On page 371 of Volume 7 (3), the sentence starting on line three of the abstract: “In this respect, the speaker/writer’s increasing certainty upon the realization of an event or situation is here as factualization” should read “In this respect, the speaker/writer’s increasing certainty of the realization of an event or situation is here seen as factualization”.

Also, on page p.371 and 372: the word “subjected” should read as “subjectified”
