LaunchPad Solo for Literature

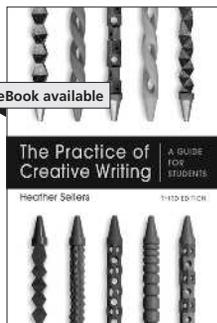

macmillanlearning.com/launchpadsolo/literature/catalog

LaunchPad Solo for Literature helps beginning literature students learn and practice close reading and critical thinking skills in an interactive environment. Easy-to-use and easy-to-assign modules based on widely taught literary selections guide students through four common assignment types: responding to a reading, drawing connections between texts, instructor-led collaborative close reading, and listening to a reading.

- Engage in 20 Interactive modules that guide students in close readings of selections including Ernest Hemingway's, "Hills Like White Elephants", Gwendolyn Brooks, "We Real Cool", and William Shakespeare's, scenes from A Midsummer Night's Dream
- Access nearly 500 reading comprehension quizzes on commonly-taught selections
- Watch engaging videos including student close readings and literary discussions by well-known authors
- Teach from a library of more than 200 additional literary selections
- Access additional resources including instruction on the literary elements, critical approaches, MLA documentation, and literary terms.
- Customize your course by adding your own content

A lucid and authoritative introduction to linguistics

Contemporary Linguistics

An Introduction
Seventh Edition

William O'Grady, John Archibald University of Calgary

Mark Aronoff State University of New York

Janie Rees-Miller

Contemporary Linguistics is one of the most comprehensive introductions to the fundamentals of linguistics, balancing engaging aspects of language study with solid coverage of the basics. Up-to-date scholarship, a direct approach, and a lucid writing style make it appealing to instructors and beginning students alike and a resource that many students continue to use beyond the classroom. Our online supplement Launchpad Solo for Contemporary Linguistics will be available with the new edition at no cost and includes four online chapters, quizzes, study materials, and interactive charts.

American Imperialism's Undead
The Occupation of Haiti and the Rise of Caribbean Anticolonialism
Raphael Dalleo

$35.00 | PAPER | NEW WORLD STUDIES

In American Imperialism's Undead, Raphael Dalleo examines how Caribbean literature and activism emerged in the shadow of the U.S. military occupation of Haiti (1915–34) and how that presence influenced the development of anticolonialism throughout the region.

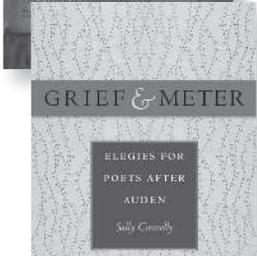

“A pivotal and long-overdue contribution.”—Nick Nesbitt, Princeton University, author of Caribbean Critique: Antillean Critical Theory from Toussaint to Glissant

Margaret Garner
The Premiere Performances of Toni Morrison's Libretto
Edited by La Vinia Delois Jennings

$49.50 | CLOTH

“The combination in this volume of personal, historical, political, diasporic, and artistic responses to the origin and impact of the opera Margaret Garner [based on Toni Morrison's Beloved] is both original and captivating. It is an engaging read, a brilliant design—full of many informative and surprising connections. A must-read!”—Carolyn Denard, Georgia College, Founder and Board Chair of the Toni Morrison Society

Grief and Meter
Elegies for Poets after Auden
Sally Connolly

$45.00 | CLOTH

“Grief and Meter is intelligent, well informed, well written, and perceptive both about individual poems and about the history of twentieth-century poetry. It pays homage to a group of modern masters of the elegy—Auden, Brodsky, Berryman, Lowell, Heaney—and links them in a ‘golden chain’ of interruptions and appreciations.”—Lawrence Lipking, Northwestern University, author of What Galileo Saw: Imagining the Scientific Revolution

Beautiful Deceptions
European Aesthetics, the Early American Novel, and Illusionist Art
Philipp Schweighauser

$45.00 | CLOTH

“Beautiful Deceptions is an enthralling book and a masterful narrative on how modernization and European aesthetic theory are played out in the artistic realm of postrevolutionary America. The fullest, richest, and most compelling study of the subject.”—Oliver Scheiding, Transnational American Studies Institute

Philosophy as Poetry
Richard Rorty

$19.95 | CLOTH | PAGE-BARBOUR LECTURES

“Richard Rorty, in these wonderfully clear and compact lectures, gave the best summary of his views of the meaning of truth and the philosophy of language and mind. His defense of ‘narrative philosophy’ is enhanced by the vivid and memorable sketches of Hegel, Nietzsche, William James, and other moderns who aimed as Rorty did to reconcile the work of reason and imagination.”—David Bromwich, Yale University

THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA PRESS

We invite submissions for the annual Walker Cowen Memorial Prize Competition, awarded to the author of a scholarly book-length manuscript in eighteenth-century studies. Submissions may be in history, literature, philosophy, or the arts. The winner will receive a $5,000 award and will be offered an advance publishing contract from the University of Virginia Press.

Deadline November 1, 2017

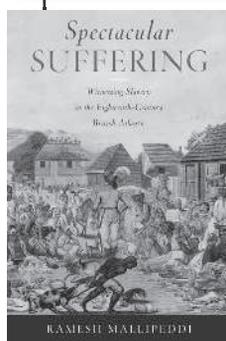

WINNER OF THE WALKER COWEN MEMORIAL PRIZE

Empiricist Devotions

Science, Religion, and Poetry in Early Eighteenth-Century England
Courtney Weiss Smith

$45.00 | CLOTH

“This nuanced and original book is a valuable corrective to the secularization thesis, one whose exquisite attention to all that language can be and do restores the possibility of devotion—and with it belief—to the empiricist and skeptical protocols long thought to have ruled them out.”—Jayne Elizabeth Lewis, University of California, Irvine

Spectacular Suffering

Witnessing Slavery in the Eighteenth-Century British Atlantic
Ramesh Mallipeddi

$49.50 | CLOTH

“Mallipeddi’s prose is precise and evocative as he engages with anti- and proslavery texts and important historical documents; his is political and ethical criticism at its most convincing.”
—Suvir Kaul, University of Pennsylvania

Raving at Usurers

Anti-Finance and the Ethics of Uncertainty in England, 1690-1750
Dwight Cochr

$39.50 | CLOTH

“Raving at Usurers is a self-declared ‘contrarian’ reconsideration of the financial revolution of the 1690s. It is also a bold, brilliant, compelling account of the way economics and ethics were gradually torn asunder as ‘risk’ was defined as a threat to self-preservation rather than an opportunity to display obedience to God. This pathbreaking book should be required reading for anyone who wants to understand the history of capitalism.”—Mary Poovey, New York University

Filled with slapstick humor, musical wizardry, and religious imagery, Tyler Perry's films have inspired legions of fans, and yet critics often dismiss them or demean their audience. Tyler Perry's America takes the films seriously in their own right. After providing essential background information on Perry's life and film career, the book looks at what the films reveal about post-civil rights America and why they inspire so many people. Tyler Perry's America is a thought-provoking examination of this powerhouse filmmaker which highlights the way Perry's films appeal to viewers by connecting a rich African-American folk-cultural past with the promise of modern sophistication.

"The book is lovingly informative, and Lee knows the context of the films (be it reality, novels, or other films). . . . Highly recommended."—CHOICE

"It is impossible to understand modern America without understanding the phenomenon that is Tyler Perry. In this book, Shayne Lee does a masterful job bringing us into the world of Tyler Perry films and helping us understand what they tell us about ourselves. A riveting read; be prepared to be surprised."
—Michael Emerson, Rice University

"In Tyler Perry's America: Inside His Films, sociologist Shayne Lee offers an unmatched and unrivaled scholarly consideration of the sociocultural relevance of Perry's oeuvre for a post-civil rights, post-soul era. . . . Lee offers here a compelling, rigorous sociological approach to his data that sets a new standard of engagement that future treatments will have to, no doubt, consider."—Monica R. Traditional scholarly journals tend conservatively to deal primarily with “establishment” topics, while those which are not yet admitted to the canon receive inadequate critical scrutiny or are treated in predictably aloof fashion. Because academic publishing may be a high-risk endeavor, subjects not in the mainstream may be shunted aside. While not all of equal significance, many such subjects are worthy of more serious consideration than they have received heretofore, and have much to offer investigators of contemporary myths and culture in regard to the mentality of the age, societal values, and the process of sociocultural change. Even texts of marginal or transitory literary significance can yield valuable historical and sociological insights.

Of primary consideration in the genesis of the MONOGRAPHIC REVIEW/REVISTA MONOGRÁFICA has been the remedying of specific areas of critical neglect. The monographic format was selected because of its combination of the convenience and greater comprehensiveness of book form with the versatility of the periodical. Each number is monographic in its treatment of a single topic while offering a variety of critical viewpoints and methodologies.

MONOGRAPHIC REVIEW/REVISTA MONOGRÁFICA, comprising a series of annual monographic volumes (one per year) is sold by individual numbers, purchase of which does not constitute a subscription to future numbers, although annual notices of pending new volumes are sent to prior purchasers. Please return your purchase order for Volume(s) _____ (below) with your check.

The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing

Theodore L. Blumberg

A most cogent guide to good legal writing. Blumberg emphasizes the importance of cultivating a clear and engaging prose style. He not only provides a typology of the profession's most common literary sins; he explores the motivations behind them. At once witty and exhilarating, The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing will change the way lawyers and scholars do business.

Under pressure of disbarment this book should be read and understood by every lawyer, most of whom forget they, and the judges who read their miserable briefs, are human beings.

— Gerry Spence

A remarkable and concise roadmap to more effective, intelligible and persuasive legal writing. An invaluable desktop resource.

— Theodore B. Olson

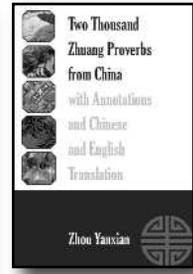

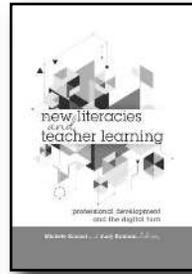

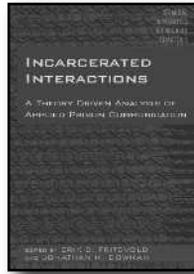

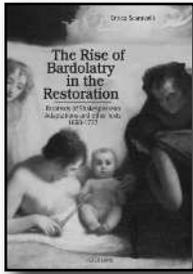

Theodore L. Blumberg practices corporate and entertainment law in Manhattan. A graduate of Temple University School of Law, he is a frequent contributor to The New York Law Journal and a lecturer in the Fahringer seminars in legal writing.

Best 2017 European 2017 Fiction 2017

Since 2010, this anthology has been an essential resource for readers, critics, and publishers interested in contemporary European literature. In this, the eighth installment of the series, Best European Fiction continues its commitment to uncovering the best prose writing happening on the continent – from Azerbaijan to Denmark, from Portugal to the Ukraine – featuring work by established authors such as Ann Cotten and Ida Jensen, as well as up-and-coming writers like Gauz and Wayne Price. The volume is also a forum for the best translators working today, featuring new translations by Martin Aitken, Matthew Hide, and many more. Also featuring a provocative prefatory essay written by Eileen Battersby, Best European Fiction 2017 is another essential report on the state of global literature in the twenty-first century.

the SHELBY CULLOM DAVIS CENTER for HISTORICAL STUDIES

<http://www.princeton.edu/dav/>

"Risk and Fortune"

Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies

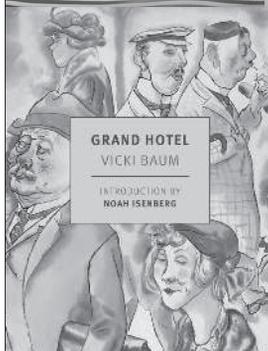

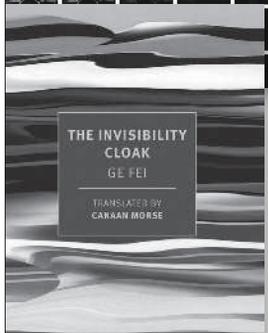

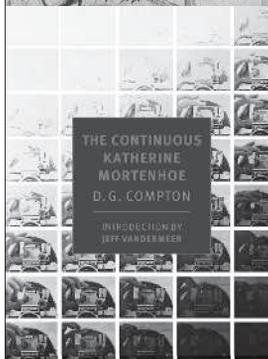

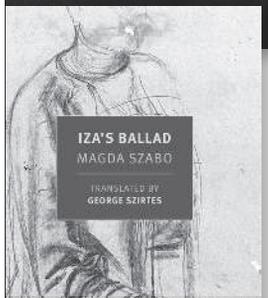

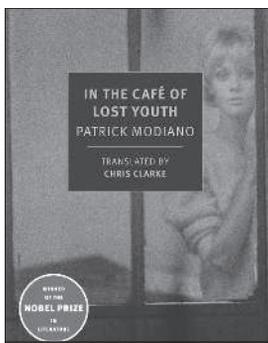

During the academic year 2017/18, the Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies will focus on the topic of "Risk and Fortune." Notions of risk have been important to human societies for centuries. Soothsaying, insurance, medical prognostication, financial investment, environmental protection, and gambling all contend with—or try to contain—possible losses. Conversely, good fortune has had its talismans and theorists throughout history. How have different cultures tried to tame chance, or comprehend its whims? To what degree have the practices of commerce relied upon, or alternatively reified, risk? Do technological systems generate hazards they are not capable of controlling? This two-year seminar will bring together scholars working on risk and fortune in historical societies around the world in all time periods, on topics including (but not restricted to) economics, science, religion, industry, statistics, and agriculture.

The Center will offer a limited number of visiting research fellowships for one or two semesters, running from September through January and from February through June. Early career scholars must have their doctoral degrees in hand at the time of the appointment. Fellows are expected to live in the Princeton area in order to take an active part in the intellectual interchange with other members of the Seminar. Funds are limited, and candidates are, therefore, strongly urged to apply to other grant-giving institutions as well as the Center if they wish to come for a full year.

To apply please link to: <http://jobs.princeton.edu>, requisition #1600646. The deadline for receipt of applications for fellowships for 2017/2018 is December 1, 2016, 11:59 pm EST. Please note that we will not accept faxed applications. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, cover letter, research proposal, abstract of proposal, and contact information for three references as part of the application process. For further information about the Davis Center, please go to <http://www.princeton.edu/dav>. Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Eighteenth-Century Fiction (ECF) is an international, peer-reviewed quarterly devoted to the critical and historical investigation of literature and culture of the period 1660-1832. Recognizing the fluid notions of fiction within the period, as well as the growing body of interdisciplinary work by scholars in the field, the ECF editors seek submissions that conceive of "fiction" in its broader sense and expand the frameworks of critical, historical, and theoretical discussion.

MODERN Drama

Modern Drama is the most prominent journal in English to focus on dramatic literature. The terms “modern” and “drama” are the subject of continuing and fruitful debate, but the journal has been distinguished by the excellence of its close readings of both canonical and lesser-known dramatic texts from a range of methodological perspectives. The journal features refereed articles written from a variety of geo-political points of view which enhance our understanding, both formal and historical, of the dramatic literature of the past two centuries. The book review section is curated by Prof. Ju Yon Kim (Harvard).

COMPLETE ARCHIVE NOW AVAILABLE! Modern Drama's complete archive of regular and special thematic issues, including over 4000 articles and reviews from 1958 to the present, is available at:

FROM THE

Library of Arabic Literature

The Library of Arabic Literature series offers Arabic editions and English translations of significant works of Arabic literature, with an emphasis on the seventh to nineteenth centuries. Books in the series are edited and translated by internationally recognized scholars and are published in parallel-text format with Arabic and English on facing pages, and are also made available as English-only paperbacks.

Dreams Deferred

A Concise Guide to the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict & the Movement to Boycott Israel

By Cary Nelson

400 pages, with 4 maps and detailed index
$12 in paper, $30 lithobound

"For all of us who hope for a decent peace between Israelis and Palestinians, who oppose the occupation and the BDS movement, who defend, against all odds, the two state solution, this book is powerful intellectual armor and an intellectual sword."

Michael Walzer, Institute for Advanced Study, author of Just and Unjust Wars, Thinking Politically, The Paradox of Liberation, and other books

"This book is aptly titled, particularly for Americans, who have our own continuing struggle with the unmet dreams and hopes of people in this land . . . The shalom and salaam that we call a just peace will come only when the parties involved sit down together to eat and share their deferred dreams."

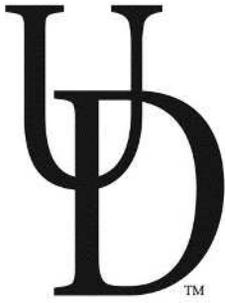

Bishop Katharine Jefferts Schori, 2006-2015 Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church of the United States

Fantasies of the Library
edited by Anna-Sophie Springer and Etienne Turpin

"When we think of the library we often focus on its systems of order. . . . But Fantasies of the Library reveals that our experience of the library is instead one of chaotic discovery and unexpected interconnections, a true reflection of the often nonlinear and dreamlike state of our own minds."

— Dan Cohen, Executive Director,
Digital Public Library of America

The Wild and the Wicked
On Nature and Human Nature
Benjamin Hale

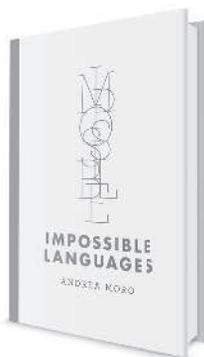

A brief foray into a moral thicket, exploring why we should protect nature despite tsunamis, malaria, bird flu, cancer, killer asteroids, and tofu.

System
The Shaping of Modern Knowledge
Clifford Siskin

The role that "system" has played in the shaping and reshaping of modern knowledge, from Galileo and Newton to our own "computational universe."

Infrastructures series

Impossible Languages
Andrea Moro

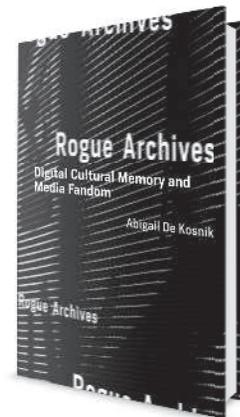

An investigation into the possibility of impossible languages, and the search for the indelible "fingerprint" of human language.

Social Media Archeology and Poetics
edited by Judy Malloy

First person accounts by pioneers in the field, classic essays, and new scholarship document the collaborative and creative practices of early social media.

Language and Literature Journals from UW Press

Contemporary Literature publishes scholarly essays on contemporary writing in English, interviews with established and emerging authors, and reviews of recent critical books in the field. The journal welcomes articles on multiple genres, including poetry, the novel, drama, creative non-fiction, new media and digital literature, and graphic narrative. As a forum for discussing issues animating the range of contemporary literary studies, CL features the full diversity of critical practices. Published quarterly. ISSN: 0010-7484, E-ISSN: 1548-9949.

Luso-Brazilian Review publishes interdisciplinary scholarship on Portuguese, Brazilian, and Lusophone African cultures, with special emphasis on scholarly works in literature, history, and the social sciences. Each issue includes articles and book reviews, which may be written in either English or Portuguese. Occasional issues are devoted to a special topic. Published bi-annually. ISSN: 0024-7413, E-ISSN: 1548-9957.

Founded in 1899, Monatshefte has been published continuously since 1899 at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. A quarterly journal devoted to German literature and culture, Monatshefte has retained its place at the forefront of American Germanistik. In addition to the articles on topics from all periods of German literature and book reviews of current scholarship in German Studies, the Winter issue (#4) contains our annual Personalia listing, an indispensable listing of new hires, retirements, promotions and visiting professors, with a list of all Ph.D. theses that have been defended in the preceding year. Published quarterly. ISSN: 0026-9271, E-ISSN: 1934-2810.

Substance has a long-standing reputation for publishing innovative work on literature and culture. While its main focus has been on French literature and continental theory, the journal is known for its openness to original thinking in all the discourses that interact with literature, including philosophy, natural and social sciences, and the arts. Published tri-annually. ISSN: 0049-2426, E-ISSN: 1527-2095.

JNT

JOURNAL OF NARRATIVE THEORY

JNT publishes theoretically sophisticated essays that examine narrative from a host of critical perspectives. Of particular interest are history and narrative; culture studies and popular culture; discourses of class, gender, sexuality, race, nationality, subalternity, and ethnicity; film theory, queer theory, and media studies; new historical, poststructural, or global approaches to narrative forms (literary or otherwise); along with essays that span or subvert epistemic and disciplinary boundaries. JNT is multi-genre, multi-period, and multi-national.

SYMPOSIUM A Quarterly Journal in Modern Literatures

Executive Editor
Amy S. Wyngaard
Syracuse University

HAROLD G. JONES AWARDS FOR BEST ESSAY

The Symposium editorial board is pleased to announce the creation of the Harold G. Jones Awards for Best Essay. Symposium will be awarding $1,000 prizes at the 2018 MLA Convention for the best essays published in the journal from 2015 to 2017. Three awards will be given, one in each of the following categories: graduate student, junior scholar (i.e., assistant professor), senior scholar (i.e., associate and full professor). Questions about the awards or submissions can be addressed to Editor Amy S. Wyngaard at symplit@syr.edu.

Symposium is a quarterly journal of criticism in modern literatures originating in languages other than English. Founded in 1946, the journal is housed in the Department of Languages, Literatures, and Linguistics at Syracuse University. Scholars of literature will find research on authors, themes, periods, genres, works, and theory, often through comparative or interdisciplinary studies.

Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry: A Postdoctoral Program in the Humanities and Social Sciences

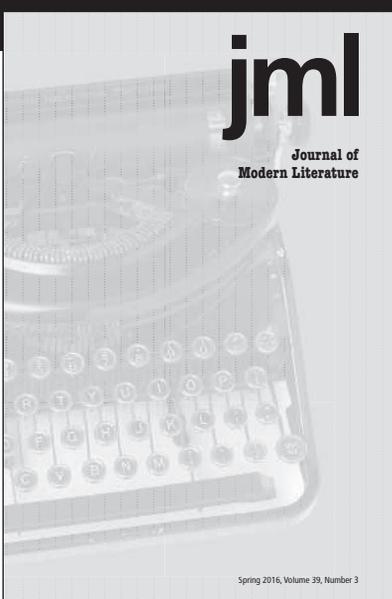

Washington University announces the seventeenth year of Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry, a postdoctoral fellowship program endowed by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, designed to encourage interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching across the humanities and social sciences. We invite applications from recent PhDs, DPhils, or D.F.As (in hand by June 30, 2017, and, no earlier than June 30, 2012) for a position as Fellow. In September 2017, the newly selected Fellow will join the University's ongoing interdisciplinary programs and seminars. The Fellow will receive a two-year appointment with a nine-month academic year salary beginning at $54,152 per year. Postdoctoral Fellows pursue their own continuing research in association with a senior faculty mentor at WU. They will teach three undergraduate courses and collaborate in leading an interdisciplinary seminar on theory and methods for advanced undergraduates and beginning graduate students in the humanities and interpretive social sciences.

Applicants should submit, through Interfolio, a cover letter, a description of their research program (no more than 1800 words and accessible to those in other fields), a brief proposal for an interdisciplinary seminar in theory and methods, and a curriculum vitae. Applicants who have not completed their doctoral work should indicate, in their cover letter, how many chapters of their dissertation are complete and how complete the remaining chapters are. Applicants should also arrange for the submission of three confidential letters of recommendation, also via Interfolio. Further information on Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry is available on the web at <http://mii.wustl.edu/>. Please email us at mii@wustl.edu with additional questions.

Submit materials to Interfolio at the following link by December 5, 2016. apply.interfolio.com/35890

NEW FROM INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Descended from Hercules

Biopolitics and the Muscled Male Body on Screen
Robert A. Rushing

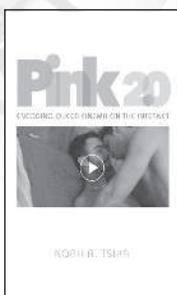

Muscles, six-packs, skin, and sweat fill the screen in the tawdry and tantalizing peplum films associated with epic Italian cinema of the 1950s and 1960s. Rushing traces these epic heroes from Maciste in Cabiria in the early silent era to contemporary transnational figures like Arnold Schwarzenegger in Conan the Barbarian, and to films such as Zach Snyder's 300.

Mothers, Comrades, and Outcasts in East German Women's Film

Jennifer L. Creech

Merges feminist film theory and cultural history in an investigation of "women's films" that span the last two decades of the former East Germany. Creech explores the ways in which these films functioned as an alternative public sphere, wherein official ideologies of socialist progress and utopian collectivism could be resisted.

Pink 2.0

Encoding Queer Cinema on the Internet
Noah A. Tsika

"... a rich, thought-provoking study at the cutting edge of media evolution. We certainly need more work like this: writing that expands the field of film and media studies into digitality without throwing the field-as-it-was completely overboard."

Human, All Too (Post)Human

The Humanities after Humanism

Edited by Jennifer Cotter, Kimberly DeFazio, Robert Faivre, Amrohini Sahay, Julie P. Tarrant, Stephen Tumino and Rob Wilkie

"Human, All Too (Post)Human is an uncommon book; it is a philosophically insightful and erudite analysis of the contemporary situation with deep political commitment to social change...at a time when critique itself has become the target of accommodationist thinkers such as Bruno Latour in order to sideline such un-assembling of the social."
—Peter McLaren, author of Life in Schools

Humanist modernity is seen in the contemporary as a regime that, by separating the human from the non-human and insisting on language as correlation not only fails to engage the emerging forms of social relations in which the boundaries of human and machine are fading but is also indifferent to the difference between the "other"'s life and other lives. Human, All Too (Post)Human: The Humanities after Humanism argues that the Nietzschean tendencies that provide the philosophical boundaries of post-humanism and its theoretical offshoots, such as accelerationism, new materialism, and actor-network theory, do not undo humanism but reform it, constructing a parallel discourse that saves humanism from itself. Grounded in materialist analysis of social life, Human, All Too (Post)Human argues that humanism and post-humanism are cultural discourses that normalize different stages of capitalism—analogue and digital capitalism. The question, the writers argue, is not humanism or posthumanism—namely cultural representations—but the material relations of production that are centered on wage labor.

THE UNKNOWN KEROUAC

Rare, Unpublished &
Newly Translated Writings

Todd Tietchen, editor

Jean-Christophe Cloutier, translator

With On the Road and other iconic works, Jack Kerouac established himself as a quintessentially American writer whose revolutionary style captured the spirit of a generation. The fourth volume in the Library of America's definitive edition of his works reveals for the first time the remarkable literary journey that led to his success, a journey with deep roots in the language and culture of Kerouac's French Canadian childhood. This groundbreaking collection of never-before-published writings includes two lost novels written in his native French and translated here for the first time; two fascinating and moving journals describing crucial turning points in his writing life; a brilliant and evocative memoir; and rare essays from the late 1940s celebrating Frank Sinatra and bebop. Here is an indispensable addition to the Kerouac canon, full of pleasures and surprises.

A Research Guide for Undergraduate Students 6th edition

and NANCY HULING

"This title holds place in the undergraduate reference canon alongside the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers. It belongs in every undergraduate library and in the hands of students writing research papers on American or English literature."

—Choice

For nearly twenty-five years A Research Guide for Undergraduate Students has helped students avoid the pitfalls of conducting library research for term papers and theses. The sixth edition shows undergraduates how to use their research time efficiently and how to locate and evaluate material available from electronic databases and the Internet.

Nancy L. Baker and Nancy Huling bring their experience as librarians to a concise tour of the typical college library and provide easy-to-understand summaries of the print and electronic research tools available to students.

2006. 104 pp.
Paper $12.00 (MLA members $8.40)

Literary Research Guide

The sixth edition of James L. Harner's Literary Research Guide is now available in a searchable online format for individuals.

"Animatedly, energetically, enthusiastically, and vigorously recommended . . . it should serve as a model for bringing a printed reference online."

—Library Journal

Updated regularly, the Literary Research Guide is a selective, annotated guide to reference sources essential to the study of British literature, literatures of the United States, other literatures in English, and related topics.

The annotations for each work

- describe its type, scope, major limitations, and organization
- evaluate coverage, organization, and accuracy
- explain its uses in research
- note related works, including ones not accorded separate entries in the Guide

Entries can be looked up in WorldCat and Google Books, and the Guide offers flexible search options.

Line by Line How to Edit Your Own Writing CLAIRE KEHRWALD COOK

"Line by Line . . . encourages and facilitates a precision in English syntax and usage that will add force to the work of any writer."

—College Composition and Communication

Remarkably accessible and a pleasure to read, Line by Line reveals the techniques used by professional editors to detect and revise flawed prose. Writers learn to catch their errors and to apply practical revision strategies that can be adapted to any sort of exposition. Hundreds of poorly written sentences are corrected step-by-step.

Line by Line concentrates, as no other book does, on specific ways to improve first drafts. It shows writers how to recognize and eliminate the stylistic faults that most often impede reading and obscure meaning.

A popular feature of the book is an appendix that, in glossary form, discusses troublesome usages (e.g., disinterested vs. uninterested, may vs. might, the subjunctive mood, that vs. which, who vs. whom). Another appendix reviews elementary syntax.

On Compiling an Annotated Bibliography 2nd edition

"Essential reading for any scholar or student thinking of compiling an annotated bibliography."

—Choice

James Harner's popular pamphlet, first published in 1985, has been revised and updated in the light of advances in computer technology and the availability of humanities databases. Harner offers useful information on planning research, organizing an annotated bibliography, compiling entries, using a computer to prepare the manuscript, and editing. While the booklet focuses on the preparation of a comprehensive bibliography on a single literary author, the procedures and techniques are easily adapted to selective or subject bibliographies and to other periods and disciplines.

In its review of the first edition, Research Strategies said:

"On Compiling an Annotated Bibliography . . . will be very helpful to scholars (including librarians) making their first attempts at scholarly bibliography. Graduate students preparing a bibliography to guide doctoral research will also find it informative."

2000. 48 pp.
Paper $10.00 (MLA members $7.00)

Now more than one hundred volumes, the MLA's popular Approaches to Teaching World Literature series addresses a broad range of literary texts. Each volume surveys teaching aids and critical material and brings together essays that apply a variety of perspectives to the teaching of the text. In these essays, experienced teachers discuss approaches and methods of presentation that they have found effective in keeping classroom discussions lively.

Unless otherwise noted, each volume is available in a CLOTH EDITION for $37.50 (MLA members $26.25) and in a PAPER EDITION for $19.75 (MLA members $13.83).

CORE: Give your work a wider audience.

commons.mla.org/core

What is CORE?

The Commons Open Repository Exchange is a digital repository for sharing work openly with the wider world. CORE combines a library-quality repository for disseminating, discovering, retrieving, and archiving humanities work with the social networking capabilities of MLA Commons and, beginning in November 2017, the interdisciplinary Humanities Commons. Explore it for yourself at commons.mla.org/core.

Why should I deposit my work with CORE?

- To ensure that your work is archived, attributed to you, and widely available to others
- To give your work an automatically generated permanent identifier called a DOI. DOIs provide persistent, citable metadata for scholarly and creative works.
- To share your work with colleagues. Since you can associate items you deposit with MLA forums, CORE offers the added advantage of allowing you to share your work with scholars in your field.

What kinds of items can I deposit with CORE?

- | | | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------|--------------|----------------|
| • articles | • course materials | • images | • reports |
| • books | • data sets | • interviews | • reviews |
| • code or software | • dissertations | • maps | • translations |
| • conference presentations | • fictional works | • music | • and more! |
