa. Between 1945 and 1965, fifteen new states from Asia and Africa joined the UN.
